They have what they call "propeller flies" down at Corinth. They are smaller than the Yankee mosquito. Their bill is like a cork-screw, and when they get in the right place they start the machinery by advancing the right fore leg. They then work a propeller wheel, which is of course, at the stern, and away they go like lightning, and in goes the cork-screw, and you cannot pull them off without unscrewing them.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c., and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

Which for economy, durability, ease of management and nicety of operation in every department of cooking,

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Gravel, Tumors, Painful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y8taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressions, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

The Chronicle.

A young fellow, a friend of ours, rejoicing in the possession of a mere sham pipe, which he was vainly endeavoring to color, was thus accosted by a lady acquaintance of his, yesterday:

"Do you smoke in the streets, Willie?"

"Yes, sometimes," replied he, without removing the pipe from his mouth.

"What would tempt you to break off the habit, and destroy the pipe?" inquired the fair one.

"Oh, anything," returned our gallant friend, "even the smallest token of your esteem."

"Well, here," said she, passing him a roll of lozenges, "let this bind the bargain;" and taking the costly clay piece from his hand, before he could count one, two, she dashed it to the pavement, breaking it into a thousand pieces.—Port. Press.

FEMALE PATRIOTISM.—The New Bedford Mercury states that on Wednesday a poor woman, earning but twenty-five cents a day, by sewing, entered a grocery store in the west part of the city and paid for ten packages of corn starch to be sent to the City Hall, and thence to the sick and wounded soldiers of the army. "Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow has cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other Foreign Countries. Also, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and the full files of all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful solicitors with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of good talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by three Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, JULY 28, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the Reformatory Journal, printed in London, is a well written letter from the children of the Reform School in this State to the children of Reform Schools in Europe. The editor of the Journal states that he will be pleased to be made the medium for replies to the letter.

—— The Manchester American states that the plan recently entertained to establish a State Hospital, has been abandoned. The general government expressed a disfavor of such a project, though its object is one of mercy. It is argued that the sending of men so far after being wounded has an injurious influence upon the soldiers. And then another objection to the scheme is that many soldiers remain away from the army after they are restored to health, creating great inconvenience to the officers.

—— On Thursday, the 3d inst., the hundredth birthday of Mrs. Sarah Draper was celebrated in Chesterfield. Upwards of 160 persons assembled, and there were exercises, consisting of prayers, singing, addresses, &c. Her maternal grandmother lived to be upwards of 101 years of age.

—— The officers of the Third N. H. Regiment have petitioned Gen. Hunter to allow the Third to go to Virginia. The regiment, now split up and stationed at various points on Hilton Head, (eight companies for picket duty and two for Provost Guard,) desire the removal for a change of climate and to take part in the capture of Richmond.

—— A soldier writing from Hilton Head to the Manchester Mirror says:—

The appointment of Capt. Donohoe as Colonel of the 10th is considered a sensible arrangement by all. We have no doubt but what the Governor and Council will do the right thing also in regard to the Third, and promote Lt. Col. Jackson and Maj. Bedel to the respective officers of Colonel and Lieutenant Colonel. Indeed it would be impossible for them to think of doing otherwise on top of the officer-like conduct and nerve displayed at James Island, on the 16th ult.

—— On Sunday last a couple of dogs from Exeter made a raid into Stratham and killed one sheep in the pasture of C. N. Healey, one on the farm of Josiah Bartlett, and five in the pasture of Wm. Rodman, and wounded one belonging to Z. C. Wiggin, making in all eight sheep, worth at least thirty dollars.

—— Col. Rufus G. Lewis, whose liberality is well known throughout the State, has offered a lot in New Hampton, upon which to erect an edifice for the Free Will Baptist Theological Seminary.

—— Lieut. Wm. H. Gibbs, of the New Hampshire Sharpshooters, has been promoted to a captaincy, for marked bravery in the recent battles before Richmond. And our New Hampshire Sharpshooters have all been highly complimented for their gallant conduct in those engagements.

—— Capt. E. E. Sturtevant has been appointed Major of the Fifth Regiment, in place of W. W. Cook, resigned.

—— The Second Universalist Society of Manchester intend to commence to build a house of worship immediately.

—— Dr. D. P. Nelson, formerly of Manchester, has removed to Minnesota.

A railroad ticket-office, says Harper's Monthly, is the only place where money loses its power. Upon any steamer you may buy a whole state-room if you wish to, but you cannot buy a whole seat in a car. At a hotel you may have a room at any price; you may have silence, solitude, heat, cold, comfort. But in a car, you are at the mercy of any drunken, dirty man who smells like a gutter and acts like a hog, and who chooses to seat himself next to you.

But suppose "not that man but another man," who is a gentleman, or suppose a lady, sits down next to you, and by that sympathy which manifests itself in the cars and nowhere else since the days of stage-coaches passed away, chats pleasantly and sociably with you, though a stranger,—don't you get your money's worth, then?

☞ The Republicans of the First Congressional District in Maine will hold a convention to nominate a candidate for Congress, at Portland on the 12th of August. It is stated that Mr. John N. Goodwin, of South Berwick, who has served for but one term, is to be dropped to make a place for some Portland man. John B. Brown, the great molasses man in Portland, it is said, is extremely desirous of tasting the sweets of Congressional life, while other competitors for the honor in Portland will bitterly oppose his nomination. It is thought that the competition in Portland for the position may be strong enough to save Mr. Goodwin a re-nomination, on the ground that the Portland candidates will support him, before their own city competitors.

☞ The city of Portland pays about one-seventh of the State tax of Maine. The Forest City paid $52,845.61 for interest the past year. The City debt is $868,699, and it has in shares, notes, funds, &c., $132,753 available for payment.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Pope, in a special order, directs that the energies of his soldiers shall be reserved to do battle against the enemy rather than protect rebel property, and forbids the further placing of guards for the protection of dwellings, &c.

The rebel Gen. Jackson is said to be at Louisa Court House, on the Virgina Central Railroad, with 24'000 men, and Gen. Ewell at Gordonsville with a corps of Jackson's command, making a total of 30,000 men; and that it is their intention to attack Gen. Pope.

The latest accounts from Chattanooga report that the rebel infantry has crossed the river in force. Their number is large, and three Generals are in command. The rebel cavalry is heavy in East Tennessee. It is stated to be 5000 strong.

Vicksburg advices to Sunday, 20th, state that our mortars had been shelling the rebel batteries several hours without getting a reply. Farragut's fleet silenced all their guns while running down Saturday night. The canal was completed, but the water would not be let in until the river rises.

There was considerable excitement in St. Louis on Friday, several American residents, having families and business permanently located there, having crowded the British consul's office, claiming the protection of the British flag to exempt them from enrollment in the militia, under the recent order of the Governor.

A letter from Norfolk states that there have been several cases of yellow fever there.

The World's Washington dispatch says that Gen. Pope, owing to the departure of Gen. Halleck for the Army of the Potomac, has postponed taking the field until his return.

Gen. Pope has offered a reward of five cents for a New York captain who has deserted.

A dispatch from Memphis, 23d, says the news from Vicksburg is unimportant. The bombardment was renewed from the upper fleet. The rebels reply occasionally. The Arkansas was still under the rebel batteries, repairing.

Gen. Hatch has gone down the Shenandoah valley to Luray, which is occupied by our forces. Stonewall Jackson is still said to be at Gordonsville, awaiting an attack by our troops.

The rebels in their raid on Florence, Ala., last Tuesday, burned the ware-houses used for storing supplies and cotton, seized a U. S. steamer, took all the money belonging to her and her passengers, and then burned her. The property burnt is said to be of great value. A small detachment of Gen. Mitchell's army was captured. The rebels then went down the Tennessee river, to several other places and destroyed all the cotton they could find.

Another band of rebel guerrillas attacked a wagon train near Pittsburg Landing, and captured 60 wagons with quartermasters' and commissaries' stores.

☞ In New York city on Wednesday, there was a meeting of the Committees representing the New York Chamber of Commerce, the Union Defance Committee, and the Common Council. They sent a delegation to the Governor of New York "to impress upon him the importance of enlisting only for regiments in the field, and of confining the bounty to such enlistments until these organizations are filled to their maximum standard, and also to proceed to Washington to impress upon the Administration the importance of this measure."

Recognizing this as the very crisis of the Rebellion, they resolve that every person and community of doubtful loyalty should be regarded as disloyal, and none trusted who is not willing to sacrifice property, life, and opinion for the common good; that the time is here when we must strike for national life with every weapon God has given us; that delay strengthens the rebels and wastes us; that it is better that every rebel should perish than that one more loyal soldier should die; and therefore they earnestly urge the President immediately to "issue the order (the enforcement of the confiscation and emancipation acts) which will take from the rebels their great source of strength (their slaves), while it will diminish their army by calling to the defense of their homes large numbers of rebel officers and men. Such an act would be sustained by the Free States, and applauded by the whole civilized world."

☞ A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror tells the following story of a mishap which befell a family of contrabands at Hilton Head:

A few nights ago, a negro family near headquarters, had quite a sensation. They had a shell to supply the deficiency of an andiron in their outdoor fire-place, which being partially covered with dirt stood the heat tolerably well for that kind of article; but an old Dinah piled on the wood liberally to boil a pot of meat, the shell exploded with a crash, dispersing the colored circle in a hurry, and sending pot, meat and all sky high." Fortunately no one was injured.

☞ Gov. Tod of Ohio has call out volunteers for thirty days to defend the State against incursions from Kentucky.

THE NASHVILLE UNION ON A WAR POLICY.—The Journal of Commerce having said that "radical plans, threats and actions have increased the unity and power of the rebellion," &c., the Nashville Union makes the following remarks upon the statement:

"It is not 'radical plans, threats and actions' that have strengthened and advanced the rebellion, but the unwise substitution by federal authorities of mild and persuasive measures towards prominent rebels, instead of the rigid exercise of military power. The government declared war, and war means force and compulsion; but our officers unhappily forgot their true business, and have been endeavoring most unsuccessfully to win the rebels over by allowing them commercial privileges, by protecting their slave property, by hiring hands from them and purchasing provisions from them at big prices. Instead of destroying their former privileges as citizens, we have treated them exactly as though they had forfeited no right. Worse than all, we have actually allowed them to place themselves on an equal footing with loyal citizens, and claim the protection of the Constitution!—The consequences of a policy so weak and meaningless have necessarily been most disastrous.

We speak of these things, not seated in an office five hundred or a thousand miles from the seat of action, but living in the region of the rebellion, a slaveholder ourselves, and from long acquaintance and association with rebels, claiming a knowledge of their feelings and disposition—a good deal more accurate than those editors who know nothing personally of the insurrectionists. We have heard rebels assert frequently that the federal government was afraid to adopt severe measures, and that it confessed its weakness by its conduct. We have known men who have served as captains and colonels in the rebel service go to Federal camps to reclaim their fugitive slaves, obtain their negroes, and on returning home, denounce the very officer who restored his negro as a hypocrite and an abolitionist. We never have known or heard of one instance where a rebel abated his opposition to the government by having his slaves restored or his property protected by Federal officers. And it would be very strange if such a thing were to occur. War, as we have said before, is not a thing of reason, but a physical power. The rebels appealed to war and gave us the challenge, and our sole alternative is to fight them and whip them if we can, not to argue with them or attempt to conciliate them."

THE ROLL OF HONOR.—At the town-meeting in Haverhill on Monday, it was voted, "that the town appoint a committee to procure the names of the natives of Haverhill who are, or have been, or shall be, in the army or navy, during the war, and of all who entering the service of the country were, or shall be residents of the town, the same to be entitled the 'roll of honor,' and to be printed in the town papers and kept standing in the same during the war."

☞ An English engineer strongly recommends that the drivers of locomotive engines should stand upon platforms made with easy springs, and that passenger cars should also be supplied with the latter. Various injuries to the human frame arise from the jolting and uneasy motion of trains.—The London Lancet has pointed out their effects upon the brain and the delicate machinery of the body.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon as the "Banner of Light" was coming up the river, she was struck by a squall and capsized, having on board two veteran boatmen, Capt. George W. Dennis and Samuel Kezer, and Mr. Thomas Cook. After floundering in the water some time, one of the party remarked—"Brother ship-mates, the spirit informeth me we shall all be saved—swim for the wharf!" Acting upon this suggestion they swam towards the wharf, and were rescued by parties in a boat who happened to be in that vicinity. Our "spiritual" friend believes that it was an interposition in their favor from the unseen world.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ In a mass meeting in Boston on Thursday night, Hon. Charles H. Clark of Texas, son of the present rebel Governor, and son-in-law of Sam Houston, made a speech, in which he denied that Gen. Houston was ever a secessionist. He claimed to have been with him in his last moments, and that he died with the good old flag about him.

☞ A banking house in Buffalo, N. Y. received on Friday, July 25, from Canada, $1600 in hundred dollar counterfeit bills on the Merrimac Co. Bank, Concord, N. H. They are a close imitation, and appear to have passed extensively and been received in good faith in Canada.

☞ At New Haven, recently, the engineer of a train discovered a man lying with his head apparently on the track.—The train could not be stopped in time, and the wheels took off the hat, leaving the drunken man uninjured. He can afford to enlist, after such a narrow escape.

☞ The Post Office Department will continue after the first of August to issue stamps for currency. Those intended for this purpose will be without glutten, and will be redeemable at the United States Treasuries, or exchanged at the post office for postage.

☞ A grocer in Springfield does up sugar in ten cent packages, and uses it for change.

☞ Gold is now worth a premium of 20 per cent.

☞ The following is a copy of the circular relating to spirituous liquors at Hilton Head, S. C. It is enforced.

I am instructed by the Major Gen. Commanding to direct that you immediately store all Liquors, Wines of all kinds, Ale, Cider, Lager-beer and Cordials, in the office of the Chief Quartermaster of this Department, Capt. J. J. Elwell, who will receipt for the same; and that if any liquors are found in your possession within twenty-four hours after the service of this order, such goods will be confiscated and yourselves expelled from the Department.

The license heretofore given of selling Light wines, Ale, Beer, Cider, &c., to officers of this command, is revoked.

GEO. B. VAN BLUNT,
Provost Marshal.

Occasionally a steamer comes in, and some of its officers or crew persist in slying out a little whiskey (short fuse) at $2 a pint. As a result they are soon in arrest, and recently the store-keeper and fireman of one of our finest steamers were cleaning camp grounds, and doing dirty work as the penalty of their disobedience.

REBEL RAILROAD BUILDING.—News from Corinth informs us that the rebels have taken up the rails on the Mobile road, and are using them to form a new lateral railroad connection toward Richmond.—From the latter point a new railroad, making a third Southern line, is in progress of construction. These facilities for rapid communication stand in the place of overwhelming numbers since they enable a General to concentrate forces suddenly upon an objective point.

☞ The New Orleans journals copy extensively from their Mobile exchanges, which contain accounts of the battles on the Chickahominy. There never has been, since Lemuel Gulliver's time, such a twanging of the long bow as these reports demonstrate. They fairly outdo the romance of the Monk Lewis and Radcliffe schools. A comparison of the several reports would show that over half a million of the sixty-five or seventy-five thousand of Gen. McClellan's army had fallen during the recent six days' battles.

☞ Belle Boyd, the Southern spy, is said to be a sharp featured, black-eyed, coarse woman—so faded and familiar that she is unnoticed except by very young Lieutenants, who give her the number of their regiments and whatever other little information they possess in a very short time. Belle's strength, however, is said to be in a brigade of young girls, who intrigue and spy about Front Royal and report to her. She then sends the information to the rebels.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to keep her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's for removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pierting pain, and when about to begin to suppurate, it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach and bowels regular, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a tumor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH BOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which entirely cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health.

Dover, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as a remedy to any other sufferer used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841.

DR. SWETT:—Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if it is not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

Separate sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 m, on SATURDAY, the 9th of August, 1862, for building and equipping two first class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length from after side of stern post to the fore side of main stem, 98 feet; breadth of beam, moulded, 23 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 11 feet; tonnage about 232.

The Board will also receive proposals until 12 m, on MONDAY, the 28th of July, 1862, for building and equipping three second class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length between perpendiculars, 91 feet 6 inches; breadth of beam, moulded, 21 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 10 feet 6 inches; tonnage about 160.

The printed specifications by which the vessels are to be constructed, and which will, with the drawings and plans, be attached to and form a part of the contracts, can be had on application to the Light-house Board, or to the Light-house Inspector at Portland, Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, at which places, also, the plans and drawings may be seen and examined.

Secretary of the Treasury. No proposal will be received or considered, unless from persons engaged in ship building, and each offer must be accompanied by the signatures of two responsible persons as sureties for the faithful fulfilment of the contract.

Each vessel must be distinctly specified, with the sum for which the bidder proposes to build and equip her according to the drawings and specifications, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed by each bidder, as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

A drawing of the vessel contracted for will be furnished to the contractor, to which he will be required to adhere strictly; the keel of each vessel lost lines will be taken off and the mould examined by the superintending officer, who will be assigned to the duty by this Board, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and who will be required to see that the work executed and the materials used are in strict conformity to the terms and specifications of the contract, and who must certify to the same in writing, before any part will be received, and payments authorized to be made.

Persons making proposals to build any of these light-vessels may suggest any change or alterations by which the cost will be lessened, without using inferior materials, and in making such suggestions the precise character of the change or alteration will be named, with the amount said thereby. The proposals for each vessel will state the time required to complete the vessel and deposit it in the agent of the Board at such place as may be agreed upon; the same to be named in the bid. All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Building Light-vessels," and then enclosed in another envelope, and addressed to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM THE WAR.—Pearson's Grand Historic Mirror of the War, which created such a sensation on its previous visit to Portsmouth, will re open at the Temple this evening. We are happy to record this fact, as many of our citizens were disappointed on its former visit, and they can now embrace the opportunity of witnessing the only legitimate painting of the War now travelling. Several scenes of starling interest have been added to the exhibition, and we doubt not that it will again be liberally patronized by our citizens. We learn that this painting met with immense success through Maine, the halls in many places being insufficient to accommodate the crowds who flocked to witness this matchless entertainment.

RAMS.

BY FRANCIS DE HASS JANVIER.

Who, indeed, would have thought that it ever could chance,
That dogmatical England, and complaisant France,
Who have always known everything under the sun;
Who have always thought first,
of whatever we've done;
Who have scarce deigned our Re-gie the slightest salam—
Should fall flat, to adore an American Ram!

There have always been Rams!
Father Adam, we know,
Found Some Rams in his garden, a long time ago;
In the raising of Rams,
Abel took much delight,
And a Ram was concerned in the very first fight—
And the first Ram afloat,
we may further remark,
Was the Ram which old Noah took into the Ark!

Then, it seems, there were Rams which were tied up, in stalls, Driven out to do battle by butting down walls—
Alexander, Marcellus, and Sylla we find,
Had a great many Rams of the same kind,
And when Titus encamped
'mid Jernsalem's palms,
It is said that the Hibrews saw nothing but Rams!

After these, there came Rams not inclining to fights—
Rams resembling good Josh-ua's (literalists—
Which were "drawers of water"—Hydraulical Rams—Quite domestic, and commonly found with their Dams!
May such Rams still continue to thrive and increase,
With the limitless Ramifications of peace!

Thus, we Ram-ble along,
through the cycles of Time,
Finding History's Rampages is rather sublime!
But the Ram of all Rams is the Ram of our day,
Which is shaking the World with a Ram-pant dismay!
Iron-harnessed, steam-driven, it sweeps o'er the sea—
Our American Rampart!—The shield of the Free!

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO. 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and to make a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, at usual rates.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods; while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of a medical extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure, blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, the consultation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Pulpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects of the mind are so much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for cure, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotics, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail, three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y 3taw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

VENETIAN LIQUID
HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1840; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most economical Dye ever used.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Claims, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Examinations made into the Patent Office, or Foreign Works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All needed by a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

TUESDAY, JULY 29, 1862.

N. H. SECOND REGIMENT.

CAMP NEAR HARRISON'S LANDING, July 24, 1862.

Messrs. Editors:—As no one takes interest enough in this regiment to let you know of its whereabouts, I will undertake the task myself. We are very pleasantly encamped on a hill-side, about one and a half miles from the James River. The location is very pleasant, but exceedingly hot—the thermometer often standing as high as 102 in the shade.

As is usually the case, our regiment has had its share of digging to do. And the effects of it in the regiment are plainly seen. Ever since the 2d New Hampshire has been on the peninsula, it has had a large share of the intrenching to do; and in no instance have they been allowed to occupy the intrenchments after they were built. If an advance is to be made, some other regiments are stationed in the fortifications, and the 2d goes in advance. This is thought by some rather hard; but it speaks well for the regiment, showing that its commanders put confidence in it.

We have got better regulated and settled, in our present camp, than we have been since we left Maryland; plenty of rations, and everything that can be furnished to make the men comfortable. There is one thing that the men feel the want of very much—that is good water. Our regiment is very fortunate in this respect; by digging from ten to fifteen feet deep, most of the companies have obtained good water,—better than we have had since we left Camp Beaufort. Bad water accounts in a great measure for the unhealthy condition of the troops since they have been on the peninsula.

Since we left the swamps of the Chickahominy, the health of the men is improving, although there is a great deal of sickness now. When we left Portsmouth, Company K numbered 98 rank and file; since that time we have had 23 recruits,—making a total of 121 that are and have been on the rolls of the Company. The report shows this morning, 44 men fit for duty; besides these there are 9 in camp sick, 16 absent sick, and 10 prisoners absent on parole,—making in all 79 men on the rolls at the present time, showing a loss in one year of 42 men by deaths, desertions and by being discharged.

Some of the companies have lost more than this; but taking this as a sample, if the regiment stays three years in the service, there will not be many left to return with it to New Hampshire. But if the men are discharged in the next two years as they have been in the past year, the majority will be at home before our term of enlistment expires. C. E. P., Co. K.

☞ The Navy Department has issued the following regulations for the admission of volunteer line officers in the Navy:

"Acting Lieutenants must have served at least six months in the United States Navy as Acting Master or Acting Ensign, and been mentioned in official dispatches for highly meritorious conduct in battle.

"Acting Masters must have served at least three months as Acting Ensign or Acting Master's Mate and been favorably recommended by their immediate commanding officer, which recommendation must be approved by the Flag Officer of the squadron in which they are serving.

"Acting Ensigns must be between the ages of twenty-five and thirty-five, and have seen at least twelve years sea service before the mast, or as an officer. Those who have served as chief mates of merchant vessels are invited to apply for the position of Ensign.

"Acting Master's Mates should be between the ages of twenty and thirty, and have been at sea, before the mast, or as an officer, five years.

"Before entering the Navy, Acting Ensigns and Acting Master's Mates will be required to furnish to the Navy Department proof of their age, sea service, sobriety and professional knowledge. Letters of recommendation should come from Captains with whom they have sailed, owners for whom they have sailed, and insurance officers acquainted with their professional character and sobriety."

The yearly pay of volunteer officers of the line at sea since July 16, 1862, is as follows:—

Acting Lieutenants	$1,575	and one ration.
" Masters	1,500	"
" Ensigns	1,200	"
" Master's Mates	450	"

NOT IN FULL.—The Tribune complains that the executive order in regard to the employment of colored men in the army, does not include the announcement of the law declaring all that shall be there employed forever free.

Nevertheless, that is the law; the President, however, refrained from proclaiming it, probably, out of a tender regard to the consciences of some conservative citizens, who might receive too great a shock if the whole truth were told at once.

☞ The New England Soldiers' Relief Association in New York is applying for aid in that city. It is stated by its behalf that its supplies are all exhausted and the demand upon its good offices nevertheless increases.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——A large business was done last week in various sections, probably by an organized gang, in passing the $100 counterfeit bills on the Merrimack Co. Bank, Concord. The American states that the Merrimack RiverBank of Manchester exchanged $500, the Derry Bank $400, Francestown $400, New Market $400, Exeter $200, and the Farmington Bank a large amount.—The operator represented himself to be a wool buyer, and in Francestown gave his name as Sawyer of Weare. At Derry, he told the Cashier that Mr. Ordway, the President, sent him to exchange large bills for those of small denomination. He called at the Amoskeag Bank in Manchester, when the teller suspected the bills, and under pretence of getting money from another room to give him, sent a messenger for an officer: and also sent the bills into the Manchester Bank to see what was thought of them there. The Teller of the Manchester Bank did not say they were spurious or good, and the result was they were not taken. The City Marshall came in and saw the man standing at the counter, but as neither Teller pronounced the bills counterfeit, and he was not requested to make any arrest, he left.

—— Wm. Mooney had his head caught in a spinning mule on Saturday forenoon in the Manchester Mills. The scalp was badly torn up on both sides and the lower jaw broken.

—— The American learns that a man, pretending to be a Baptist minister from somewhere in Maine, has been prowling about Manchester and vicinity for a few days past, endeavoring to raise the wind by pretending to have suffered on account of his political principles. He seeks to find out who are the opponents of the war, and tells them a doleful story about being turned out of the ministry because he refused to preach in favor of putting down the rebels by the strong arm of the Government. By appealing to the sympathies of a certain class and demanding a dollar of each one, it is said that he has managed to raise quite a nice little sum.

—— Among the prizes awarded to American contributors at the Great Exhibition in London, are the following to residents and companies in this State:—

D. Barker, Canterbury, washing machine—medal.

Manchester Print Works, Manchester, printed fabrics—medal.

Manchester Print Works, Manchester, worsted fabrics and hosiery—honorable mention.

Manchester Print Works, Manchester, woolen hosiery—honorable mention.

—— Dr. D. P. Nelson, formerly of Manchester, has removed to Minnesota.

—— 35 volunteers for the 9th regiment, recruited in Exeter, went into camp at Concord, on Wednesday.

☞ It is reported that parties follow Gen. Pope's army, enticing men to desert and furnishing outfits of clothing for the purpose. A large number have deserted within a week or two. Some doubtless desert for the purpose of joining other regiments and getting the bounty. Recruiting officers should govern themselves accordingly. A large number of our soldiers have the idea that Gen. Pope's orders give them permission to help themselves to anything they can find, and consequently they have been roaming through the country, killing chickens, sheep, &c. Some have been punished severely by the officers. Such practices have nearly ceased.

☞ An accurate examination of the existing relation between parishes and the Clergy of the Episcopal Church shows a large numerical excess of the former over the latter; and that while in a period of fifteen years the number of both has been doubled, yet during that time parishes have been organized in proportion much beyond the ministry, and are earnestly calling for teachers in sacred things, without the possibility of a supply.

FROM RICHMOND.—Papers from the rebel capital, of date July 19, state that none of the unwounded prisoners will be returned until the hospitals are cleared of the Federal wounded. Appeals are made to the authorities to hasten back the convalescents of the rebel army; send the stragglers back to their regiments; make their homes too cold for their comfort; have them arrested, as the army is anxious to advance—will advance soon—and every man must be at his post. All the papers hint at some movement which is to have extraordinary effect and consequences, but none of them throw out the slightest intimation as to its character. It is just possible that the whole matter is a piece of bluster.

WAR AGAINST SHINPLASTERS.—The United States District Attorney, and the County Attorney of New York, have jointly given public notice that they intend to prosecute all issues of shinplasters on and after 1st Aug., agreeably to the acts of Congress, and the laws of the State. The penalties are very heavy.

It must be a happy thought to a lover that his blood and that of his sweetheart mingle perhaps in the same mosquito.

THE REBELLION.

The President has issued a proclamation which gives all rebels due warning, according to the sixth section of the Confiscation act.

A forward movement of Gen. Banks' corps has been impeded by a flood on the river near which they were encamped. Gen. Sigel's corps was then six miles distant from Gen. Banks.

Gens. Halleck, Dix, Meigs and Burnside, left McClellan's army, on Saturday morning, after a brief visit.

The rebel raid Northward is assuming a more serious aspect. The guerillas have appeared in force opposite Mound City and it was feared they would attempt to burn the federal gunboats.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says one non-commissioned officer for each company, and two commissioned officers for each regiment, will be detailed as recruiting officers, who will be authorized to muster men in squads and forward them to any regiment or company they desire to serve in.

The rebels in Washington speak confidently of its capture by Jackson, shortly.

There is another doubtful rumor, to the effect that a large rebel force is being concentrated on James river above the junction of the Appamattox and the James rivers. They come down from Richmond by the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad.—It is believed that they already number from 50,000 to 70,000. It is stated that Jackson is in command, notwithstanding the rumor that he is in pursuit of Gen. Pope.

A Kansas City paper says that the notorious Quantrell and his party were taken prisoners on Friday of last week.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune from Columbus, Ohio, says Rev. Dr. Brooks of St. Louis, and Rev. D. Hoyt of Louisville, were arrested on Friday night, at the house of the notorious rebel Judge Clark, of Ohio. It is reported that important papers were found on them implicating Vallandigham, who will be taken to Cincinnati with them.

Com. Porter, of the mortar fleet, arrived at Washington on Monday,—a significant fact.

The large iron-clad English steamer Tuscaloosa was recently captured off Charleston, while attempting to run the blockade. She was heavily laden with arms and ammunition.

☞ It is officially published that the call of Gov. Curtin for nine and twelve months' volunteers was without previous consultation or the direction of the President or War Department, and having been made, it was deemed best to accept such troops as were offered, but the law does not allow any bounty to nine months' men, except $25 paid at the time of being mustered into the service.

☞ J. H. Foster has received the Continental Monthly, for August. With much other interesting matter, it contains the conclusion of "Among the Pines," and the commencement of a new serial, by the same author, entitled "A Merchant's Story," which the publisher states "will depict Southern white society, and be a truthful history of some eminent Northern merchants who are largely in the cotton trade and sugar line."

THE RESPONSE OF ILLINOIS.—The 68th regiment of Illinois reached Washington on Friday evening last. They were raised within ten days after the call was issued.—The regiment contains 1040 men, rank and file, and is said to be as fine looking as any regiment yet enlisted. Col. E. Stewart has command.

☞ Carleton, 413 Broadway, New York, will publish this week: "The Flying Dutchman," an entirely new, humorous Poem, by John G. Saxe, with sixteen Comic Illustrations, on tinted paper; and T. B. Aldrich's new book, entitled:—"Out of His Head," a strange and eccentric Romance.

☞ The N. Y. Independent publishes a list, three columns in length, of the names of clergymen and clergymen's sons who are performing active service in the army as chaplains or officers. The list, says the Independent, grows long and grows glorious.

☞ A correspondent of the Wheeling Intelligencer says that a sister of Stonewall Jackson, who lives in Beverly, Va., is a staunch Union woman. She devotes her time to the sick and wounded.

☞ The report that Gen. Jim Lane of Kansas has been authorized to raise an army, to be conducted "on his own principles and in his own way," is denied. He has been authorized to act as recruiting officer in Kansas.

☞ Rev. E. W. Jackson, of Maine, known in many of our States as an advocate of temperance, has been commissioned a chaplain in the army, and ordered to duty in the Armory Square Hospital, Washington.

☞ We regret to learn that Charles L. Tidd, Esq., of this city, while attempting to get upon the train at Candia on Monday afternoon, was struck by the cars and very severely bruised, although no bones were broken. It was a very narrow escape.

☞ The Daily Delta calls New Orleans "the dismal region of frowning women."

HIST. OF FORMER CONSPIRACIES

AGAINST THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

The Kansas-Nebraska Troubles.—The years 1854-58 are "representative" in the history of the country. On the 4th of January, 1854, Mr. Douglas, as chairman of the Committee on Territories, in the United States Senate, introduced the bill for the organization of the territories of Nebraska and Kansas. It provided as follows:—

"When admitted as a State the said territory, or any portion of the same, shall be received into the Union, with or without slavery, as their constitution may prescribe at the time of their admission."

Thus abrogating the venerable and respected Missouri Compromise Act, of 1820, while it further established the principle of "Squatter Sovereignty," which gave to the people of a territory the right to make their own laws—denying to Congress the power to legislate laws for its territories.

That act became a law, after one of the most exciting sessions of Congress known for years. It was one of the most fatal acts for the peace of the country which could have been conceived. It alarmed the North. The country fell to a pitch. From the South came armed bands, who, as a posse comitatus, under authority of the President, pursued the anti-slavery settlers with a vengeance making the record of 1855 and '56 one of outrage and bloodshed. The North, aggravated by this armed attempt to make a Slave State out of soil unfitted for slave labor, poured in its settlers, armed them for defence, gave them supplies to sustain them through the day of trial, and, eventually, obtained the victory through the action of that very principle of "Squatter Sovereignty." The Northern "Squatters" became vastly more numerous even than the Missouri invaders and the vagabonds from Arkansas and Mississippi introduced by Capt. Titus and his coadjutors, and, by mere force of numbers, obtained control of affairs.

What was most important, however, in this unfortunate re-opening of the slavery question, was, not the local struggle which followed, but the great political party which it called into existence. Taking the powerful issues of opposition presented, of the non-extension of slavery and the freedom of the territories, the Republican party sprang into life, and, ere long, began to carry all before it in the Northern States. Mr. Fremont, as its candidate for the Presidency in 1856, needed but the vote of Pennsylvania to have made him President; and Mr. Lincoln, its candidate in 1860, was elected to that high office by heavy majorities in seventeen States. Had it not been for that Kansas-Nebraska bill the Republican party never would have had existence, upon such issues as "no more slave territory"—"no slavery in the territories,"—"no more slave representation in Congress from now Slave States."

The matter resulted:—

1. In the admission of Kansas as a Free State.
2. In the formation of the Republican Party.
3. In the election of a Republican President.
4. In the "rebellion" of the Slave States against his rule.
5. . . . . .

COPPER.—The St. Croix Herald states that a valuable copper mine has been discovered on Simpson's Island, 16 miles from Eastport. A company will proceed to work it immediately.

☞ It is said that scores of Canadians have crossed the line and joined the regiments now being raised in Vermont and Maine.

☞ The negroes in New Orleans are reported to have become very insolent and insubordinate. General Butler was about to take them in hand.

☞ Thalberg has made an American engagements for forty nights, commencing in December.

☞ We publish elsewhere a statement of the operations of the men who last week did quite a business in passing counterfeit $100 bills on the Merrimack Co. Bank, at Concord. The Exeter News Letter is in error in its statement that "the Portsmouth banks got fourteen hundred dollars of these bills exchanged on them." A dispatch from the City Marshal of Manchester was received in this city early in the week by City Marshal Bragdon, stating that such bills were being circulated, and measures were at once taken to guard those liable to receive them, against imposition. None of the bills have been offered at any of our city banks, and we do not think that any attempt was made to pass them here.

☞ The last of the first series of War Meetings on Boston Common, was held on Saturday afternoon. The President of the meeting was Samuel H. Gookin, Esq., who is known to many of our readers as a worthy son of Old Strawberry Bank. Mr. Gookin, on taking the chair, made a short and stirring address, in which he asked—where were the Adamses and the Hancocks of Boston to-day? And the Paul Reveres,—why do not their sons spring to arms? All were too prone to shift their own duty upon the shoulders of others. The speaker condemned this feeling strongly and expressed himself ready to go to any point where the country needed him, and challenged all to follow him. [Applause.]

PEARSON'S PANORAMA OF THE WAR. This fine painting, which has been witnessed with the greatest interest and pleasure wherever it has been exhibited, commenced its second short season in this city, at the Temple, last evening. After having made a most successful tour through the State of Maine, the proprietors on their return, have stopped in this city in order to afford our citizens another opportunity to view a painting which has been pronounced by the press everywhere as one of the very best ever exhibited, and has received more praise from the spectators than even the papers have expressed. Go early if you would get a seat.

☞ Mr. George Clifford Boardman, son of Dr. J. H. Boardman of this city, has been appointed Acting Assistant Paymaster in the U. S. Navy.

WHO ARE EXEMPT?—The new militia bill of this State provides that every free, able-bodied, white male citizen, between the ages of 18 and 45, not by law exempt, shall be regularly enrolled. The list of exempts is large, but by no means so extensive as in our sister States. The following are exempt by Congress:

The President, Vice President, judicial and executive officers of the national government, members of Congress and the officers of both houses, Custom House officers and clerks, inspectors, pilots and mariners actually engaged, postmasters, assistant postmasters and their clerks, post officers, post riders and drivers, and ferrymen on post roads.

In addition, the State exempts are as follows:—The Council, Judges and Clerks of Courts of Record, Judges and Registers of Probate, Registers of Deeds, Attorney General, Secretary, Deputy Secretary and Treasurer of State; attendants at the Insane Asylum, conductors and engineers on necessary trains, members and officers of the Legislature while in session, persons who have held commissions in the army, navy or militia for five years, and have been regularly superseded or discharged; fife and drum majors similarly situated, and all persons who have actually served five years in the volunteer militia; officers and keepers at the State Prison, House of Reformation, Jails and Houses of Correction; idiots, lunatics, common drunkards, vagabonds, and persons convicted of any infamous crime, and Quakers, Shakers and Friends.

As regards the term "able-bodied," the manifest intent and spirit of the law is, to enroll men unless they are evidently unfit for duty.

A FOOLISH GIRL.—The Rochester Union gives an account of two school mistresses of Chicago, who went with two gentlemen to Belois to spend the 4th of July. On the 5th a book-keeper was prevailed upon to marry one of the teachers. The young bride was so excited in consequence of her foolish act, that she became insane. In her madness she attempted to throw herself from the fourth story of the hotel where she and her husband were stopping. She refuses to see the man to whom she was so suddenly and indiscreetly united.

According to the Arithmetic of Fashion, two glances make one look; two looks make one sigh; four sighs make one waltz; three waltzes make one palpitation; two palpitations make one call; two calls make one attention; two attentions make one fool (sometimes two); two fools make one flirtation—plus two bouquets, equal to one engagement, equal to one marriage.

☞ A young and accomplished lady residing in Hopedale, Mass., eloped last week with a blacklegand was traced as far as New York, when all pursuit became hopeless. Her parents are in deep distress at her folly.

☞ Gen. McClellan, it is said, has issued an order directing the Generals of brigades and divisions to forward to his headquarters the names of every non-commissioned officer who, in the late "Seven Days' Battle," may have been distinguished for gallantry and good service on the field, with a view to immediate promotion of the deserving. Over two thousand names of young and old heroes have been handed in.

PRODIGIOUS RAIN FALL.—According to a rain-guage kept at Fort Gaston, Klamath County, Cal., by Dr. C. A. Kirkpatrick, the fall of rain at that point from Sept. 16, 1861, to June 18, 1862, a period of nine months, reached the enormous amount of 129 inches and a fraction over! Only think of ten and three-quarters feet of rain in nine months!

SALUTES.—The following are the salutes authorized by the army regulation:

National salute, 1 gun for each State; the President, 21 guns; Vice-President, 17 guns; heads of great executive departments of the national government, General-in-Chief, Governors of States or Territories within their respective jurisdictions, 15 guns; a Major-General, 11 guns; foreign ships of war, in return for the similar compliment, gun for gun; officers of the navy and foreign officers, according to relative rank; envoys and ministers, 13 guns.

☞ The British Colonist, of Victoria, Vancouver's Island, mentions the arrival from the Stickeen river, of Mr. J. A. Dearborn, formerly of Exeter, this State. The voyage was performed in a canoe, with nine Fort Simpson Indians.

☞ MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS STIMULATES and STRENGTHENS the hair.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 18th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils, Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Ears, Swelled Nose, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworm, Sprains, Fresh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Sites, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money; and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

Morning Chronicle.

THE PATRIOT GIRL TO HER LOVER, ON THE PRESENT CALL.
BY GEORGE VANDENHOFF.

Hark! the trumpet is sounding, its war-note I hear;
Arise, arm, and go forth my own Knight;
And that my hand tremble, my eye drop a tear,
I'll gird on your sword for the fight!

O deem you the maid whose affection you claim,
Tho' loving as I have loved you,
Could bear without blushing, a recreant's name,
To his country, to honor, and me?

You have vowed that your heart and your hopes are in one,
That you live in the light of my eyes,
Let their love-beam your beacon to victory be,
My hand of your valor the prize!

Would you win one, be worthy of her who would die
Ere be link'd to a coward or slave;
And yielding her heart's blood would breathe but one sigh—
A prayer her dear country to save;

Go forth then to conquer; be strong in the fight;
Think of me and yet heart in each blow;
Strike for Country, for UNION, for LOVE and for RIGHT,
And down with the insolent foe!

PRENTICKIANA.—In this country a war for slavery is necessarily in practice a war against it.

The Southern rebellion is a wild attempt to methodize anarchy; to fix and perpetuate disorder.

The rebel leaders have driven their people from affluence to indigence, and are now driving them from indigence to famine.

We are tired of seeing it stated that "McClellan's army of the Potomac is safe." We would that there should be no question except as to the safety of the rebel army.

We have all heard of the Morgan horse; and the notorious guerilla chief, from his propensity to steal horses, might be called Horse Morgan.

☞ The health of Gen. Butler had improved at the date of the departure of the last mail from New Orleans. During the few days he was hindered from doing business by sickness rumors were current that he had an attack of yellow fever, which has not appeared in the city. The number of deaths for the month ending on the 13th was fifty less than during the previous month. The city is perfectly healthy.

A very pretty girl about 18 years of age, was discovered on board the steamer Huron at Boston, in male attire. She left her home in her brother's clothes for the purpose of visiting her lover, who is a soldier at Fort Warren.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nailholing set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much Rubber, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses shoes and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, at usual rates.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air, and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dow has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of diseases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful results of these evils are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. They are for $1 and a red stamp.
April 7—1y Staw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressions, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an extensive practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

MATHEWS'
VENETIAN LIQUID
HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1840; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO IRRITATE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

London papers state that the distribution of bridecake on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Alice was on the most liberal scale possible. All the royal personages present at the wedding had a whole cake sent to them, and whole cakes were sent to the Queen Maria Amelia, and others of the French royal family who were not present. Every one else at the ceremony, and many others connected with the court, had pieces of cake presented to them, or forwarded to their residences, each piece weighing four pounds. All these gifts were made without tren hing on the large cake made for the special use of her Majesty herself and the royal family. There was also a cake for the Duke of Cambridge, one for the Duchess of Cambridge and Princess Mary, and one for the Duke de Nemours.

POETS AND FIRE.—Poets frequently change their opinions of their own productions at different periods of life. One of the most eminent literary men of Central Europe was warmly attached to poetical composition in his youth, and risked his life to rush through the flames when his house was on fire to rescue his poems; he was so fortunate as to escape with his beloved manuscripts in his hands. Ten years afterwards he condemned to the flames those very poems he had ventured his life to preserve.

It is apprehended that if the Arkansas can carry a supply of provisions she might even close the port of New Orleans against us. The Arkansas is too dangerous a craft to be tolerated long in the Mississippi. At Savannah, it said, the rebels have another Arkansas; at Richmond another. If we give them time enough they will dispute with us the sea coast as well as the land.—Boston Post.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 30 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other shoes, except for set shoes, which are 25 cts. extra, and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or thin feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, if wanted.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1862.

ISAAC HILL'S OPINION.—In Harper's Monthly for August, there is a plain and authentic account of South Carolina Nullification, and the brood of vipers which were hatched in that nest. Towards the close of the article Gen. Jackson and Isaac Hill are alluded to as follows:

"Jackson warned his countrymen that slavery would be the next pretense used by the conspirators against the life of the nation. The fulfillment of that prophecy commenced almost on the day of its utterance. About the year 1831 there was established in the city of Washington a newspaper entitled the United States Telegraph, which was the confidential organ, if not the private property, of Mr. Calhoun. "Of all the vehicles—tracts, pamphlets and newspapers—circulated by the abolitionists," said Governor Hill, of New Hampshire, in 1836, in allusion to it, "there is no ten or twenty of them that have contributed so much to the excitement as a single newspaper printed in this city. I need not name this paper when I inform you that, for the last five years, it has been laboring to produce a Northern and a Southern party—to fan the flame of sectional prejudice, to open wider the breach, to drive harder the wedge which shall divide the North from the South." In the columns of that paper, and in his speeches, Mr. Calhoun became the eulogist of slavery, and ungenerously and falsely accused the people of the North of a desire to interfere with that system in the Southern States.

"Until he spoke," says a late writer, "the South generally felt that slavery was only to be regarded as a choice of evils—an unfortunate inheritance, to be endured as long as it must be endured, to be abolished as soon as it could be abolished safely. It was John C. Calhoun that effaced from the heart of the South the benign sentiments of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and Randolph. It was Calhoun who began all that is to be deplored in the agitation of slavery questions. It was he who strove to rob the people of the North of their right to petition, and the right of the people of the South to receive what they chose through the mail. It was he who cut the magnetic cord that connected the South with the feeling of the age, and thus made the peaceful solution of the problem difficult."

☞ A very remarkable document respecting the relation of the American churches to slavery has been recently published by the Tract Society of New York It is "The Address of the Old School Synod of Kentucky," presented twenty years ago by a committee of ten—five ministers and five elders. After having considered "the system as it exists in Kentucky," the address proceeds to state certain effects which spring naturally and necessarily out of such a system. Among these effects it enumerates that it degrades and depraves its subjects; that it dooms thousands of human beings to hopeless ignorance; that it produces great cruelty and licentiousness; that it demoralizes the whites as well as the blacks; and that it draws upon us the vengeance of heaven. The conclusion is, that "it is the unquestionable duty of every Christian to use vigorous and immediate measures for the destruction of the whole system, and for the removal of all its unhappy effects"—and to that end a plan of gradual emancipation is proposed.

☞ The Richmond Examiner uses language more powerful than elegant when it says "the whole South stinks with the lust of extortion. The extent to which it prevails in this city is enormous and shameless; trade is reduced to a devilish art to make money out of the distresses of humanity; and, that hypocrisy may be added to other diabolical accomplishments, the extortioners of Richmond take the upper seats in church, talk patriotism and give into the contribution boxes small pinches from enormous gains; dandy preachers and hospital matrons taking these filthy gifts of the plunderers of society as tokens of the liberality and patriotism of the donors."

☞ A letter from John Ross, principal chief of the Cherokee Nation, has been received by Col. Weer, commanding at Fort Leavenworth, declining an interview on the subject of the loyalty of that nation, and stating that the treaty of alliance with the Confederates will not be broken.

☞ At the close of the meeting on Boston Common, on Monday afternoon, an indiscreet individual who expressed unpatriotic sentiments sympathizing with the South, was treated to a free bath in the Frog Pond by a party of patriotic Irishmen.

☞ The Richmond papers assert that the Federal steamer Maratanzo got aground in the Appomattox river, about three weeks since, and was burned to prevent her falling into the hands of the Confederates.

☞ Mr. Charles H. Brown, of Newburyport, has been appointed Assistant Paymaster in the Navy.

THE REBELLION.

Our forces found Fort Gibson abandoned by the rebels. A reconnoissance showed them to be posted, 5000 strong, with two pieces of artillery, under Gen. Cooper, on the south bank of the Arkansas, near the mouth of the Grand river. All but 1500 are said to be Indians, mostly Choctaws and Creeks. The route from Fort Scott to Fort Gibson is entirely free from rebels, they having retreated across the Arkansas when the troops advanced.

Gen. Smith, with his brigade, has returned to Sanford, Ky., having learned that Morgan and his band had made their escape through the mountains.

The Times' dispatch states that Gen. Halleck and Sec. Stanton had a long interview with the President, who has undoubtedly relinquished to Gen. Halleck the entire military control.

The prize steamer Tubal Cain has arrived at New York. Her cargo is valued at a quarter of a million of dollars.

Gen. Pope and staff left Washington on Tuesday morning, by rail, for his headquarters in the field. Gen. Pope left orders that no passes to his lines be granted except to those having official business there. Gen. Ewell is reported to have from 20,000 to 30,000 rebels at Orange Court House, and through to Gordonsville.

☞ The entire strength of our navy is close upon three hundred vessels, nearly all of which are propelled by steam.—Among these are two iron-clad frigates—twenty-three iron-clad gunboats—and a good stock of the highly effective naval weapon, the ram. Of the latter, the number can be increased indefinitely, and at any moment, as they may be needed. We have, or will have directly, a larger number of iron-clad vessels than England and France combined, and of a far more available and destructive kind. Twelve months since, we had but eighty vessels of war of all kinds—only one third of which were steamers. But thirty then—three hundred now! For of these, all save some of the iron clads and steam frigates are actually afloat. Within the year we have constructed alone nearly as many vessels as the entire number of ships on the Naval register of 1861. We had but eight thousand sailors and marines a year ago; now there are twenty-three thousand in our naval service. Certainly these things exhibit an amount of energy and of work deserving notice, and show forth the resources of the country in a light not less striking than was shown in the raising of our armies.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer contains the following: Twenty-two pieces of artillery, part of the 80 pieces taken by the English from the Russians at the battle of Inkerman, and presented to the Confederacy by British merchants, brought over in the Nashville, have arrived at Macon.—They bear evidence of having seen service. With some alterations they will hereafter speak for themselves in a manner highly creditable. Some 38 pieces more are expected at the same place.

☞ Lewis S. Partridge, late U. S. Marshal and Postmaster at Norwich, Vt., under Buchanan, and who was recently indicted by the Grand Jury, for high treason, has absconded, accompanied by other prominent parties implicated with him. The principal charge was cutting down a flagstaff and carrying off the U. S. flag. Officers are in pursuit of them, and it is believed that they will soon be captured.

☞ A much respectaed lady of Redwood, N. Y., committed suicide last week upon being detected in stealing from a dry goods store. She had peculated for ten years, and had collected an immense quantity of laces, handkerchiefs, shawls, collars, linen cloth, &c. Her husband was very wealthy; and she was a devout member of the church. Her dresses were all made with long capacious pockets, of the kind common to thieves.

☞ The Charleston Mercury states that the steamers Nashville and Kate, which recently brought valuable cargoes of arms and ammunition into a Southern port, have succeeded in making their way out to sea, in spite of the blockade squadron at the point where they escaped.

☞ Morgan came very near being captured at Paris, Ky. While he was at breakfast, Gen. Smith's cavalry dashed into the town, and was shooting down the horse thieves in the streets. Morgan escaped in his slippers, leaving his breakfast untasted.

☞ Gen. Sherman has issued orders that no more gold shall be paid for cotton, and that venders refusing current funds shall forfeit their stock.

☞ South Berwick, on Tuesday, sent her quota of troops to Camp Butler. The inhabitants turned out en masse to escort them to the railroad depot.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Henniker, on Thursday evening last, a party of fellows, among whom was a Mr. Constantine, who had been out serenading a newly married couple, called on their way home on Mr. Reuben Gregg, who was also lately married. After considerable disturbance, young Gregg was called upon to come out. He did so, and with a club knocked down Constantine.—He was followed by his father, Milton Gregg, who in the affray stabbed Constantine several times with a dirk, inflicting wounds that it is feared will prove fatal.—Milton Gregg and his son were bound over for their appearance at Court in August.

—— Geo. W. Bailey, formerly of Manchester, is Colonel of the 16th Ohio Regiment, and is highly commended by the papers in that section.

——At one time the venerable Benjamin Abbott, LL. D., for fifty years Principal of Phillips Exeter Academy, could point to six U. S. Senators, once his pupils, and say "they were all good boys" In the present Senate are six New Hampshire boys, viz.: John P. Hale, Daniel Clark, James W. Grimes, Wm. Pitt Fessenden, Henry Wilson, and Zachariah Chandler.

—— The house and outbuildings of Mr. Augustus H. Robinson, in the eastern part of Concord, were burnt on Monday morning. Loss twelve hundred dollars; insured eight hundred.

SOUTH CAROLINA NULLIFICATION.—"That we are essentially aristocratic I can not deny; but we can and do yield much to Democracy," said John C. Calhoun to the now venerable Commodore Stewart in the year 1812. "This is our sectional policy," he continued: "we are from necessity thrown upon and solemnly wedded to that party, however it may clash with our feelings, for the conservation of our interests. It is through an affiliation with that party in the Middle and Western States we control, under the Constitution, the Government of these United States; but when we cease thus to control this nation, through a disjointed Democracy or any material obstacle in that party which shall tend to throw us out of that rule and control, we shall then resort to the dissolution of the Union."

Thus spoke the great Preacher of Disunion fifty years ago.

RICH CLERGYMEN IN BOSTON.—The clergymen of Boston are not all of them rigid observers of the Catholic vow of poverty, judging by the tax roll. Rev. N. L. Frothingham, D. D., is taxed on $248,000; Rev. Thomas Worcester, D. D., on $64,000; Rt. Rev. John B. Fitzpatrick, Bishop of Boston, on $92,700; Rt. Rev. Manton Eastburn, D. D., $52,400; Rev. Cyrus A. Bartol, D. D., $39,000; Rev. George C. Beckwith, $32,000; Rev. Thos. B. Thayer, $22,000. Several clergymen pay taxes on $15,000; and half-a-dozen on from $10,000 to $15,000 each. And it is believed that these persons are worth more than they are taxed for.

☞ Capt. Harrison, of New York city,—who was advertised by General Pope as a deserter, for whose arrest five cents would be paid,—has just published a card, in which he says that he is no deserter, but that he resigned his commission in consequence of an injury received in the service, which made him unable to do duty.—He was advised to this step by both surgeons of his regiment—and his colonel accepted his resignation. He very mildly suggests that the General must have been misinformed.

DRY FOOD FOR HOGS.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman says:—

"Many hogs are kept comparatively poor by the high dilution of their food. They take in so much water that there is not room for a good supply of nutriment. Hence the reason that those farmers who carefully feed undiluted sour milk to their hogs, have so much finer animals than those who give them slop. The hog has not room for much water; and if food which contains much, is fed to him, it makes him big-bellied, but poor." Hogs, as well as all other animals should be allowed all the water they will drink, but it should not be mixed with their food in excessive quantity.

We are told that one man in Paris, Me., —an ex-county officer, and a worthy disciple of an ex-naval storekeeper at Portsmouth—was recently so exasperated at the idea of drafting, that he openly declared in the streets that if a draft should be ordered, Gov. Washburn could not sleep in any house in that town; that it would be torn down over his head, and that a draft would be resisted even if blood ran down the streets in rivers. Such a man would keep well—in Fort Warren.—Portland Press.

NORRISTOWN, PA., July 28.—The citizens have subscribed $30,000 as a loan to the county if legalized by the State Legislature, or otherwise, to be considered as a gift, for giving bounty to the volunteers.—The County Commissioners are all Democrats, and refused to receive the money or to offer any bounty.

The County Commissioners of Lehigh have appropriated $10,000 for the volunteer bounty.

A "BIG THING."—The "Great Eastern" sailed from New York for Liverpool on Saturday, with 700 passengers. She had on board as a portion of her cargo, 150,000 bushels wheat, and 12,500 bbls. flour.

☞ Drafting will commence in New York State, on the 18th of August, if there are not volunteers enough by that time.

☞ The Methodist Episcopal Church South, which has been among the foremost fomenters of the pro-slavery spirit in the Southern churches, has probably suffered more from the progress of the rebellion than any other religious denomination.—Their Book Concern at Nashville has been closed. From New Orleans a Methodist chaplain of the Union army writes that he visited the office of the New Orleans Advocate and Southern Methodist Book Depositary, and found the whole establishment closed and as desolate in appearance as though a pestilence had passed over it. All the other papers of the church except two have been suspended. Most of their churches are without pastors or preachers, and the bishops do not know where to derive their support.

☞ The office of the St. Croix Herald, in St. Stephens, N. B., was again visited by a mob on Monday night. The work of destruction this time is nearly complete. Most of the type is pied, the press injured, and much of the material scattered outside of the building and thrown into the river. The Herald is a strong Union paper, perhaps the only one in New Brunswick. Its opposition to secessionism has brought the wrath of the Provinces down upon it.

☞ The Tribune has the following:—"It is whispered that Gen. Halleck has sent all the spades in Gen. McClellan's army to the rear, and ordered muskets to the front. At all events, there was no digging there for the first time for many weeks on the day after his (Gen. Halleck's) visit to the Pen insula.

Steps are being taken to bring loyal blacks by the hundred from the Valley of the Shenandoah within the lines of Gen. Sigel. To what military purposes they are to be devoted is not known."

☞ The Tribune says the report that Gen. Marcy, Gen. McClellan's father-in-law and Chief of Staff, whom the Senate refused to confirm, has been re-appointed by the President, is incorrect.

Proposals

FOR BUILDING AND EQUIPPING TWO FIRST CLASS AND THREE SECOND CLASS LIGHT VESSELS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
Washington City, June 25, 1862.

Separate sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 m, on SATURDAY, the 9th of August, 1862, for building and equipping two first class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length from after side of stern post to the fore side of main stem, 98 feet; breadth of beam, moulded, 23 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of limber strake to top of beam, 11 feet; tonnage about 223.

The Board will also receive proposals until 12 m, on MONDAY, the 28th of July, 1862, for building and equipping three second class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length between perpendiculars, 81 feet 6 inches; breadth of beam, moulded, 21 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of limber strake to top of beam, 10 feet 6 inches; tonnage about 150.

The white oak to be of the best sea-coast timber, and the yellow pine of the finest grain untapped southern timber. The printed specifications by which the vessels are to be constructed, and which will, with the drawings and plans, be attached to and form a part of the contracts, can be had on application to the Light-house Board, or to the Light-house Inspector at Portland, Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, at which places, also, the plans and drawings may be seen on application.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to receive any vessel not built in strict conformity to the terms of the contract; and no contract will be considered binding until it shall have been approved by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury. No proposal will be received or considered, unless from persons engaged in ship building, and each offer must be accompanied by the signatures of two responsible persons as sureties for the faithful fulfilment of the contract.

Each vessel must be distinctly specified, with the sum for which the bidder proposes to build and equip her according to the drawings and specifications, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed by each bidder, as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal

A drawing of the vessel contracted for will be furnished to the contractor, to which he will be required to adhere strictly; to this end the mould loft lines will be taken off and the mould examined by the superintending officer, who will be assigned to the duty by this Board, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and who will be required to see that the work executed and the materials used are in strict conformity to the terms and specifications of the contract, and who must certify to the same in writing, before the vessel will be received, and payments authorized to be made.

Persons making proposals to build any of these light-vessels may suggest any change or alterations by which the cost will be lessened, without using inferior materials, and in making such suggestions the precise character of the change or alteration will be named, with the amount saved thereby. The proposals for each vessel will state the time required to complete the vessel and deliver it to the agent of the Board at such place as may be agreed upon; the same to be named in the bid. All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for building Light vessels," and then enclosed in another envelope, and addressed to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

Any person submitting a proposal may be present, and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

By order of the Light-house Board,
jul26eod3w W. B. SHUBRICK, Chairman.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the BEST. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Cone and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HARRY M. CARTER,
Corresponding Secretary,
Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

Local.

☞ We are happy to announce to the public that Mr. Joshua J. Laighton, of this city, for whose safety much apprehension has been entertained by his friends for the last few days, is now in Boston. Fearing the obstacles which his family might throw in the way of his enlistment, he quietly left Portsmouth, and joined the regular army at the rendezvous in Boston.

A correspondent says:—"We wish there were many like him; young men of a collegiate education, who, feeling that the country now has superior claims upon their services, would nobly come forward, and as simple privates enrol themselves upon the muster of the army, regardless both of pay and bounty."

☞ The two Baptist Societies of Manchester intend to make their excursion to this city, and various places of interest to them in this section, to-day, should the weather be pleasant. Probably, also, a large number of persons not connected with these societies will avail themselves of the opportunity to make a pleasant trip to our city by the sea, at a cheap rate. The train will leave Manchester at 6 1-2 A. M., and returning leave this city at 6 P. M.

☞ The recruiting officers have caused Market Square to become quite a tented field, and are offering strong inducements to patriots to place their names upon the rolls. Any volunteers enlisting with them may rest assured that everything will be done upon the square.

PEARSON'S PANORAMA OF THE WAR will remain only two nights more, and we advise all our citizens to improve the opportunities which remain of witnessing this master-piece of art. It would be useless for us to extol the merits of this painting.—The public voice, with one accord, has pronounced it the finest exhibition ever in Portsmouth; and the crowds which nightly visit the Temple, are convincing proof of its superiority.

This afternoon the children will be admitted for 6 cents each.

☞ A miserable imposter, who gave his name as Winton F. Adams, and said that he belonged in Rockland, Me., was arrested in Newburyport, on Sunday, and on Monday was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction. He was in this city about a week since, and by his doleful story of horrible wounds received in the recent battles before Richmond, moved the sympathy of very many persons, who had more trust than caution, and probably picked up considerable money. In Newburyport he stated to a crowd that he had been attended by Dr. Tilton, who had engaged to amputate his arm. Before he had finished his recital Dr. Tilton rode up, denied ever having seen the man before, and after putting a few questions relative to his wounds, where received, &c., pronounced him an impostor, and he was arrested. On examination, it appeared that he had lost a fore finger and the first joint of the second finger, but they were completely healed.—In the opinion of the physicians it had not been done within five years.

☞ Rev. Dr. Storrs, in his address at the anniversary exercises of Mount Holyoke Seminary, said that a returned prisoner lately remarked that while at the South he could easily endure the taunts of the men, but that he had never before realized what and how terrible was the stinging hate of women, so intense, bitter and beyond all belief, and he had come back with one additional mercy for which to thank God—that the Devil was not a woman!

Sic Itur ad Astra.—"Thirty-four stars are too many for a flag," said the Baltimore lady; "they look crowded." "I like to see a flag well starred," said the Divine Student. "What do you think of the Southern flag?" asked the Baltimore lady. "Its stars are fewer, and show much better." "Madam," broke in X, "I think from recent occurrence, the Southern flag is exceedingly ill-Starred!"

☞ Maj. John D. Fairbanks, of the 5th Michigan infantry, died in Washington on Friday last, from the effects of wounds received in battle near Richmond June 30th, He was a native of New Hampshire.

☞ Recruiting for the Mexican army has been going on in New York recently. A good many, it is said, have been obtained and sent off. Measures have been taken to put a stop to the business.

☞ Most delicious was that bottle of Sarsaparilla syrup from L. Laighton—mead fit for a poet. And such will be found true of many another article in Mr. Laighton's fine stock.

One morning a party came into the public rooms at Buxton, somewhat later than usual, and requested some tongue; they were told that Lord Byron had eaten it all. "I am very angry with his lordship," said a lady, loud enough for him to hear the observation. "I am sorry for it, madam," retorted Lord Byron, "but before I ate the tongue, I was assured you did not want it."

☞ Every town in Franklin County, Maine, has already filled up its quota of volunteers, and some towns have quite a surplus.

☞ All the American cotton at Liverpool on the 11th was 53,000 bales, the price of New Orleans was from 35 to 38 cents a pound. It is likely to be higher before it is lower. It is reported that 115,000 bales of cotton had been shipped from Bombay in one week, in consequence of a slight rise in the Liverpool market, and it is expected that the recent advance will induce much larger shipments.

A rogue asked charity on pretence of being dumb. A lady having asked him, with equal simplicity and humanity, how long he had been dumb, he was thrown off his guard, and answered—"From birth, madam." "Poor fellow!" said the lady, and gave him half-a-crown.

Out of Wind.—A law has just been passed for the discontinuance of regimental bands. What will the rebels say when they hear that the Federal authorities are thus Drawing in their Horns?

The New Him for the Army.—Halleck-lujah.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 16th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils Scurvy, Scurvy Ulcers, Sore Legs, Sore Eyes, Swelled Nose, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Flesh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Inflations, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Sties, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and purify the Skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and Wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money; and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about the size of an hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in much each case, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Psoriasis, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH BOWN.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, on the 1st. I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Boston, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker, till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with the case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26d

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into the American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The thousands who have given proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All inventors of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, has made me his recommender of inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioners of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, most and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

LANDER.

BY THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

Close his bleak eyes—they shall no more
Flash battle where the Cannon roar!
And lay the battered sabre at his side,
(His to the last, for so he would have died!)
Though he no more may pluck from out its sheath
The showy lightning that dealt traitors death,
Lead the lone war-horse by the plumes bier—
Even his horse, now he is dead, is dear!

Take him, New England, now his work is done:
He fought the Good Fight valiantly—and won.
Speak of his daring. This man held his blood
Cheaper than water for the nation's good.
Rich Mountain, Fairfax, Romney—he was there—
Speak of him gently, of his union, his air;
How true he was, how his strong heart could bend
With sorrow, like a woman's, for a friend:
Intolerant of every mean desire;
Ice, where he liked not; where he loved, all fire.

Take him, New England, gently. Other days,
Peaceful and prosperous, shall give him praise.
How will our children's children breathe his name,
Bright on the shadowy muster roll of fame!
Take him, New England, gently; you can fold
No purer patriot in your soft brown mould.

So, on New England, let him lie.
Sleeping awhile—as if the dead could die!

LOVING BIRDS.—Some one who appreciates birds thus feelingly writes:—

There is something very delightful in loving and being loved; and nothing gives me greater pleasure than seeing all the birds in my garden happy. They feel they are in safeguard with me. I open my window and I bid them enter. Every morning I place for them, on the grass-plot, and in other convenient places, pans and dishes of various depths filled with cold spring water. Down they come—blackbirds, thrushes, starlings, hedge sparrows, nightingales, blackcaps, garden warblers, robins, wrens, etc., etc.; and when they have done drinking, what a droll sight it is to see them plunge boldly into their baths! What a fuss they make! What antics they perform! They dance, they stride, they caper! To see them racing on the lawn, en deshabille, and then 'making their toilet'—this completes the fun. How very happy they are, I gather from the melody of their sweet voices, and close companionship in the garden. Who would be without such summer visitors?

A Vermont broom peddler lately agreed with a Providence merchant to sell him a load of brooms, the payment to be made half in cash and half in goods from the Providence man's store at cost prices. The brooms were brought in, and the cash for half of them paid over. "Now, what will you have for the remainder of your bill?" asked the merchant. "You Providence fellers are cute," was the slow reply; "you sell for cost pretty much all of you, and make money; I don't see how you do it.—I don't know about your goods but one article, so, seein' as 'twon't make any odds with you, I guess I'll take brooms. I know them like a book, and can swear to just what you paid for 'em!" And so saying, the peddler reloaded his brooms, jumped on his cart with a regular Vermont grin, and drove off.

"NOT DEAD YET."—Two rather singular cases of remarkable escape from living burial are related as having occurred subsequent to the battle at Fair Oaks. The body of a colonel was found on the field and brought in. Arrangements were made for embalming it. The process includes the use of galvanism. The shock was given. To the astonishment of all, the colonel rose and walked forth. The other case was also that of a colonel who was found dead on the field. In deference to his rank, he was brought to the hospital and laid among the dead. His friends prepared to give him a decent burial, and were about to carry the body out, when the colonel rolled over, and in tones more like those of a man drunk than dead, called out;—"Bon, John, where is my whiskey flask?"—Tribune Corres.

LORD STANHOPE has recently emended an important passage in his "Life of Pitt." In the fourth volume it is stated that the great statesman's last words were:—"Oh, my country! how I love my country!" The noble biographer now finds, upon a re-examination of the original paper, that the line, in the obscure handwriting of his uncle, should read:—"Oh, my country! how I leave my country!"—referring, doubtless, to the miserable condition of the kingdom and European politics generally, produced by the battle of Austerlitz. A lively controversy has been aroused by the correction, as to what the last words of Pitt really were, and utterly discordant accounts are produced upon the best authority.

A nobleman wished Garrick to be a candidate for the representation of a borough in Parliament. "No, my Lord," said the actor, "I would rather play the part of a great man on the stage than the part of a fool in Parliament."

☞ One of the transcendentalists of Boston, in speaking of the profanity of a teamster, describes it as 'æsthetic and fertilizing.'

☞ The rebel Court of Inquiry on Tatnall's destruction of the Merrimac, has honorably acquitted him.

☞ It is thought that four new Maine regiments will be ready to march in two weeks.

☞ The Mobile papers report Beauregard as being very sick.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 31, 1862.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

"C. C. Y," New York.—We usually charge something for publishing advertisements,—10 cts. per line for editorial notices, 5 cts. per line for matter copied from other papers.

"PORTSMOUTH."—Anonymous communications and advice "to citizens of Portsmouth," or "any other man," are not very highly esteemed by anybody. Has "Portsmouth" himself enlisted? It is so much more effective to say "come," than "go," you know—to speak from the ranks than at them.

TEN YEARS AGONE.

The present number closes the tenth year of The Daily Morning Chronicle,—the commencing issue having been made on the first of August, 1852. It is to us, at least, a very interesting anniversary; and we had intended to "celebrate" the event in some sort of a literary and festive gathering with our personal friends and the old patrons of the enterprise, but for the saddening influence of the war, and other circumstances. A gay fellow was once asked why he did not celebrate his tin wedding? and answered that he hadn't got "the tin." We don't know that we need plead just his excuse, but it is considerable labor and trouble to do a 'good thing' in that line; and probably we are not any more fond of hard "polls" of this sort than we used to be. [We hope friend Whittem won't misconstrue this.]

We do not propose to make much of a valedictory or salutatory address on this occasion—though we feel like grasping the hand, in thankfulness, of every man and woman who has by kind word or deed encouraged our enterprise (doubtful experiment, most of them termed it,) from the start. But it is not necessary. Already we are "on the record," for good or evil, praise or blame, honor or shame.

"The past is past.—
Not God himself hath power o'er it."

Those who wish well for the paper, are on our list, or ought to be, and so know our course; and we never cared much for rivals or opponents, if any such we ever had. We hope our paper has never given any one of its friends just cause for regret or reproach; though we pretend to no infallibity, and the conducting of a daily paper is a business sometimes a little perplexing.

The results of our first ten years' labor has been so satisfactory, pecuniarily and socially, and otherwise, that we shall commence our second like term to morrow, with heart almost as light as at first, and assurance made doubly sure by past success—for which we again return the most grateful thanks, to all who have contributed thereto, and promise our best efforts to merit continued favor.

☞ The close of another year of the Chronicle,—the tenth,—is a good time for settling all accounts connected therewith.—We shall use due diligence to have all charges or balances against us adjusted forthwith; and all patrons in our debt, will add another to their long list of favors, by doing the same by us.

☞ Col. Brodhead, of the 1st Michigan Cavalry, recently made a daring reconnoissance from Culpepper to Orange Court House, with his own regiment and the 5th New York Cavalry. He swam the Rapidan, which was much too swollen to ford—a feat the inhabitants pronounced impossible, so swift was the current—and pushing on with his command to Orange Court House, found it occupied by rebel cavalry, whom he put to flight by a bold charge through the town. It had been arranged that Gen. Hatch should move forward to his support, but the swollen river and heavy rain precluded the passage of his trains, and the enemy were thus enabled to get between the Colonel and Gen. Hatch, thus apparently cutting him off. The Colonel tried a ruse upon the enemy. He reinforced his pickets towards Gordonsville with nearly his entire force, and advanced them still further. That impressed them with the idea of a large force, and they sent for reinforcements. Our troops heard the cars go, and then moved half a mile still further up and tore up the railroad track, and in the pitch darkness, two hours after midnight, Col. Brodhead called in his gallant fellows, and retreating to the Rapidan, again swam it without losing a man. He thus completely escaped the clutches of the rebels, who were in strong force in front of and on both flanks. The audacity of his advance on Gordonsville, instead of falling back in the first place, saved him. A correspondent of the Washington Star, narrating this affair, calls Col. Brodhead "our Ashby." This gallant officer is Thornton T. Brodhead, son of the late Rev. John Brodhead, member of Congress from New Hampshire.

☞ The U. S. gunboat Huntsville arrived at Key West July 26th, having in tow a side-wheel rebel steamer and the schooner Argus, both loaded with cotton, and valued at $150,000.

☞ Rather poor haying weather our farmers in this county have had, this season, with scarcely two successive days without showers,—hey?

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A Dover correspondent of the Boston Journal gives the following in relation to the successful attempts to pass $100 counterfeit bills on the Merrimac Co. Bank, at Concord:—

A man went from here to Gonic (Rochester) on Thursday morning and changed $500 of these same counterfeits at the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank in that village. Mr. N. V. Whitehouse, father of the cashier, was acting that day, and made the exchange, the stranger giving the reason that he was buying government horses, and wanted small bills. Mr. Whitehouse, suspecting all was not right, after the man had gone, sent to the depot and received his money back, luckily for him. The fellow seemed very willing and accommodating.—The man took the cars (morning) for Farmington, where he succeeded in obtaining $1000 of the Farmington Bank in exchange, leaving at once for Union Village, (Wakefield) &c. The stranger then made a circuit of Great Falls, and even dared to return to Dover, remaining at the American House over night, leaving Friday morning without paying his bill. It was a shrewd and bold act.

—— The Mirror says, that previous to the late call Manchester had enlisted 1700 men, and since then, for the Ninth and Tenth Regiments about 300 more. It also says that it is understood that the Tenth will be the last regiment, and that the 2000 more to be enlisted will go to fill up the regiments already in the field.

—— The historical oration at the recent commencement at Williams College was delivered by John A. French of Nashua.

—— The Claremont Eagle says that the Monadnock Mills' Corporation in that town have just declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent., though not a spindle has been running the whole six months past. The rise of goods on hand when they shut down, accounts for the dividend.

—— At East Moultonborough, on Sunday, the 20th inst., Mr. Abner Rogers, about sixty years of age, was kicked in the stomach by a horse he was endeavoring to catch. Mortification having set in, he died on the following Tuesday, leaving quite a large family. He was a man of property and influence in his immediate neighborhood.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—The Ballot says:

"The place of holding the Fair was left to be decided at a future meeting, when it will be located in such city or town as will give most to secure it—the object of the trustees being apparently to make the thing pay pecuniarily, rather than to bring together the farmers of the county and their products."

This is a libel on the Trustees, who are earnestly considering the relative probabilities of getting up the best show, in the two places practicable, and will try to decide for the interests of agriculture in the County. But it seems to be reasonable that some regard should be had to the Society's funds; and wouldn't that Ballot man find fault if they were "squandered"? He is bound to growl at any rate, like the Paddy who was going to beat his wife if she was abed, leaving him in the cold and dark; or if sitting up and burning out his fire and light.

☞ Rev. Rufus W. Clark, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of this city, has received a unanimous call to become the pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church in Philadelphia. Dr. Clark has also recently received calls from a prominent church in San Francisco and from one in Massachusetts.

SAD EFFECTS OF RUSTICATION!—"Newington" thinks, the favorite air, now-a-days, with the army, is "Days of absence" and that it was quite natural that McClellan when he changed the base of his operations, should have lost "the even tenor of his way."

☞ Certain parties in New York having been found discouraging enlistments, Secretary Seward has ordered U. S. Marshal Murray to arrest every one found in the disloyal work, and place them in Fort Lafayette. Marshal Murray gives notice that he shall enforce the order at once and vigorously.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S BOOK.—This book (which we have already noticed in advance,) is all that the prospectus promised, viz. an interesting and truthful story of the times. Every body who wishes to know the truth about the rebellion, should read it. Sold in Boston by Geo. L. Dix & Co.; in Portsmouth by Mr. Shores.

☞ Gen. Burnside was in New York for a few hours on Tuesday, on business.—Having been called upon for a speech, by a crowd which gathered about him in Nassau street, he gave his audience a few words of encouragement and advice, viz: "All is going on well, if you will only fill up the old regiments."

A REPENTANT.—The individual who was jerked into the Frog Pond, on Boston Common, Monday, for uttering anti-Union sentiments, and who was afterwards jogged by the police, has repented, withdrawn his bad words and enlisted in the Federal army. Let the repentant have all due credit.

☞ The Memphis Union Appeal is of the opinion that all the city of Vicksburg that fire could destroy, exists no more.

THE REBELLION.

900 rebels attacked 650 Union soldiers at Moonier's Mills, Mo., on Monday. After a long fight, the rebels were completely routed, with the loss of 75 or 100 killed and wounded. Our loss was 45 killed and wounded. Large quantities of guns, ammunition, baggage, &c., were captured from the rebels.

A severe skirmish took place on Sunday at Bolivar, Tenn. It is reported that the rebels now have possession of Grand Junction and all of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad between Memphis and Corinth. It is reported that they have made a raid on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad at Humboldt, but a later dispatch says they did little damage.

Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, has issued a proclamation calling the Legislature together, stating that he is without a soldier or a dollar to protect the lives, property and liberties of the people, or to enforce the laws.

The Home Guards, at Mount Sterling, Ky., on Tuesday, completely routed a party of 200 guerillas, who had demanded a surrender of the place. The guerillas lost all their horses, 8 men killed, and 48 prisoners and wounded. Our loss was 3 wounded.

Guerillas are again active. A party, on Monday, took Russellville, Ky. Another large force has entered Missouri, from Arkansas, and are encamped near the line.—It is stated that we have troops enough to hold them in check.

FOREIGN.—Dates from Liverpool, 19th, via Queenstown the 20th, have been received. In the British House of Commons, on the 18th, Mr. Lindsey introduced his motion declaring that the confederates have shown such determination and ability to maintain their independence that the propriety of offering mediation with a view to the termination of hostilities is worthy of the serious and immediate consideration of the government. He argued strongly in favor of it, as also did Lord A. Viele, Tempest, Whiteside and Gregory. Mr. Taylor and Lord Palmerston spoke against it.—The latter earnestly advised that the question be left to the government. He contended that acknowledgement by England could give the North no cause of offense, but thought the present position of the contest would not justify the recognition of the Southern independence. He again appealed to Mr. Lindsey to withdraw his motion, which was finally done.

English journals attack the Orleans princes for the course they have pursued with the Northern army.

The Princess Clotilde gave birth to a prince on the 18th.

The London Times on Friday published a third edition containing a dispatch from unquestionable "secesh" quarters, which the Times undoubtedly was only too willing to believe, to this effect:—

The divisions of Gens. McCall and Reynolds had surrendered to the Confederates. Gen. McClellan was on board the Galena. Jackson was in the rear of the Federals, and Price was in front. Gen. Lee refused to grant any terms of capitulation, and demanded an unconditional surrender of the Federal troops. The Federal flags had been taken down from the newspaper offices in Baltimore.

BOSTON RUNNING RACES.—The Boston Saturday Gazette well says "the meeting last week at the Franklin Park Course was a complete success, and the excellent management of the races has done much to remove the prejudices which many have entertained against visiting race tracks.—Thousands of most respectable citizens, ladies and gentlemen, visited the Park for the first time, and came away satisfied that much enjoyment may be had in racing, and that when it is conducted on proper principles it is a pleasure that the most fastidious may indulge in." During the four days, notwithstanding the immense crowd in attendance, we saw but one or two men drunk, and there was no noise or fighting. To be sure, there was considerable drinking, gambling and pocket-picking,—as in what crowd will there not be? but those who chose, could keep away from such entertainments.

The Southern men present, bringing their horses, proved themselves gentlemen; and Mr. Cassady, the chief manager, and Messrs. D. M. Robbins & Co., of Boston, who had charge of the track, proved themselves eminently competent for their responsible positions. We are glad to learn that there will probably be a similar Fall Running Meeting over the same course; and we hope that before that time there will be such a "running meeting" at the South as will leave all true Northerners and Unionists a light heart to enjoy all manly sports without alloy.

☞ A firm in South America has obtained permission from the Peruvian and Bolivian Governments for the exportation of 1500 pure alpacas. Negotiations have been concluded for the introduction into Australia of the whole herd, and a clipper ship is on its way to Lima, pledged to land the first five hundred by next October.

SHIP BUILDING.—Messrs. Badger & Downs have commenced building a ship in Marcy & Pettigrew's yard, at the South End. A small vessel is being built at the Raynes yard, near the North Mills. Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield are building a bark of about 450 tons, at their yard on Noble's Island.

POLICE COURT.—On Wednesday, James Carey, for being a disorderly boy, was sentenced to the House of Reformation, during his minority.

John Bright, for assault, was fined $5 and costs, amounting in all to $10.74.

John Lowe, for being found drunk in the streets, sent to House of Correction for one day, and to pay costs $3.86.

Horace Ellison, for an assault, was fined $5 and costs $4.63.

☞ We were glad to see the large number of ladies and gentlemen from Manchester, who visited Portsmouth on the occasion of the Baptist Picnic excursion, on Wednesday. Such social interchanges between inhabitants of different cities, are productive of mutual benefit; and a trip to the seaboard is always agreeable in summer.—"Come along, come along, and don't be alarmed."

The party consisted of about four hundred persons, and among them we were pleased to see our friend Farnsworth of the Manchester American. They passed the day in looking about the city; numbers visited Fort Constitution, Portsmouth Navy Yard, or the Shoals, or had a pleasant sail on the river and in the harbor. Many of them dined at the Franklin House, and we trust that all enjoyed their visit to our city.

☞ We understand that arrangements are being made for a grand Excursion from Portsmouth, next week, over the C. & P. and B.C. & Montreal Railroads, to Manchester, Concord, Laconia, &c., to The Wiers; thence across Lake Winnepiseogee, to the Islands, Wolfborough, &c., in the steamer—leaving Portsmouth at 6 o'clock in the morning, per special train, and returning same way in the evening,—all for the low price of $1. Now is the chance for all hands to visit the interior. The route is delightful, and we hope the managers of the excursion will engage the Portsmouth Cornet Band, and take a dozen cars full along with them.

☞ Positively the last chance to witness Pearson's Grand Panorama of the War.—This splendid painting, which has gained such immense popularity with our citizens, will be unrolled for the last time in our city to-night. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on these rare collections of paintings, and the new scenes which have been added are of great artistic merit. It is worth the price of admission to witness these alone. The lecture is deeply interesting and reflects great credit on Mr. Somerby as an orator; nor would we forget the songs by Lizzie Somerby which enhance the liveliness of the entertainment. We would again urge our citizens to go to the Temple to-night, for this is the last chance to behold the finest collection of panoramic pictures ever put upon canvass.

RECRUITING FOR THE ARMY.—Capt. Towle has a recruiting encampment on Market Square, for the Ninth Regt., N. H. Volunteers; and has a section of recruits under arms. Capt. Hill is also about to open a recruiting office here.

We learn on the best authority that the town of Rye has 21 citizens now in the U. S. service; and her Selectmen have just enrolled 129 men besides these, who are liable to a draft for military duty.

From the town of Newington, five men have enlisted in the Navy, and 10 in the Army.

☞ Our good people were not the only victims of mis-placed confidence in the soldier vagabond who got hauled up in Newburyport on Monday. He talked largely to the citizens of Greenland on his way through to—Illinois or Indiana, we do not remember which—and excited a good deal of sympathy: how substantially expressed we cannot say. By the way, Greenland talks of a draft, no one seeming disposed to begin in the matter of furnishing her quota of nine men.

☞ A salute of 30 guns was fired at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Wednesday noon, as a token of respect to the memory of ex-President Van Buren, recently deceased.

☞ The story that 500 cattle had been driven off by the rebels from the vicinity of the camp at Harrison's Landing turns out to have had but slight foundation. Five cattle were stolen by a party of rebel cavalry, but that was all.

☞ It is said that the "Rev. Mr. Clark, of Texas," who last week gave an account at a meeting on Boston Common, of the death of his "father-in-law," Sam Houston, is an impostor.

☞ It is rumored in certain quarters that Hon. Henry J. Raymond is about to retire from the editorial chair of the New York Daily Times.

New Scenes of absorbing interest have been added to the Painting, which now forms a complete History of the War, up to the

The Artists are now engaged in painting the DESPERATE BATTLES BEFORE RICHMOND, and if completed in season, they will be introduced for the first time to the citizens of Portsmouth.

RUFUS SOMERBY, Manager.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

NOTICE TO THE

Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the best. As this is to be a STATE Instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Lace Work, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Cone and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HENRY M. CARTER, Corresponding Secretary, Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 16th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he relieved thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils, Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Ears, Swelled Nose, Ulcerous Lame Limbs, Netherby's Sore Breast, Ringworms, Sprains, Flesh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Stiles, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the Skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money, and in many cases life, as it saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

Price 25 cts. per box. Manufactured by WM. GRACE, Amesbury, Essex Co., Mass.

M. S. Burr & Co., 36 Tremont st., Boston, wholesale agents. All orders addressed to this firm or the manufacturer, will receive prompt attention.

One Box sent postpaid by mail to any part of the United States, on the receipt of 38 cents—or three Boxes for one dollar.

Proposals

FOR

BUILDING AND EQUIPPING TWO FIRST CLASS AND THREE SECOND CLASS LIGHT VESSELS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
Washington City, June 25, 1862.

Separate sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 m., on SATURDAY, the 9th of August, 1862, for building and equipping two first class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length from after side of stern post to the fore side of main stem, 98 feet; breadth of beam, moulded, 23 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 11 feet; tonnage about 252.

The Board will also receive proposals until 12 m, on MONDAY, the 28th of July, 1862, for building and equipping three second class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length between perpendiculars, 81 feet 6 inches; breadth of beam, moulded, 21 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 10 feet 6 inches; tonnage about 150.

The white oak to be of the best sea-coast timber, and the yellow pine of the finest grain untapped southern timber. The drawings and specifications by which the vessels are to be constructed, and which will, with the drawings and plans, be attached to and form a part of the contracts, can be had on application to the Light-house Board, or to the Light-house Inspector at Portland, Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, at which places, also, the plans and drawings may be seen and examined.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to receive any vessel not built in strict conformity to the plans and specifications; and no contract will be considered binding until it shall have been approved by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury. No proposal will be received or considered, unless from persons engaged in ship building, and each offer must be accompanied by the signatures of two responsible persons as sureties for the faithful fulfilment of the contract.

Each vessel must be distinctly specified, with the sum for which the bidder proposes to build and equip her according to the drawings and specifications, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed by each bidder, as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

A drawing of the vessel contracted for will be furnished to the contractor, to which he will be required to adhere strictly; to this end the mould loft lines will be taken off and the mould examined by the superintending officer, who will be assigned to the duty by this Board, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and who will be required to see that the work executed and the materials used are in strict conformity to the drawings and specifications of the contract, and who must certify to the same in writing, before the vessel will be received, and payments authorized to be made.

Persons making proposals to build any of these light-vessels may suggest any change or alterations by which the cost will be lessened, without using inferior materials, and in making such suggestions the precise character of the change or alteration will be named, with the amount saved thereby. The proposals for each vessel will state the time required to complete the vessel and deliver it to the agent of the Board at such place as may be agreed upon; the same to be named in the bid. All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for building Light vessels," and then enclosed in another envelope, and addressed to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform in the requirements of this advertisement.

Any person submitting a proposal may be present, and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

By order of the Light-house Board:

jul22od3w W. B. SHUBRICK, Chairman.

Pine-Apples.

S. A. AVERY has just received a large and splendid lot of SUGAR LOAF PINES, at his Newspaper Store, No. 29 CONGRESS ST., Portsmouth.

☞ The following lines were written by a soldier in the hospital at New Haven, who lost his leg in the battle of Fair Oaks:

L-E-G ON MY LEG.

"Good leg, thou wast a faithful friend,
And truly hast thy duty done;
I think thee most that to the end
Thou didst not let my body run.

Strange paradox! that in the fight
Where I of thee was thus bereft,
I lost my left leg for "the Right,"
And yet the right's the one that's left!

But while the sturdy stump remains
I may be able yet to patch it,
For even now I've taken pains
To make an l-e-g to match it."

AUCTION SALE OF SOUTHERN BELLS. The church and other smaller bells captured at New Orleans and sent North by Gen. Butler, are to be sold at auction to-day, Thursday, at East Boston. There are over four hundred in all, varying in size from little to great,—from 50 to 1400 pounds. These bells were contributed to the Southern cause for the purpose of being made into cannon, and their history is an evidence of the zeal and determination which animates the South, and shows that the Southrons' patriotism, such as it is, has the "true ring" of devotion and earnestness. That zeal and determination is what we at the North should imitate. Let that be done, and the rebellion would be ended in less than six months.

VANITY.—The London Times expresses favorable views of the rebel confederacy and unfavorable of the United States; adding "this is the opinion of England—and the opinion of England is the opinion of the World."

Solomon said, "A fool is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can render a reason." And here is the scribbler of the Times, in his garret, fancying that his notion makes the opinions of the World.

Whether his vanity or his folly is greatest,—who can tell?

☞ The price for one of the best Greyhounds in England, dog or slut, is $5000. At a recent hound show, nine were valued at $37,500!

☞ An insane mother in the upper part of Canada lately murdered her seven children in their beds.

When a man drinks ten brandy punches at a sitting, what does he remind you of?—The beast with ten horns, described in Revelation.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the LADIES' SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY on FRIDAY afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at their usual room in the CUSTOM HOUSE, to decide upon the disposition to be made of the funds now in their hands.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N.H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JONAH JENNESS.

About seventeen months ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe that medicine, to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Boston, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest, night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints." WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISAIAH CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have my fee for it, if I do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20o

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 20 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all druggists.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY.—In her beauty lies a source of power. It is external, and therefore is an instant recommendation. It acts like incantation; reaches the roughest heart that throbs; dazzles, fascinates, and gives immediate wounds. It has been mightier than the sword, or the sceptre, or the gifts of the mind. It has ruled states and heroes; foiled philosophy in the schools; won the prize from genius in the games; wrung mercy from the judge; made the tyrant gentle; the miser liberal; the bandit honest. It was beauty which controlled the policy of Athens in the splendid period of Pericles. It saved the life of Phryne, when the reasoning of Socrates failed. It five times triumphed over the hymns and pæans of Pindar, when Corinna was his rival. It drew out in prodigal profusion the treasure of the French monarch, when the starving populace begged in vain. It stayed the blow of death when the daughter of a savage chief interceded for a stranger. It obtained protection from the robber for an outlawed English queen. It turned away the wrath of David, when it pleaded in the countenance of Abigail. It saved the scattered Jews from Massacre, which Esther besought the King. It carried the poll for Fox, when the Duchess of Devonshire reached the hustings. Yet this female beauty is as common as light. It is peculiar to no nation, and is claimed by no class. It glows in the goddess, and in the peasant girl, and in the Indian squaw. It reigns in the parlor, in the pantry, and in the fish market.—It drinks nectar on Olympus, schnapps in Holland, and wine in Castile, and signs the temperance pledge in Kennet Square. It dances on the stage, prays in the church, swears on the wharf, and smokes in Matamoras. It sings like a nightingale and screams like a peacock. It scolds on washing-day, and gossips at the tea-party. It sews, spins, scrubs, cooks, thumps on the piano, and keeps no secrets. It is difficult to define the source of that beauty of the face which men are prone to worship. Is it in any cast of complexion? There have been beauties colorless as air, pale as cream, yellow as gold, or red like crimson, or brown as Autumn leaves. "Match me," (says the bard,)

"With Spain's dark glancing daughters."

While Helen, whose charms caused strife amongst the gods had the complexion of smoke. Is it in the glossy appearance of the hair? Venus has been represented with a head as scarlet as fire. Is it in the regularity of features? The beauties of ancient Persia were remarkable for a nose like an eagle. Is it in—

"The eyes which are the books, the academies,
From whence do spring the true Promethian fire?"

Homer considered they were only beautiful as they were large, and made Juno's the size of an ox's. And the goat-footed belles of China have their nose no bigger than their heads. The standard of taste varies. It requires teeth to be gilded in Japan, painted red in India, blackened in Gazurat.—The skin must be as blue as the sky in Greenland, jet as ebony in Monomotapa. In Peru the nostrils are hung with heavy jewelry; and goitres ornament the necks of Alpine girls. Beauty seems, therefore, dependent for its impression on caprice or fashion. It is, however the element that attraction and sympathetic desire of hearts, which the world calls love.—James G. Eyerhart.

☞ At Brooklyn and Williamsburg, N. Y., it is said there are 1000 men "of African descent," who have been organized into a regiment for about a year, and who have been and are now willing to be employed in fighting for the Union, under the Articles of War. Ten such regiments might be raised in the free States, and ten more in Maryland. They would make an army for Gen. Hunter.

Grace differs little from glory; the one is the seed, the other the flower. Grace is glory militant, and glory is grace triumphant.

Sirius-ly speaking, observes the N. O. Pic, we are in the midst of the canicular days. It means dog-days, the little rebel.

"Matchless misery" has been defined to be, having a cigar and nothing to light it with.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO. 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very icy roads.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to all customers, as usual; and

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1862.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

MASON AND GORGES—MASON'S DEATH.—Capt. Neal returned to England in the year 1634, and the principal agency of the lower plantation devolved upon Ambrose Gibbins and Thomas Warnerton. The proprietors had advanced large sums of money, and received but small returns in lumber and furs, far short of their expenses: most of them were discouraged, and sold their proportion of the lands and stock to Mason and Gorges. These persons engaged with new ardor in the undertaking, and made every necessary provision for carrying on their plantations and other business in New Hampshire extensively.—They appointed Francis Williams Governor. "He was a discreet, sensible man, accomplished in manners, and was acceptable to the people."

Mason and Gorges made a division of the property they held in common, and Gorges relinquished his right to all the lands in New Hampshire.

On the 22d day of April, 1635, the council of Plymouth made a grant to Capt John Mason, of lands "extending from Naumkeag to Piscataqua, and sixty miles northwest-ward within the land, together with the south half of the Isles of Shoals."—This grant comprehended all that was contained in his two former patents. In the month of June following, the council surrendered their charter to the king. It has been reported that Charles I., by charter dated August 19, 1635, confirmed to Capt. John Mason, the aforesaid tract of land, granted to him by the Council of Plymouth, by the name of the province of New Hampshire. This royal charter cannot be found on record, and it is denied by some that it ever existed. By a letter from George Vaughan to Ambrose Gibbens, it seems improbable that it ever did.

Mason provided most liberally for his stewards and tenants. It appears by an inventory of the goods and implements belonging to his plantation at Piscataqua and Newichewannock, taken in July, that they had on hand a great abundance of arms, ammunition, and military stores, and of clothing; all sorts of smith's, cooper's, carpenter's and mason's tools; and a quantity of naval stores and fishing gear, provisions, and cattle. The neat cattle were procured at Denmark, were of a large breed and yellow color; they had been sent over three or four years since, and were the first cattle imported from Europe into New Hampshire.

In September, Gorges sold to Mason a tract of land on the northeast side of the river Piscataqua, extending three miles in breadth, and following the course of the river from its mouth to its farthest head, including the saw-mills at Newichewannock falls.

But as Mason's prospects began to brighten, and whilst he was flattering himself with the hopes of increasing his fortune by the settlement of New Hampshire, he was taken away by death. Mason was bold and enterprising, and after he had obtained the grant of New Hampshire, he advanced large sums of money to promote its settlement, without receiving any immediate benefit. Perhaps had his life been spared, he might have enjoyed some small fruits of his labor, even if he had not amassed such great riches as he had expected. At any rate he was the principal means of the settlement of this place, and on that account his memory should be respected.

He died the 26th of November 1635, and by his will, made a few days before his death, after several devises, he gave to his grandson, Robert Tufton, his manor of Mason Hall, and to his grandson, John Tufton, the residue of his estate in New Hampshire, requiring each of them to take the name of Mason. Capt. Mason was never in this country himself. His estate in New Hampshire was valued at ten thousand pounds sterling.

In 1639 Mrs. Anna Mason, who was executrix of Capt. Mason's will, appointed Francis Norton her attorney, with general power to take the management of the estate in New Hampshire into his hands.

Dr. Belknap has the following notice of Mason and Gorges, with some reasons why they did not make their fortunes in New Hampshire and Maine.

The Massachusetts planters viewed Mason as their enemy, because he, with Gorges, had privately encouraged some persons whom they had censured and sent home, to petition against them as disaffected to the government; and had endeavored to get their letter set aside, to make way for the scheme of a general government.

But these Mason and Gorges had not the same religious views with the Massachusetts planters, yet their memory deserves respect. They were both heartily engaged in the settlement of the country; they sunk their estate in the undertaking, and reaped no profit to themselves; yet their enterprising spirit excited emulation in others, who had the advantage of improving their plans and avoiding their mistakes. Gorges accounted for the ill success of his adventures in the following manner: 1. He began when there was no hope of any thing for the present but loss; as he had first to seek a place; which, being found, was a wilderness; and so gloomy was the prospect, that he could scarce procure any to go, much less to reside in it; and those whom he at length sent, could not subsist but on the provisions with which he supplied them.—2. He sought not barely his own profit, but the thorough discovery of the country; wherein he went so far (with the help of his associates,) as to open the way for others to make their gain. 3. He never went in person to oversee the people whom he employed. 4. There was no settled government to punish offenders, or mispenders of their masters' goods. Two other things contributed to the disappointment in as great, if not a greater, degree than what he has assigned. The one was that instead of applying themselves chiefly to husbandry, the original source of wealth and independence in such a country as this; he and his associates, being merchants, were rather intent on trade and fishery as their primary objects. These cannot be profitable in a new country, until the foundation is laid in the cultivation of the lands. If the lumber trade and fishery cannot now be carried on to advantage, without the constant aid of husbandry in their neighborhood, how could a colony of traders and fishermen make profitable returns to their employers, when the husbandry necessary for their support was at the distance of Virginia or England? The other mistake which these adventurers fell into was the idea of lordship, and the granting of lands not as freeholds, but by leases subject to quit-rents.—To settle a colony of tenants in a climate so far northward, where the charges of subsistence and improvement were much greater than the value of the lands, after the improvements were made; especially in the neighborhood of so respectable and growing a colony as that of Massachusetts, was indeed a chimerical project; and had not the wiser people among them sought a union with Massachusetts, in all probability the settlements must have been deserted.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In Manchester, on Wednesday, as a train was coming into the depot, a young lad was standing upon the track in imminent danger of being run over. The baggage master called to him to get off, but he turned and gazed steadily at him, not moving a step, and apparently not comprehending a word he said. The baggage master seized and bore him out of harm's way, when the cause of his strange action was made apparent, as he fell in a fit.

—— "Col. Marston, of the 2d N. H. Regiment," the Concord Democrat says, "is generally conceded to be one of the very best officers of the service. We learn that his appointment to a Brigadier Generalship has been earnestly recommended by the U. S. House Committee on Military Affairs and numerous other members of Congress. We hope, that if a vacancy should occur, Col. Marston will be promoted to fill it."

—— Only 13 genuine $100 bills on the Merrimack County Bank, are now in circulation.

—— Rev. Mr. Billings preached his farewell sermon in the Unitarian Church, Concord, on Sunday last, from the following text: "For a great door and effectual is opened unto me and there are many adversaries." Mr. Billings left on Tuesday for Port Royal, S.C.

—— The Dover correspondent of the Boston Journal states that fifteen out of fifty-five of the men recruited in that city for the Ninth Regiment, were rejected by the Surgeon.

—— Lieut. J. F. McQuesten, of Litchfield, has been appointed Aid to Gen. McClellan. He graduated at West Point last year and has been in active service in the 2d U. S. Cavalry.

☞ An anonymous correspondent sends us the following:—

Kingston Plains, N. H., the Banner Town of the State,—205 enrolled, and the number gone is 91—nearly one-half.—Good for old Kingston. H.

☞ The Indiana Democratic State Convention, on Wednesday, was very largely attended. Thomas A. Hendricks was chosen President. A committee of one from each Congressional district was appointed to prepare a series of resolutions. Governor Wickliffe addressed the Convention. He was for the Union, provided the rights of the South and slavery were not interfered with. Before doing anything more, he would pause to "see what we are fighting for." If it is to free the negroes, let not another drop be shed. He would hang the leading rebels and balance the rope with the abolitionists. The abolitionists control every department of the government, and were worse than the rebels.

A LASTING NEGOTIATION.—The sutler at Fort Warren a few months since took in charge for safe keeping the gold coin of two prisoners. Finding it a premium, and desiring to turn a penny or more, he sold it for 8 per cent. premium. A day or two since, the prisoners having been notified of their release, made demand on the sutler for their funds. The sutler, after trying in vain to induce them to take Treasury Notes, was under the necessity of repurchasing gold at a premium of 18 per cent.

☞ Two cotton gins are being built in Bridgewater, Conn., for a South American firm. The frames and other wood work are of solid mahogany. The wood alone for the two machines cost more than $200

THE REBELLION.

An attempt was made on Tuesday, the 22d, to capture the rebel gunboat Arkansas, at Vicksburg, but in consequence of a misunderstanding the mortars below failed to work, and the Essex boldly attacked the rebel craft alone; the Queen came to her aid and ran into the Arkansas, making her tremble from stem to stern. Both boats then returned up the river. One man was killed and two wounded. The rebel account puts the affair in a different light, of course, stating that five of our boats were sunk and disabled.

There is a rumor at Norfolk that the rebels are about to attempt to run through our fleet on James River, and recapture Norfolk; and it is said the secessionists of the latter place are ready to rise on their approach.

More vigorous measures are said to have been decided upon for the suppression of treason in Maryland and the other border States.

All the male inhabitants of Luray, Va., have been arrested and lodged in the court house by order of Gen. Pope, preparatory to administering the oath of allegiance.

The rebels recently captured and burnt a dispatch boat, 150 miles above Vicksburg. They had a masked battery, and succeeded in hitting the boat's steam pipe, disabling her.

The N. Y. Tribune's dispatch from Memphis says, "Price has sent 200 cannon across the Mississippi river near Napoleon, and is endeavoring to cross his whole army. The rebels say that Price is to command in Missouri, Hindman in Arkansas, and Magruder to be over both, inaugurating a vigorous campaign. The Union forces are ample to check them."

On Monday Gen. McClellan issued orders to the army for every man to be ready for action at a moment's notice. It is thought that an attack from Jackson may be expected at any time.

The New York Times' army correspondent says that there is little doubt that the enemy is concentrating a considerable force at a point between City Point and Petersburg, near the latter place. It is feared they intend to harass our transports, and, if possible, cut off our communication with Fortress Monroe. And the World's correspondent says:—

All talk of rebel demonstrations in other directions, are feints meant to conceal their real design, which is to capture or destroy Gen. McClellan's army, and then march against the North. Everything conspires to show the necessity to fill up the old regiments of the armies before Richmond, without an hour's delay. The whole power of the rebellion is gathering there for a final blow.

Brig. Gen. Hatch is relieved from his present command in the army of Virginia.

New York, on Thursday, was filled with rumors of fighting on the Peninsula.

Polson, with 180 guerrillas, and a lot of horses, guns, &c., was captured in Bollinger Co., Mo., on Tuesday. 10 were killed, and many wounded. We did not lose a man.

The Chicago Times has a dispatch from Memphis, 28th, giving an improbable story, received through rebel channels, that ten iron-clad gunboats, armed with from 10 to 30 guns each, and mailed with 6-inch iron planks, had arrived off Mobile harbor, from England; and that three others were on their way,—this being the fleet ordered in Europe by the Southern Confederacy.

☞ The President on Wednesday commissioned the following named captains in the navy to be Admirals on the retired list under the recent act of Congress: Charles Stuart, George C. Read, Wm. C. Shubrick, Joseph Smith, George W. Storer, Francis H. Gregory, Elie A. F. Lavalette, S. B. Stringham, and Hiram Paulding. The following captains are reported to be Rear Admirals on the active list: David G. Farragut, L. M. Goldsborough, F. D. Peck, A. H. Foote.

The law provides that nine Rear Admirals upon the active list shall be selected by the President, by and with the advice of the Senate, in time of war, from those officers upon the active list not below the rank of Commander, who have distinguished themselves, or who hereafter shall eminently distinguish themselves by courage, skill and genius in their profession. In time of peace, vacancies to this grade shall be filled by regular promotion from the list of Commodores. Rear Admirals rank with Major Generals, and the pay of those on the active list, when at sea, is $5000; on shore duty, $4000; on leave of absence, $3000.

REBELLION RECORD.—This valuable publication, edited by Frank Moore and published by G. P. Putnam, New York City, has reached its twentieth number. It is, as it were, a winnowing machine, that separates the grain from the chaff, and presents, in a handsome form, the facts and incidents of the war.

☞ A Norwegian vessel, having a large number of immigrants on board, lately passed through the Welland Canal, on its way to the upper lakes. Think of a ship from the North of Europe lying at the dock at Chicago, in the central regions of this vast continent.

A PSALM OF LIFE.

BY LONGFELLOW.

What the Heart of the Young Man said to the Psalmist.

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
"Life is but an empty dream!"
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the grave is not its goal!
"Dust thou art, to dust returnest,"
Was not spoken of the soul.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end and way,
But to act that each to-morrow
Finds us farther than to-day.

Art is long, and Time is fleeting,
And our hearts, though stout and brave,
Still like muffled drums are beating
Funeral marches to the grave.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of Life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife!

Trust no future—how'er pleasant!
Let the dead past bury its dead!
Act—act in the living Present!
Heart within and God o'erhead!

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us,
Footprints on the sands of time;

Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate,
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

Proposals

BUILDING AND EQUIPPING TWO FIRST CLASS AND THREE SECOND CLASS LIGHT VESSELS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
Washington City, June 25, 1862.

Separate sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 m, on SATURDAY, the 9th of August, 1862, for building and equipping two first class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length from aft side of stern post to the fore side of main stem, 98 feet; breadth of beam, moulded, 23 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of limber strake to top of beam, 11 feet; tonnage about 302.

The Board will also receive proposals until 12 m, on MONDAY, the 28th of July, 1862, for building and equipping three second class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length between perpendiculars, 81 feet 6 inches; breadth of beam, moulded, 21 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of limber strake to top of beam, 10 feet 6 inches; tonnage about 150.

The white oak to be of the best live-oast timber, and the yellow pine of the finest grain untapped southern timber. The printed specifications by which the vessels are to be constructed, and which will, with the drawings now in the hands of, and form a part of the contracts, can be had on application to the Light-house Board, or to the Lighthouse Inspector at Portland, Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, at which places, also, the plans and drawings may be seen and examined.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to receive any vessel not built in strict conformity to the terms of the contract; and no contract will be considered as binding until it shall have been approved by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury. No proposal will be received or considered, unless from persons engaged in ship building, and each offer must be accompanied by the signatures of two responsible persons as sureties for the faithful fulfillment of the contract.

Each vessel must be distinctly specified, with the sum for which the bidder proposes to build and equip her according to the drawings and specifications, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed by each bidder, as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

A drawing of the vessel contracted for will be furnished to the contractor, to which he will be required to adhere strictly; to this end the mould loft lines will be taken off and the mould examined by the superintending officer, who will be assigned to the duty by this Board, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and who will be required to see that the work is executed and the materials used are in strict conformity to the terms and specifications of the contract, and who must certify to the same in writing, before the vessel will be received, and payments authorized to be made.

Persons making proposals to build any of these light-vessels may make any change or alterations by which the cost will be lessened, without using inferior materials, and in making such suggestions the precise character of the change or alteration will be named, with the amount saved thereby. The proposals for each vessel will state the time required to complete the vessel, and deliver it to the agent of the Board at such place as may be agreed upon; the same to be named in the bid. All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for building Light-vessels," and then enclosed in another envelope, and addressed to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington, D C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

Any person submitting a proposal may be present, and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

By order of the Light-house Board:

MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

NOTICE TO THE

Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our Volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as good MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the BEST. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

NOTICE. The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

PORTSMOUTH, July 31st.

The volunteers of Camp Towle are highly indebted to Knight's Brass Band for their entertainment on Wednesday evening, who by their delightful music enlivened a few hours of camp life. We also return thanks to Capt. Geo. Wallace Tucker, for his generous donation of boards, &c.; and also to Barker, Adams & Co., John H. Bailey, and many others who have given articles for our comfort. Mr. Avery, (the successor of Jos. P. Morse,) and the Editors of the Chronicle, are furnishing the daily papers for our use, and will continue to do so for the remainder of our stay. The volunteers, one and all, hold these gentlemen in kind remembrance.

We highly appreciate the patriotism of a number of gentlemen, who, by their proffered bounties, in addition to those offered by the city and State, are endeavoring to fill up our ranks.

As we shall remain in Camp Towle but a short time longer, we call upon all who can do so to join us, and raise our company to its maximum standard before we leave. Let cowards and sympathizers with the rebellion stand aloof, but keep silent; but all who have a heart's pulsation for their country, fall in! fall in!

THE VOLUNTEERS.

☞ Circus lots in Portsmouth are becoming scarce. New dwelling houses drove the "pavilions" and "side-shows" away from Mason's Hill; and of late years the elephant has generally stopped on Islington corner of Cabot street when he has come to town. But workmen are now engaged in building a cellar for a dwelling at this location, and it seems as if the institution would have to "move on." It may be a pleasant reminder, to those who attended, to add that the "Hippodrome" pitched its tents on land near Frenchman's Lane.—Vive la Humbug!

☞ A letter from this city in the Journal of Commerce, gives an interesting account of the immense amount of labor performed at this Naval Station during the past year, in repairing and fitting out our ships of war. To those who have the pleasure to know the excellent and accomplished officer in charge, it is unnecessary to say, that the high compliment awarded to him, and it is remarkable praise, as to the good conduct in the yard, is amply deserved. The writer remarks:—

"Great praise is due to Capt. Pearson, Commander of the yard, and to the officers under him, for their untiring energy, vigilance and integrity, in executing the heavy task committed to them. The great force under them has been kept in constant activity, the click of hammer, the rattle of wheels, and the rush of steam, being often heard through the night, while not one instance of disorder or crime has been known."

☞ A correspondent writing from Wells Beach, Me., speaks in the highest terms of the Atlantic House there, of which Mr. John Storer is the worthy landlord this season. The smooth, hard beach there is three miles long, and one of the finest in the country, for walking, riding or bathing. Gentlemen and families from Portsmouth and this vicinity, have of late years visited there much more than formerly, and all give good report of the Atlantic House and surroundings. It is a pretty twenty miles' ride from here; and the Navy Yard, Kittery Point, York Village and Beach, Cape Neddick, Freeman's Hotel, Bald Head Cliff, the Nubble, Mount Agamenticus, and all, may be visited on the way, if you choose.

☞ We understand that the extensive improvements contemplated at Rindge's Wharf, the present terminus of the Concord & Portsmouth R. R., are to be commenced upon forthwith. The first work will be driving piles across the outer end of the wharf, the space within which is to be filled with gravel, etc. The store-house on the wharf will be demolished.

☞ A man-of-war's man, lately returned from sea, was riding in the P. S. & P. railroad cars a day or two since, and at one of the stations was observed regarding two young ladies on the platform very attentively. Presently, he exclaimed—"Have the women got so lazy that they have to have bags to carry their hair in?"

Mr. Chronicle:—There are seventy-six swallows' nests built, and being built, under the eaves of the new School House on Cabot street, each having two old and six young ones, making eight birds to a nest, or 608 in all;—some of the droppings of which fall and adhere to the sides of the building, and to the windows.—If allowed to go on, this will after a while become serious daubing; but for humanity to the feathered chirpers, that swallow flies and annoying bugs, let them stay till they have reared their broods, and then put in some pieces to stop the holes. B.

☞ The Christian Society and Sabbath School, of this city, went on a Picnic to the grove near Newmarket Junction, on Thursday. Although the weather was not throughout the day, quite as pleasant as might have been desired, we doubt not they enjoyed themselves highly.

☞ The enrollment of those in this city liable to do military duty has given the following result:—

WARD I.
Whole number enrolled	546
No. in the service of the U. S.	99
WARD II.
Whole number enrolled	595
No. in the service	75
WARD III.
Whole number enrolled	286
No. in the service	39

In addition are the following whose residences are not given:—

Liable to do duty	38
Died while in the service	4
TOTAL.
Whole number enrolled	1465
" " in the service	255

These figures show that a large proportion of the eleven hundred persons enlisted here, belonged in other places.

☞ We re-publish this morning, Longfellow's exquisite poem—"A psalm of life," which we printed in the first number of the Chronicle—just ten years ago, to-day. The sad affliction which has recently befallen the poet, and the still more sad effect which that affliction has had upon the poet, give to this poem a newer and sadder interest to all who admire his genius, and appreciate his melodious verse.

☞ Zachariah Randall, of Newcastle, employed at the Navy Yard, on Thursday forenoon, fell into the hold of the Colorado, a distance of about 25 feet, and, striking the keelson, severely fractured one of his thighs, besides receiving other injury.

☞ Gen. Totten, Chief of Corps of Engineers is about to make an inspection of the military works on the Atlantic seaboard.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 18th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils, Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Ears, Swelled Nose, Ulcers, Large Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Fresh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Sties, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money; and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. The Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

SALERATUS AND CREAM OF TARTAR. The public, hereabouts, are well aware of the fact that Dr. Baker condemns Saleratus and Cream of Tartar as injurious to the teeth and stomach. The following letters, from medical men in New York, show that he is not alone in this opinion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25, '59.

Dear Sir:—I have been interested and instructed in reading your article in the Portsmouth Journal.

I was not aware that either saleratus or cream of tartar would have the effect shown upon the teeth you sent me. It would seem that the animal as well as the earthy matter was attacked by them.

It will at least prevent the use of them as Dentifrices. Yours truly, V. MOTT.
DR. BAKER.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your note of the 1st inst., I have no hesitation in saying that the use of saleratus, and of cream of tartar in bread, renders the bread less wholesome than bread made with yeast. These drugs, too, impair the nutritive quality of the flour; and when they are used in a concentrated form, or for a long period of time in any form, must render the teeth brittle. They are of great use when properly applied; but as commonly used in the baking of bread, they impair the action of the digestive organs,—and then serve to undermine the general health. On seeing the crumbling teeth which you have sent me, I am reminded of an accident which happened to me when a student. I was preparing a skeleton for my own use, and had the bones boiling in a cauldron of water. To expedite the process, whiten the bones, and remove the oily matter from them, I added about half a pound of saleratus to the cauldron of water. But, to my surprise, on removing the bones from the cauldron, I found that they had been nearly destroyed by the action of the saleratus upon them. The spongy parts of the bones had dissolved away: the other portions were powdery, light, and brittle, so that I could make no use of them.
Very resp'ly yours JNO. WATSON.

Somebody says that our passions are older than our reason, because passions are born with us, but reason don't follow till a long time after. This is a slander upon all babies. When a baby gets spanked don't he holler? Yes. And hasn't he got a reason? Yes—and a mighty good reason, too.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 23, 1866. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some tea or two bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintance, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing milky sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH BOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating; and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have neither had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1853. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are affected as I have been, with a humor, which prevented my quiet rest and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me. As I would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26d

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MATHEWS' arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, AUG. 2, 1862. NO. 2.

The Chronicle.

☞ According to the California papers of the last of June just received, Miss Lizzie Parker has made an excellent sensation in two difficult operatic characters—those of Adalgisa, in "Norman," and Leonora, in "Trovatore." If there is not an organized system of puffing going on in favor of this lady, without any foundation in her real merit, she must be rapidly ascending the eminence of artistic fame, with a future of great brilliancy before her.

☞ Lt. Hunter, commanding the Queen of the West in the Mississippi Flotilla, stands accused of cowardice in the late engagement with the rebel gunboat Arkansas. It is alleged that he made no effort to bring his vessel into action, and even refused to render any assistance to the Carondelet while she was engaged in close quarters, although signalled to do so.

☞ Brig. Gen. Geo. F. Shepley, arrived at Portland on Tuesday, on a brief visit.—He had declined any public reception. But he was received by hundreds of his friends and neighbors at the depot, who greeted him with many hearty cheers. Notwithstanding the desire of Gen. S. to enjoy the society of his family and relatives in private, he will probably address his fellow citizens before leaving for New Orleans, which will probably occur in a day or two.

☞ A loud cry for onions comes from the camp at Harrison's Landing. Ten cents is paid for a single onion, because scurvy is appearing, and there is nothing like onions to keep off scurvy. Government is implored to send along some onions. The cry of one correspondent is "liberty and onions, now and forever, one and inseparable!—Send us onions, and you send us vigor, life, victory. Send us onions."

☞ Counterfeit Stamps of the denominations of twenty-four cents are in circulation. The genuine Stamps have figures 24 in each upper corner, and U. S. in the upper corners, U in the left hand corner and S in the right hand corner; also, the face of Washington in the spurious Stamp is broader than in the genuine.

THE LIES OF THE TIMES.—The London Times of the 15th instant, in its city article, says that in the shops of the good city of Boston placards are exhibited with the announcement: "No English merchandize sold here." The Boston Journal replies, "This is a falsehood, manufactured out of whole cloth, as everybody in the city can safely testify."

☞ The New York sporting gentlemen, in Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, are discussing the question, which side of a lady on horseback shall a gentleman ride? It is well to "keep on the right side" of the dear creatures, when you can; and in this case as well as every other, beyond doubt.

☞ The wool clip of Maine, the present year, has greatly exceeded that of any former year. It is computed that Somerset county has yielded 150,000 pounds, and that the yield in Franklin county reaches 115,000 pounds.

☞ A correspondent of the Oswego Commercial proposes that political conventions nominate only men over 45 years old, leaving the younger men to go into the army. The editor is curious to learn the age of the correspondent.

☞ The steamer Huntsville has captured a British schooner and rebel steamer, with valuable cargoes of cotton and southern products.

☞ Yallow Jack has moved North.—The ship Londonderry now lying at St. Johns, N. B., brought a case of the yellow fever with her. She touched last at Havana.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1862.

LOW AND UNIFORM POSTAGE.

We have been favored by the Hon. John Hutchins of Ohio, with a copy of his very elaborate speech on low and uniform postage, delivered in the House of Representatives, on the 19th of May. Mr. Pliny Miles, our American Rowland Hill, has at last found an able coadjutor in Congress to carry out his long cherished principles of postal reform. Mr. Hutchins credits his postal statistics very largely to Mr. Miles, and, taken all in all, this production is undoubtedly the most comprehensive and able speech on the postal subject ever delivered in the American Congress. It is worthy of the best days of Rowland Hill's great postal reformation, and to us it has this great advantage, that it embodies all the leading facts, figures and experiences of low and uniform postage throughout the world, that have been evolved during the last 20 years. We are no longer left in a field of doubt and conjecture, for low postage has been proved a complete success, in every particular, in commerce and social life, and in financial returns. Sir Rowland Hill's postal reform measures went into effect, Mr. Hutchins informs us, on the 5th of January, 1840, and since that time the number of letters written and sent by post in Great Britain has averaged 371,000,000 annually. Previous to the penny postage (in 1839) there were only 76,000,000 letters. In the United States the number of letters for the last twenty years has only been 94,000,000 yearly. The English Post Office revenue in 1860, was $18,600,000, and the postal revenue of the United States, $9,200,000. Our postage averages three cents a letter, and our people only pay in postage 29 cents yearly to each person, while the annual sum paid in Great Britain to each person is 66 cents. When our postage was four or five times as high as it is now (in 1845) each person only paid 22 cents a year in postage.

The old idea that high postages were most profitable to the Government and the Post Office treasury, has now become completely exploded. To induce the public to support the Post Office well, and carry on a large correspondence, postage must be low and postal facilities ample. The people of London, with a two cent uniform postage, write an average of 25 letters to each person yearly, for circulation in the city, while the New Yorkers only write one letter and a half to each person. This makes a daily circulation of 202,000 local letters in London, and only 4800 in New York. The people of London (numbering 2,500,000) write 440,000 letters daily, and the people of New York (numbering about 1,000,000) 54,500. The entire population of Great Britain write an average of 1,545,000 letters every day, and 564,000,000 in a year. Our population write 504,000 letters daily, and 184,000,000 in a year. But the most astonishing fact connected with postal statistics that we remember to have seen, is given by Mr. Hutchins on the 19th page of his speech. He says the total number of letters written by the people of the United States since the Declaration of Independence, in 1776, was 2,390,000,000, or two billions three hundred and ninety millions Directly beside this he tells that the people of Great Britain, from 1856 to 1860, wrote 2,615,000,000 letters, or over three hundred millions more letters in five years than the Americans have in eighty-five years!

The most important portion of Mr. Hutchins' argument, in the opinion of many, will be seen in the facts and proofs given of the financial effects of low postage. He takes the ground, first, that "the rate of postage which will produce the largest net income is the most profitable to the government." He gives as these important official facts:—The net income or postal profit derived from the mail service by the British Post Office in 1860, was $9,903,728, under a two cent postage; while in 1839, with letter postage averaging twelve cents a letter, the net income was only $8,390,206.—In six years—1840 to 1845—when our letter postage in the United States averaged twelve to fifteen cents a letter, our gross postal revenue was $26,954,110; while in six years of low postage—from 1852 to 1857—three to five cents a letter, the postal revenue was $41,698,147. Were our correspondence by letter doubled or quadrupled, with postage at two cents, the expenses would not be increased ten per cent; the local expenses would be no more. Then, with a uniform rate for letters, and a simple scale and a few rates on printed matter, with other modes of simplifying the service, the labor in our Post Offices would probably be lessened one-half.

The cost of handling and distributing letters in Great Britain,—the expense in the Post Offices, independent of transportation,—as stated by Mr. Pliny Miles in his 'Postal Reform,' in 1839, when postage was high and the rates numerous, was three cents a letter; while in 1854, with a single low rate, it was only seven mills a letter.—These are some of the numerous and palpable advantages of low and uniform postage. Who can compute the advantages that flow from the enlarged correspondence which is the direct result of low postage? During the reign of high postage, the number of letters never exceeded 40,000,000 per annum; and for nearly ten years the number remained stationary. In 1848, (with a lower rate,) there were 54,000,000 letters sent through the mails; in 1852, 104,000,000; in 1856, 152,000,000, and in 1860, 184,000,000 letters.

Mr. Hutchins' speech is printed in large type and on good paper, and in typographical appearance, as well as in amount of information, presents a strong contrast to most of the speeches of members that are distributed through the mails. It is published by the New York publishers, D. Appleton & Co.,—and from a notice in some of the New York papers, we observe that it is furnished by mail or otherwise, in either of two styles: with a cover at 10 cents a copy, or without cover at six cents. It ought to have a large circulation—and we are certain that an early day, the principles so ably advocated by the honorable gentleman will become a law.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Twelve or fourteen members of the Shaker Family in Canterbury, have enlisted for the war.

——Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore has offered two hundred and twenty-five dollars for nine men to fill up Capt. Allen's company in the Third Regiment. Col. Gilmore has also offered a general bounty of $500, to be divided among those who may enlist in Concord.

—— About one hundred of the citizens of Laconia and Gilford have enrolled their names, and are to organize themselves into an independent company, for drill practice, and are to be called "Minute Men." This is a good move.

—— The Keene Sentinel says,—"There were men enough enlisted at our last advices to fill the Ninth Regiment; but the medical examinations are unusually rigid, and many will be rejected. We should think, however, that by the close of the present week the regiment would be filled. Col. Fellows resigns, we understand, and Lieut. Col. Stevens takes command of the regiment. O. N. Lull, of Milford, is reported to have received the appointment of Lieut. Colonel."

☞ A Baltimore correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post says:

Applications have been made by Marylanders for permission to raise a brigade of colored Union men in Baltimore, to be 5000 strong.

An intelligent negro was asked a day or two ago whether he could raise a regiment of negroes in Baltimore. "Five of them," he promptly replied. "And would they fight?" "Just try us!" was his answer.

The condition of affairs in Baltimore and Maryland excites the attention of the government just now. The traitors increase in Baltimore, and in the slaveholding counties. There is no doubt that the legislation of Congress has made the slaveholding citizens of the State more bitterly disloyal than ever before. For the most part they were disloyal when the rebellion broke out.

☞ There was a heavy thunder storm in Newburyport on Wednesday afternoon—rain, hail, wind, thunder and lightning, all at once. The house of Mr. John Coffin in Newbury, (Oldtown) was struck, and set on fire, but not much damaged. The lightning also struck the Oldtown church just over the porch, scattering the shingles in all directions.

☞ The side-wheel steamer Maratanzo, which was reported by the Richmond papers as having been burnt after she got ashore, to prevent her falling into the hands of the Confederates, arrived at Baltimore on Friday last to make repairs to her builder, which was damaged while she was ashore.

☞ In Massachusetts, several towns have limited the time for paying bounty to recruits. At Fall River those get the town bounty who enlist by August 7,—not afterwards. In Worcester, August 4 is the last day. It would be well to do the same thing here,—for men are wanted now.

☞ The Chicago Tribune publishes an official list of names of Illinois soldiers absent from their regiments, and who are notified to return or be reported as deserters. It occupies seven columns and a half! Only seventeen regiments are included.

☞ A dispatch from Bangor says volunteers have been pouring in for the last two days at an unprecedented rate. Nearly all the towns throughout the State have raised their full quotas, and many have furnished a surplus.

☞ The latest foreign advices do not indicate any movement of an official character on the part of the European Governments, bearing reference to intervention in American affairs.

"THE PRINTER," for July, is a fine number of a magazine that should be in the hands of every printer. Published by John Greason & Co., New York city, at only $1 per year.

THE REBELLION.

Two rebel schooners were captured up a creek in the James River, on the 27th by an expedition sent out by Com. Wilkes, and brought out without molestation, altho' a force of rebel cavalry were stationed only three-quarters of a mile distant. Two other schooners and a steamer, all scuttled, were seen at the same place.

A Leavenworth dispatch, 31st, says that advices from the Southern expedition state that our troops were falling back to Hudson, crossing the Neosho forty miles south of Fort Scott. The cause of the backward movement is not stated.

It is reported that the rebel steamer Star of the West, 22 guns, is up the Yazoo river. She is iron-plated to a considerable extent. The W. H. Webb, a powerful ocean towboat, is also up the Yazoo river, and has been iron-plated something in the style of the Sumter, and constructed as a ram.—They have also the Mobile, mounting one gun. The Star of the West and Webb carried up 108 guns at the time New Orleans was captured. At Liverpool, sixty-five miles up the river, the rebels have ingeniously contrived a raft, which is a perfect lock against ascending boats. There is also a battery on shore. The rebels have thirty river steamers up the Yazoo.

Gen. Pope's entire army moved forward from Warrenton on Thursday.

The New Orleans correspondent of the N. Y. Herald states that Rear Admiral Farragut will capture the ram Arkansas if he loses every vessel in his fleet to do it.—Gen. Magruder has arrived at Camp Moore, and he expects to attack New Orleans after collecting more force.

Guerilla bands have been operating on the people in the vicinity of New Orleans, who, encouraged by the near locality of the Union troops, have given utterance to Union feelings. Gen. Butler has in one instance taken several influential citizens of the parish of St. John as hostages for the safety of a Union man named Burbank, who has been carried off by the rebels.

The Mobile gunboat story is discredited by the Government. A dispatch to the N. Y. Post says that the Navy Department has positive knowledge that but one war vessel, purchased by the rebels, is trying to escape from England, and the Tuscarora is after her.

Gen. Hatch's cavalry is scouring Virginia from the enemy's lines to Little Washington, but is not meeting with any large force.

Seven of Com. Porter's fleet arrived at Fortress Monroe, on Wednesday morning, and five others were hourly expected. The officers and crews of all the vessels think they are to reduce Fort Darling, and intimate an entire willingness to undertake the job.

A GOLD MINE IN OHIO.—Gold has been discovered near Carol Dover, in Tuscarawas county, Ohio. The Dover Iron Company had been drilling for iron for some time past, and a few days ago the auger struck a rich vein of gold quartz, at a depth of about three hundred and seventy-five feet from the surface. The quartz seems to be full of gold, and several gentlemen pronounce it full as rich as the best California quartz. The excitement at the discovery is so great, that the company has been compelled to enclose the ground with a stout frame to enable the workmen to go on with drilling. The quartz becomes more auriferous as the auger descends.

THE NEW STAMPS.—The postage stamps which are to come into circulation on the first of August, besides having the amount of their value in figures upon the upper corners, may be recognized readily by their colors and vignettes, which are as follows:

3 cents,	Washington,	Pink.
5 cents,	Jefferson,	Chocolate.
10 cents,	Washington,	Green.

☞ The New York correspondent of the Boston Post says:—

"Parson Brownlow is soon to be at the bottom of a political sensation. In the New York Weekly will soon appear a letter, from the 'fighting parson's' pen, in which he argues in favor of freeing, arming and enlisting such slaves as reach our lines, as being, in his opinion, the necessary, and only resource for the safety of the Union cause. He says, moreover, that the North cannot be too prompt in adopting a measure which heretofore has been counted as a part of the stock in trade of ranting radicals. He evidently thinks 'the time is short.'"

☞ The ladies of the Perkins street Baptist Society, East Somerville, Mass., adopted the following spirited and warlike resolution on Monday evening:

Resolved, That if the MEN of Somerville will not enlist to rescue our country from her extreme peril, the WOMEN will,—and when they go, will leave their superfluous garments to those men who choose inglorious ease at home.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch states that the clerks of some of the Departments are commencing to form companies.

☞ It is quite generally thought that drafting will be resorted to in most of the loyal States, by the middle of August, if there is a deficiency of volunteers. It is said the quota of Michigan is filled up. The Governor of Iowa, at his urgent request, has been authorized to make a draft, whenever and wherever he shall think proper,—in order to reach evil disposed traitors, who are discouraging enlistments.

☞ On Wednesday afternoon between 400 and 500 rebel prisoners confined at Fort Delaware, took the oath of allegiance. The Louisiana Tigers seemed especially anxious to take the oath. That evening there was a disposition among the violent secessionists to attack their comrades, but the outburst was soon checked.

☞ The Manchester papers give lengthy reports of the excursion which many of their citizens made on Wednesday, to what the Mirror calls "the quiet old town of Portsmouth." No definite arrangements having been made here, previous to their arrival, for carriages, boats, &c., each looked out for number one, and proceeded to enjoy himself or herself in the best manner possible.

As salt water was a new institution to a majority of the party, a grand rush was made for the wharves, which were found after a diligent search. Everything was brought into requisition in the shape of boats, from the dingiest of dories to some fine yachts, and one or two of the former rolled over and gave their occupants a taste of salt water.

The visitors acknowledge their indebtedness to Com. Pearson, Hon. H. D. Walker, Aaron Young, Esq., the proprietors of the beautiful boat "Sunny Side," and others, for their efforts to make their visit a pleasant one. The American in its report makes a suggestion which we hope our Manchester friends will remember. It says:—

The completion of the Candia branch railroad now gives our citizens a grand opportunity to visit the seaport city of New Hampshire, and to become acquainted with its enterprising inhabitants.

☞ Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody will preach at the Unitarian Church, to-morrow.

Rev. Henry Blanchard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will lecture at the Universalist Church to morrow evening, at half past 7 o'clock.

"OLD KITTERY ALL RIGHT."—This old and ever loyal town has already between 70 and 80 brave and hardy sons in the U. S. army and navy. Yet on the President's recent call for 300,000 more troops, she promptly responded thereto at a legal meeting of the town, held in Armory Hall on Thursday afternoon, July 31st, by then and there voting to authorize the selectmen to raise and appropriate the sum of $6400 for Bounties, to be paid to her volunteers for the war, being $200 per man. Kittery's quota is now thirty-two men.

After the appropriation was made the following resolutions were presented to the meeting and adopted by acclamation :—

Resolved, That the citizens of Kittery are now, as they ever have been, true to "the Union, the Constitution and enforcement of the Laws" of our country, both State and National; and in the temper and spirit of that "more perfect union" to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," which was ordained and established by our noble and patriotic Fathers of the Revolution, and expressed by them in the Preamble of the Constitution of the United States of America.

Resolved, That the seventy and odd of our sons already in active service in the Navy and on our battle fields, with the pecuniary thousands which we've already appropriated and expended* for our country's service, wants and safety, we present to her and to the world's eye, as sure earnests that the foregoing resolve is no vain and ambiguous boast,—but that we are true to works as well as faith, and like St. Paul of old, we show the latter by the former.

Resolved, That now again, in our country's further perils and necessities, we are ready and willing to present her with our full quota of men and means,—and more if need be. But as the immediate exigencies of our national life at once need not only new recruits, but all the drilled and disciplined forces in reserve at our forts and drill camps; and believing that the forces at Fort McClary, who are now under admirable drill and discipline by their year's service and practice at arms at that station, may afford the country better service by facing the rebel foe than by remaining at ease and in the quiet and sinecure military glory of Fort McClary,—therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary of War be at once advised by the Clerk of this town to give these disciplined warriors an early opportunity to march to the tented field, where officers as well as men can, if they will, exhibit their "straps" and valor in acts as well as words of chivalry and expressed desires for "deeds of noble daring."

Resolved, That what Kittery has already done, as well as other loyal places and parties, demands this of these yearling veterans: and further,

Resolved, That when they march, old Kittery will not only have furnished her quota, but will promptly afford "Uncle Sam" an equally efficient, disciplined and valiant force to officer and man and defend—when defence is necessary—the quiet, rural retreat, and enjoy the salubrious zephyrs, &c., that play in and about old Fort McClary and vicinity.

Resolved, also, That should the commander and other officers, and any or all of the men at said fort, in their zeal for their country's defence and honor, so part for its and their glory and immortality as to seasonably anticipate the proposed requisition of the Secretary of War, and actively "volunteer," while such earnest and ready devotion would be highly creditable to them, yet, whether they do or do not thus offer themselves a "willing and chivalrous sacrifice" to "liberty or death," old Kittery will still and ever be true to her quotas, her country and God.

☞* Referring to the $3000 raised and appropriated by Kittery, last year, on the first call of the President for men and arms.

Thus speaks and acts old Kittery. Let none do worse, but all as well; better if they can.

August 1, 1862.

☞ In the Spring of 1861, a party of farmers who had assembled at "the store," in a town not far distant, were talking about their farms, cattle, &c., and one of them complained that the crows pulled up his corn. One of the party, whom we may call Jones, replied—"I'll tell you how to stop that. When you plant your corn, don't you plant any outside row, and the crows won't trouble it." The worthy farmer went his way. One day last Spring, very nearly the same party were again collected, and the same farmer expressed his fear that the crows would pull up his corn. "Why," said Jones, "I told you how to avoid that." "Yes I know you did; I remembered what you said, but when I got to the last row but one, I didn't exactly understand what you meant, and so I planted them all."

☞ A very heavy thunder storm passed over Boston and vicinity on Wednesday afternoon. The house of Mr. Richard Ward, in Roxbury, was struck about half-past 2 o'clock, and a daughter, a young lady about eighteen years old, instantly killed.—The house was set on fire, but the early presence of the fire department prevented its entire destruct on.

☞ At a meeting of the "New York Tribune Association," it was resolved that all persons employed in that establishment, who desire to volunteer for the war, should have $4 a week paid regularly, either on the field or to friends left behind.

☞ In Boston, the Bounty is paid to recruits for old regiments as soon as they are examined. To those in new regiments, it is paid when the regiment is full and organized,—not before.

☞ In the list of rear-admirals on the active list, the name of Samuel F. Dupont was mis-telegraphed F. D. Peck.

MORNING GLORIES.

BY MARIAN DOUGLAS.

Lightly the fragile, aerial blossoms
Open, in delicate beauty arrayed,
Gently awaked by the touch of the morning,
Budding to blossom, and blooming to fade;
Fading the soonest within the bright sunlight,
Lingering the longest within the deep shade.

So in our hearts, the best thoughts of our nature,
Thoughts that are sullied by contact with earth,
Which, from our noblest and best aspirations,
Spring in their beauty to bloom for the dark hour of sorrow,
Oft linger last in the darkness of sorrow,
Often fade first in the sunlight of mirth.

—Boston Transcript.

—"Life! we've been long together,
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear—
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh or tear;
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time;
Say not good night; but in some happier clime Bid me good morning."

—Rogers.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum has been expended in the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to try and upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I am in good health. M. LOWD.

EXETER, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented my rest by night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she has been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest, day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the diseases above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20o

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all disease.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

"LIST OF THE KILLED."

Mothers who sit in dumb terror and dread,
Holding that terrible list,
Fearing to look lest you see 'mid the dead
The name of the boy you have kissed—

Kissed e'en as those who in anguish and pain,
Kiss precious faces of clay,
E'en as you would had you shudderingly lain
That dear one in grave rolees away—

I pity you, sitting with faces so white,
Striving to parry the blow;
I know how that name will torture the sight—
Can fathom the depth of your woe.

By the pang that rent my desolate heart,
By the crushing weight of despair,
I know how you too will shudder and start,
Reading that dear loved name there.

I know you'll lush that passionate cry,
Thinking of him as he lies,
With beautiful face upturned to the sky,
Death veiling the glorious eyes.

"Fighting he fell?" Does a feeling of pride
Lighten your grief as you think
How brave was the boy that went from your side,
How he would not falter or shrink?

The mother's love triumphs. Men call women weak—
Ah, well, perhaps it is so!
I know there are tears e'en now on my cheek
For the boy that's lying so low.

I know that I start at each step on the stair,
With wistful glance turn toward the door,
Thinking, perchance, that my darling is there—
Peace, heart: he can come nevermore!

But still there's a thought that softens my woe—
Above there's a glorious list;
And one day I'll hear with rapturous glow
The name of the boy I have kissed.

DO YOU TAKE WAFERS?—The Cleveland Herald says:—

"On Saturday morning a countryman entered a store on Ontario street, for the purpose of trading. After ordering what he wanted he inquired of the clerk, 'Do you take wafers in pay?' 'Wafers!' exclaimed the astonished clerk. 'Yes, wafers, wafers. That's all the sort of money I've got. I took them of a chap, and he said they are good.' 'Well,' said the clerk, "we take all sorts of good currency, but we haven't yet got to taking wafers.' 'But these are good ones,' said the countryman, 'red wafers, got a head on to 'em.' The clerk suddenly got an idea as to the state of the case, and did to look at the new currency, found them to be good three cent stamps, and decided he did 'take wafers in pay.'"

☞ A meeting was held in Bath, Me., on Monday, to consider the question of celebrating, at Fort Popham, on the Kennebec River, the founding there of the first civil government in the New World on the 29th day of August, 1607—two hundred and fifty-five years ago—thirteen years before the landing on Plymouth Rock. The meeting comprised a delegation of the Maine Historical Society, with whom the first idea originated, and a small representation from almost every county in the State.

☞ The Board of Survey, consisting of Capt. Hudson and Constructors Pook and Hanscom, who examined the Niagara upon her arrival at Boston, recommended to the Department that her bulwarks be cut down about four and a half feet, a light rail and hammock netting to take the place of the present heavy bulwarks, that she be pierced for a battery of twenty broadside guns on her berth deck, and ten broadside and two heavy guns on the present spar deck.

☞ Judge Heman Morse, one of the leading citizens of Dorset, Vt, was engaged in driving a mowing machine on his farm on Monday, when, by accident, he fell from his seat to the ground, directly in front of the machine. His body was mangled in a most shocking condition, the "knives" of the machine cutting the body in every conceivable shape. Both arms were completely severed, and the head, shoulders and breast were horribly disfigured. The accident was soon discovered by members of the family.

☞ The town registers in Massachusetts show a large falling off in marriages. The great number of young men in the army will increase the number of ladies in New England doomed to "single blessedness."

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Times' correspondent states that at noon on the 30th, two suspicious rebel craft, probably the Merrimac and Young America, cast anchor off Turkey Bend.—Our gunboat fleet, including the Galena, Monitor and others, anchored in line of battle off Light House Point. At 9 o'clock P. M. the position of affairs remained unchanged. A balloon reconnoisance above and near Fort Powhattan discovered no rebels or earthworks in that vicinity. A branch railroad has been discovered from the banks of James river, opposite Berkley's Landing, to the Petersburg road. Our armies are marching along in pursuance of a fixed plan, and it is believed that matters are so timed as to insure the safety at once of Washington and Gen. McClellan's army. There is a larger force operating against the enemy in Virginia than people generally are aware of.

A refugee from Charleston reports that two iron-clad rams similar to the Merrimac are being constructed at Charleston to destroy the blockading vessels. The fleet off Charleston harbor has been augmented, and it is now thought impossible for the vessels there to get out without capture. The rebel steamer Nashville is cornered under an eight gun battery in Dough Bay Sound, with the gunboats Paul Jones and Keystone State watching her.

Refugees say the rebels have nearly completed two more formidable gunboats in Yazoo river, which will soon come down the river.

Scouting parties, from Gen. Pope's army, find no enemy in force this side of Gordonsville. It is supposed that the rebels are constructing strong entrenchments.

Stringent orders have been issued by the War Department in regard to officers and privates of the army absent from their posts. On Monday, Aug. 11th, all leaves of absence and furloughs, except those given by the War Department, are to be annulled, and all officers capable of service are required forthwith to join their regiments, under penalty of dismissal from the service, or such penalty as a court martial may award, unless the absence be occasioned by lawful cause.

The rebels opened fire on the federal landing on the James River on Thursday night, and continued it with activity for considerable time. Four men were killed and a few wounded.

Rebel papers say that the steamer Cuba ran the blockade of Mobile on the 20th, with a full cargo of arms, ammunition, medicines and blankets. Grand Junction was occupied by the rebel forces on the 25th.—General Toombs has resigned. The Mobile News says one division of the Tupello army has been ordered eastward, and are expected in Mobile soon.

COUNTERFEITING. — Out of thirteen hundred and eighty-nine banks in the United States, only two hundred and fifty-three have escaped attempts at imitation by one or another of the many species of frauds. All the New York city notes are counterfeited except three,—and of these, two are closing institutions, and one does not issue any notes. The only State (besides Iowa, which has but one bank,) whose bank notes are not counterfeited, is Florida,—and the reason is because the genuine notes of the four banks in the State are all of doubtful value. So in all the seceded States, where the paper currency is much depreciated, counterfeiting is at a low ebb. Maryland has only four bank note issues not counterfeited out of thirty-three,—and of these four one is at a heavy discount.—Massachusetts, with one hundred and eighty-two banks, has only seven whose issues are not counterfeited. And yet Massachusetts is the only State where there is an association for the prevention of counterfeiting.—Of the two hundred and twenty-five banks in New York State, the issues of only forty-five are not counterfeited.

☞ A butcher named Bell died in New Albany, last Thursday under the following peculiar circumstances:—Sometime Tuesday afternoon, he was engaged in skinning a cow which had died of some unknown disease. While thus engaged he was bitten on the arm by a fly which had been feeding on the carcass. The bite excited no attention at the time, but soon began to swell and inflame, and became very painful. The swelling rapidly extended to all parts of the body, and at an early hour Thursday morning, he died in great agony.

☞ The 18th Maine regiment leaves Augusta for the seat of war this week. It is expected that the other three regiments will leave the State in two weeks from this time.

☞ It is stated that there are already more than thirty thousand applications for office under the internal revenue law.

☞ Wm. B. Astor's income is authoritatively stated to be $6000 per day.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A woman by the name of Mary Ann Campbell was arrested in Manchester on Thursday, for stealing from a dry goods store. She was seen to steal a small lot of dress trimmings from the same store a week previous, and was closely watched. But the clerks detected nothing until she stepped to the door to go out, when two corded skirts, which she had stolen, were seen to protrude from under her shawl. Many articles, previously stolen, were found at her boarding place. She is a married woman, but has separated from her husband. After her arrest she was put into a room in the third story of the City Hall: during the night she tore up the bed quilts, and having made a rude rope of them, she fastened one end to a chair and threw the other end out of the window, intending to let herself down by it to the ground. She made a bundle of her hoop skirts, parasol and shawls, and threw it out of the window, but the watchmen heard the bundle strike upon the sidewalk about 2 o'clock, and frustrated her design.

—— The Manchester American says that the manufacturing company of Suncook intend to erect another large factory in that village before the coming winter.—Lands have been purchased and preparations are being made to put in the foundation immediately. It is to be of brick, five stories high and sufficiently large for 600 looms.

—— Lieut. Col. Samuel G. Langley, of the 5th Regiment, arrived in Manchester on Friday, having received a furlough on account of sickness.

—— During a shower on Thursday, Mr. Abijah Reed of Amherst, 65 years of age, was instantly killed by lightning. He with two others was at work haying, and at the approach of the shower ran under a large tree, while the others sought protection under hay stacks.

—— The Statesman calls Acting Maj. Gen. Foster, of Nashua, "the wheel-horse of the Burnside expedition."

—— There are 1356 persons in Concord liable to do military duty. The number already in the service is 395. The number of enlistments in the city is not far from 900.

—— Rev. Ambrose Smith, of Boscawen, is in declining health, from pulmonary affection.

—— An Irish woman in Manchester declined to receive postage stamps in change, saying:—"Yisterday I tuk some, and when I got home I stuck them on the side of the house for safe keeping, and this morning niver a one could I get off."

—— At a war meeting in Newport, Paul J. Wheeler, Esq., offered to pay twenty-five men $10 each, if they would come forward and enlist for the war. On Monday last, nine of the number had been procured.

—— The Lancaster Republican says that Geo. W. McCrillis, of the Second Sharpshooters, reaching home in Colebrook on a furlough granted because of illness, was surrounded and maltreated by a gang of roughs. A warrant was issued and served upon one Lewis Lovering, who will be made to answer for his offence.

—— Mr. Anson Stark of Lyme, has enlisted in the 9th Regiment. Mr. Stark has six sons, four of whom have been for some time in the service. Another son, not yet of age, will probably enlist.

—— At the Commencement at Dartmouth College, on Thursday, the following honorary degrees were conferred:—

M.A.—Amasa Norcross, Fitchburg, Mass.; His Excellency Frederic W. Holbrook, Brattleborough, Vt.; Col. E. H. Stoughton, Bellows Falls, Vt.; Edward S. Tobey, Esq., Boston; Hon. Rufus F. Andrews, New York city; Prof. Ephraim Knight, New London.

D. D.—Rev. Daniel Fitz, Ipswich, Mass. Rev. John F. Fullonton, New Hampton.

LL. D.—Hon. Nathan Clifford, Portland, Me.; Hon. Nathaniel G. Upham, Concord.

—Mrs. Hannah Bickford, of Durham, a widow lady eighty-six years of age, made a visit to her relatives, recently, who are residing in the upper part of the State, making a journey of two hundred and fifty miles, which she performed with a horse and carriage, herself driving most of the way, and returning after an absence of two weeks, rather refreshed than fatigued by her tour.

☞ Hancock'th no unnaturalized alien is to be employed is any Navy Yard in the Union. All persons seeking employment, must, before they are accepted, produce certificates of naturalization, properly authenticated. This order will result in the discharge of 6000 men at the different stations.—The reason assigned for the adoption of this last order, is that unnaturalized foreigners obtain employment from the Government and then threaten to demand British protection if they are required to render military service.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Concord, July 29, 1862.

The State of New Hampshire will pay a bounty of $60 to each volunteer, upon his being mustered into the service of the United States, on or before the first day of September next, to enter any regiment from this State now in the field.

This is in addition to the bounty of the General Government of $25, and one month's advance pay.

NATHANIEL S. BERRY, Governor.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Concord, August 1, 1862.

GENERAL ORDERS.

I. All enlisted men now in the State of New Hampshire, belonging to any of the regiments from the State, to the Light Battery or Cavalry Battalion, who are able to travel, are directed to report themselves at once, in person, to Lieut. Col. Seth Eastman, Concord, N. H. Passes will be sent on application to Col. Eastman by letter.

II. All wounded or sick soldiers, not able to travel, are directed to send Col. Seth Eastman a statement of their case, signed by a physician of good standing, and attested before a justice of the peace; the certificate must state the full name of the soldier, his company and regiment, the character of his disability, how long he has been absent from his regiment, whether he has leave or not, and how long before, in his opinion, he will be fit to travel to Concord.

III. All soldiers belonging to the State of New Hampshire, in the State, who fail to report, as above directed, before the 20th day of August, will be advertised as deserters, and a reward offered for their apprehension. All recruiting officers in the State are ordered to report to Col. Seth Eastman, at once, the name, company and regiment of any enlisted man they may know, and state whether or not he has a proper furlough.

IV. The attention of all enlisted men is called to the following paragraph of General Order No. 65 from the War Department:—

"Enlisted men, absent from their regiments without proper authority, are, in fact, deserters, and not only forfeit all pay and allowances, but are subject to the penalties awarded by law to such offenders. No plea of sickness, or other cause not officially established, and no certificate of a physician in civil life, unless it be approved by some officer acting as a military commander, will hereafter avail to remove the charge of desertion, or procure arrears of pay, when a soldier has been mustered as absent from his regiment without leave."

By order of Nathaniel S. Berry, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

ANTHONY COLBY, Adjutant General.

REV. MR. GREENWOOD.—The Boston Post says,—

"Several war meetings had been held in Malden, but notwithstanding the eloquent speeches, recruiting progressed slowly. On Wednesday evening last there was a large meeting held, and most eloquent addresses were made, and the meeting was about to adjourn when Rev. Mr. Greenwood, of the Universalist church, who had before subscribed to the volunteer fund, arose, and in a brief speech aroused the people. He said—"We stand here deliberating what to do while the great question is to be decided by us, shall we any longer have a country? He said he wished to change the terms of his subscription from pay to action, and would pledge himself either to enlist or procure a substitute, and called upon his fellow-citizens to follow him. This did the work. Sixteen men were pledged on the spot, and among them Rev. Mr. Faunce, of the Baptist Church. By Saturday the quota of Malden will be filled."

THE STUDENTS' COMPANY.—The N. E. Students' Company of Cavalry is attached to the seventh squadron of Rhode Island cavalry, and is now encamped at Alexandria, Va. They represent four colleges, viz., Dartmouth, Norwich University, Bowdoin and Union. When they make their next march, they have received orders to leave tents, baggage wagons, and everything but their saddles and packs, taking two days' rations, and relying upon the inhabitants for subsistence.

☞ The Armory in Springfield, Mass., makes 14,000 stands of arms a month. In a short time that establishment, with five private shops in operation there, will be able to manufacture 35,000 guns per month. The armories at Providence, Hartford, Trenton, Bridesburgh, Vt., Ilion, and one or two other places, will each be able to furnish the Government with 200 guns per day. In a few months we shall be making first rate arms, at the rate of 600,000 per annum.

☞ The recent canonization of the forty Japanese martyrs at Rome cost nearly $2,000,000, $70,000 of which was presented by the Franciscans, and $30,000 by the Jesuits and Carmelites. The tapers used at the church were 55,000 in number, of the purest white wax, each weighing 3 lbs., and alone cost $25,000.

COTTON FROM THE SOUTHWEST.—The receipts of cotton at New York overland from the Southwest, reach 600 to 1000 bales per day, and altogether from one to two hundred thousand bales have been received. Some of it bears the marks of fire, having been rescued from the torch of the rebel cotton burners.

☞ The St. John Globe says that in Liverpool, N. S., on Sunday morning week, the "Mannion House" was burnt and one man, over 80 years of age, was so badly burned while attempting to rouse the sleepers, that he died. Several barely escaped in their night clothes.

☞ Germany has produced a substitute for gunpowder, in the form of starch and nitric acid. It is stated that its projectile is greater than that of common powder, and as it is not explosive before its ingredients are mixed, it is more safe and convenient for use. The Prussian and Austrian armies are, it is said, to adopt it, and no more "villainous saltpeire" need be dug from the earth.

RAILROAD LAW.—A conductor on the Brooklyn City Horse Railroad has been fined ten dollars for ejecting a man from the cars, who tendered a dollar bill for his fare of five cents, instead of specie. The act of ejection was held to be an assault.

☞ John B. Gough announced at a meeting in Boylston, Monday evening, his willingness to devote to his country and to liberty nine-tenths of his income, till the war ended. The Boston Post says he gets an average of $10,000 per year.

☞ The military train at Montreal has received orders to return to England. The English sergeants sent out to organize the Canada militia have also received orders to return to England.

LASELL FEMALE SEMINARY.—The next term of this excellent institution begins September 11th. See advertisement.

Proposals

BUILDING AND EQUIPPING TWO FIRST CLASS AND THREE SECOND CLASS LIGHT VESSELS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD,
Washington City, June 25, 1862.

Separate sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 m. on SATURDAY, the 9th of August, 1862, for building and equipping two first class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length from after side of stern post to the fore side of main stem, 98 feet; breadth of beam, moulded, 23 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 11 feet; tonnage about 232.

The Board will also receive proposals until 12 m. on MONDAY, the 28th of July, 1862, for building and equipping three second class light-vessels of the following dimensions:

Length between perpendiculars, 81 feet 6 inches; breadth of beam, moulded, 21 feet 6 inches; depth of hold from top of timber strake to top of beam, 10 feet 6 inches; tonnage about 150.

The white oak to be of the best sea-coast timber and the yellow pine of the finest grain untapped southern timber. The printed specifications by which the vessels are to be constructed and which will, with the drawings and plans, be attached to and form a part of the contracts, can be seen on application to the Light house Board, or to the Light-house Inspector at Portland, Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, at which places, also, the plans and drawings may be seen and examined.

The Board reserves the right to reject any proposal, or to refuse to enter into any contract, if not in strict conformity to the terms of the contract; and no contract will be considered binding until it shall have been approved by the Hon. Secretary of the Treasury. No proposal will be received or considered, unless from persons engaged in ship building, and each offer must be accompanied by the signatures of two responsible persons as sureties for the faithful fulfilment of the contract.

Each vessel must be distinctly specified, with the sum for which the bidder proposes to build and equip her according to the drawings and specifications, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed by each bidder, as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

A drawing of the vessel contracted for will be furnished to the contractor, to which he will be required to adhere strictly; to this end the mould loft lines will be taken off and the mould examined by the superintending officer, who will be required to report to this Board, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and who will be required to see that the work executed and the material used are in strict conformity to the terms and specifications of the contract, and who must certify to the same in writing, before the vessel will be received, and payments authorized to be made.

Persons making proposals to build any of these light-vessels may suggest any change or alterations by which the cost will be lessened, without using inferior materials, and in making such suggestions the precise character of the change or alteration will be named, with the amount saved thereby. The proposals for each vessel will state the time required to complete the vessel and deliver it to the agent of the Board at such place as may be agreed upon; the same to be named in the bid. All proposals must be sealed and endorsed, "Proposals for building Light-vessels" and then enclosed in another envelope, and addressed to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

Any person submitting a proposal may be present, and witness the opening of the bids at the time and place hereinbefore specified.

By order of the Light-house Board.

☞ The volunteer company, which has been stationed at Fort Constitution for some months past, left for Concord on Saturday morning, where they are to join the Ninth Regiment. They muster about fifty muskets, and are commanded by Capt. Davidson, under whose skilful training they have advanced so much in discipline and drill, that we doubt not they will prove most worthy and efficient coadjutors of the New Hampshire troops in the field, and like them reflect much honor upon the State.

☞ In the roster of the N. H. Regiments, compiled for the Concord Statesman, from the books of the Adjutant General, we find that John H. Jackson is Colonel of the Third Regiment. His many friends, in this city and elsewhere, will be pleased to learn that his courage and ability as a leader have been appreciated, and that he has been promoted to the command of the regiment as its Colonel, a duty he has performed for some time, although ranking as a Lieut. Colonel.

☞ The Light Guards, in their neat uniform, were out in full numbers on Saturday evening, and paraded through the streets, with Capt. Towle's company of volunteers, Knight's Brass Band furnishing the music.

☞ Lieut. William H. Cornelius, of this city, Co. D, N. H. Third Regiment, arrived home on Saturday. We understand that he has returned to procure recruits for the regiment.

☞ The commencement exercises at Bowdoin College take place this week.—Mr. George G. Kimball, of this city, is a member of the graduating class.

THRILLING INCIDENT.—At the recent racing meeting in Boston, one of the fleetest and most valuable of the blood horses ran a race without a bridle, of which the reporter of the Boston Saturday Gazette gives the following graphic account:

"The betting was in favor of Idlewild, and the purse was $1000. At the start Avalanche had the inside, Wagram the centre, and Idlewild the outside. When the word was given Wagram got a lead of about two lengths, but just as he was making the first turn, the ring of his bridle broke; he shook his head clear, and Marshall (his rider) was left with no means of controlling his horse. With one hand locked in the mane he kept along at a smashing pace, and at the half mile he was ten lengths ahead. Idlewild held the second place and Avalanche the third. On passing the third quarter Wagram was fifteen lengths ahead, but the bridle got loose from his neck, and the bit struck him at every stride. On entering the second mile Idlewild began to creep up,—but Marshall kept Wagram to his work as well as he could, though it was evident that Wagram was expending himself and would lose the heat. As the stand was passed for the third mile, Idlewild had nearly made up the distance, and the half mile post was passed breast to breast. Then the mare took the first position and kept it, though Marshall used his spurs freely. The heat was won by three lengths. Wagram was second and Avalanche about six lengths behind him. The race was very severe on Wagram, and all the horses suffered, as the running was forced.

Marshall was loudly cheered by the crowd when he came back to weigh, and a purse of $20 was made up for him by the bystanders.

One of the most beautiful and accomplished lady-spiritualists delivered an eloquent address not long since—whether in the normal or spiritual condition we are not informed, but we suppose the latter—which, of course charmed the audience. At its close a lady mounted the platform near her, and spoke somewhat to the following effect:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this lady who has spoken so beautifully, has alienated from me the affections of my husband, who now resides with her. He has left me and my children, for no other reason that I can discover, but because he loves this woman better. I never injured her, but she has injured me and mine."

The lady was soon lost in the audience; but the spiritualist blushed scarlet. Tho' very ready and much accustomed to public speaking, she replied not a word. Her confusion was overwhelming.—Bost. Jour.

Mr. Van Buren is the last of the four distinguished politicians who were contemporaries in office, and were all born the same year;—Daniel Webster was born in Franklin, N. H., 18th January, 1782; died in Marshfield, Mass., 24th October, 1852. John C. Calhoun was born in Abbeville District, S. C., 18th March, 1782; died in Washington, 31st March, 1850. Thomas H. Benton was born near Hillsborough, Orange County, N. C., 14th March, 1782; died in Washington, 10th April, 1858. Martin Van Buren was born in Kinderhook, 5th December, 1782; died at Lindenwald, 24th July, 1862.—Boston Advertiser.

☞ Some million girls at work in a frame building, raised upon blocks, at Danbury, Conn., were recently tumbled into a confused heap and lively screams elicited, by the struggles of an enraged cow. The animal got stuck under the building, and in her struggles to escape, she tilted up the edifice and its contents first one way and then the other.

Chelsea has obtained 122 recruits. Rev. Mr. Peck, whose stirring addresses have been heard in many of the suburban towns, has enlisted, the society to which he ministers having agreed temporarily to spare him for the service of his country. He will make a good soldier, for he is a true patriot.—Boston Post.

☞ Huntington, the forger, so long confined in the Sing Sing Prison, has served out his first term. He was one of the chief book-keepers of the establishment. When he entered the prison, he learned the prison rules by rote and obeyed them to the letter, thereby getting a good place, and making friends with the keepers.

☞ The Virginians say that General Magruder was drunk at the Malvern Hill fight, and he drove the troops on to slaughter in drunken frenzy. They also say that he has been sent to East Tennessee, in understood disgrace. The Confederate Government is afraid to offend him, yet it dare not keep him there.

☞ Dr. McGregor of Connecticut, recently released from Salisbury, N. C., says it is a common remark South that our government and Generals have been trying to produce a Union sentiment by conciliation and half-way means, but they despise such a policy.

☞ Union College at Schenectady, N. Y., has conferred the honorary degree of LL. D. upon Major General Henry Wager Halleck, Commander of the armies of the United States.

☞ Gen. Jameson, of Maine, who has been so long and dangerously sick at Washington, is now recovering, and may be able to start on his way homeward in the course of a week.

☞ Nathaniel Wells, aged 89 years, and his wife, aged 97, died recently in Cornville, Me. They had travelled life's journey together for about 70 years, and were buried in one grave.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Morning Chronicle.

☞ A saloon keeper in Cleveland, Ohio, in the scarcity of change, conceived the idea of issuing tickets "good for one drink" to regular customers, when he couldn't change their money. In printing the tickets, the printer made a mistake, as the saloon keeper discovered to his cost, after distributing a large amount of them. The tickets read, "good for one drunk." A number of two-fisted drinkers, who got hold of some of the tickets, have been indulging in a series of drunks ever since, greatly to the pecuniary loss of the "saloonner."

The Rev. W. Meriam, an agent of the American Board of Missions, stationed at Phillippoli, who had been lately accompanied to Constantinople by his wife, left in the beginning of last week on his return to his station, and after a short halt at Adrianople, had arrived within three hours (nine miles) of Phillippoli when the little party was attacked by brigands, and Mr. Meriam brutally murdered. The authors of the crime are still at large.—Levant Herald of July 9.

☞ Charles M. Proctor, Vice Consul at Vera Cruz, transmits an order of the commander of the French forces that the ports of Tampico and Alvarado on the 15th, will be blockaded by a French naval force, and the blockade will be maintained until the cessation of hostilities.

CHOOSING A BUSINESS.—Calprit.—I thought, your honor, a man could go into any business he wanted to.

Judge.—Certainly he can, but you don't call this business, do you? You committed a burglary!

Calprit.—Ah! that's your name for it; I say I only opened a dry goods store.

Court.—Officer, take him away.

Distinctions are often arbitrary. Flowers and weeds are often spoken of as opposites. Yet every flower is a weed—when it isn't wanted. Ask the farmers. Every weed has its flower, and rightly situated or rightly employed, is an ornamental, useful plant. Ask the botanists.—Boston Post

A volunteer, in a letter, thanks his father for giving him crooked, or bow legs, saying that on the day before he had narrowly escaped losing both his legs, a cannon-ball passing harmlessly through the space occasioned by the "natural crook" of the legs. Everything is for the best.

☞ In the rebel regular army there is no rank above that of "General," and first on the roll stands the name of Sam'l Cooper, a graduate of West Point. Beauregard stands fourth in rank.

☞ The Houlton (Me.) Times says that American money is at a discount, and Province money is at a premium there.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my face. And after a battle of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure. As I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the best sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine I took would in a very short spell about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who may be afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure in my case; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From EDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1851.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1850, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOUR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay forit, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

Funny things occur on picket near Mechanicsville. A day or two ago, just at the breakfast hour, when the aroma of good coffee is doubly delicious, our pickets were accosted by a voice from the rebel side, a few rods only distant, with

"Hallo, there!"

"Hallo yourself!"

"What you doing over there?"

"Making some coffee. Have some?"

"Will you let me come over?"

"Yes."

"Will you let me come back?"

"Yes."

And over he came. His coffee drunk, he smacked his lips, and said:

"Well, that's very nice. We don't get any of that over on our side."

Then casting his eyes around, scrutinizing the neat appearance of our men, he continued:

"Well, you look very comfortable. All of you live so?"

"Yes."

A few moments more of silence, and he broke out:

"Well, I like the looks of things here. I believe I won't go back."

And he didn't.

PANCAKES.—"Edwin Brothertoft," the last of the novels of the late Major Winthrop, just issued, contains the following lively description of a pancake: "They were round as a doubloon, or the moon at its fullest. Their edges were sharp and not ragged or taggy. Their complexion was a most delicate mulatto. Their texture bubbly as the wake of a steamboat. Eyes never lighted on art higher than the top cake, and even the one next the plate utterly refuses to be soggy. Indeed, each pancake was a poem—a madrigal of Sappho's most simply delicate confectioning, round as a sonnet and subtle in flavor as an epigram."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New-England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

WASHINGTON NEWS. — The notorious female rebel spy, Belle Boyd, was captured near Warrenton recently, and sent to Washington. She is now in the old capitol prison.

Enough deserters and convalescent soldiers were marched through Washington on Saturday, to almost form a regiment of infantry. The return of furloughed officers and soldiers to their commands, is becoming quite large.

A special dispatch says Gen. Halleck has issued positive orders to Gen. McClellan to impress all negroes within his reach, to ask no question as to whether they are slave or free, and to seize every article of rebel property that can be made useful for the service of our army. It is believed that the government is prepared to make quick work with the rebels.

If any attempt is made to juggle Kentucky out of the Union, Gov. Magoffin will be deposed and a Provisional Governor appointed.

There is a report current that the government has determined to begin a general system of drafting by the 20th of August, in order to fill up the old regiments to the maximum standard at the earliest possible moment. As yet, however, there is no official confirmation of this report.

The New York Post states that Col. Hawkins, of the Hawkins Zouaves, has been arrested for expressing dissatisfaction with strategic and other movements on the Peninsula.

The World's Washington dispatch says there is much excitement there in relation to military movements. It says our armies are marching along in pursuance of a fixed plan, and it is believed that matters are so timed as to insure the safety at once of Washington and Gen. McClellan's army. There is a larger force operating against the enemy in Virginia than people generally are aware of.

The same dispatch says our government will remonstrate against the French blockade of Tampico and Alvarado.

FROM CHARLESTON. — A letter from Hilton Head, S. C., July 29, announces the arrival there of a man named Robert Patterson, who escaped from Charleston a few days previous, and made his way to our gunboats in Stono river. Patterson is a young man, who, though born and reared in England, has resided for seven years in Charleston, and whose family is still there. He was a freshman in Charleston College, and made his exit from the city in consequence of a threatened conscription among the students of that institution. He gives a very clear and intelligent account of matters in the confederacy. Gustavus W. Smith is in command of the troops at Charleston. The force at that point, however, has been much reduced, nine regiments of infantry and two of cavalry having been transferred to Richmond, and a large body distributed along the line of the Charleston and Savannah Railroad. Every one capable of bearing arms is in the Southern army, having been compelled by the rebel government to volunteer.

At Charleston two iron-clad rams, after the plan of the Merrimac, are in process of construction. Vessels are still running the blockade.

The people of the South are growing restless under Jeff's iron rule, and the voice of the press is in favor of a change of administration. The failure of Lee, with his overwhelming army and immense resources, to capture or annihilate McClellan, has produced a feeling of despondency, and the ultimate capture of Richmond by our army is daily more generally conceded. Their rebel Generals and leaders are cursed for the evils they have brought upon the people; and yet the people cling to their cause with dogged determination. The rebel loss in front of Richmond was in the neighborhood of 40,000. This had a disheartening effect upon them.

FROM VICKSBURG.—A letter from the steamer Brooklyn, below Vicksburg, to the Philadelphia Press, says the fleet was to go down the river July 24th, as the falling water would soon leave the ship high and dry. The river is falling rapidly. We have the river, but must have troops to hold it. The September rains will soon be upon us, and after that the heat will be gone, and the land become healthy. At present the heat is intense, and the troops suffer.

☞ On the night of July 25th thirty-five prisoners escaped from the prison at Alton, Ill., by digging a tunnel fifty feet in length, which furnished them an exit six feet beyond the sentinel's beat. Col. Magoffin, who had been sentenced to death for breaking his parole, was lucky enough to get away with the rest.

☞ A general Court Martial is ordered to convene at Fort Niagara, New York, on the 3d of August, or as soon thereafter as practicable, for the trial of such prisoners as may be brought before it.

FROM JAMES RIVER.—On Friday afternoon 600 U. S. troops crossed the James river for the purpose of destroying the houses and woods on the opposite shore, which had afforded protection to the rebels. Everything in the shape of a dwelling was burnt. This was the point from which the rebels shelled our shipping and encampment the night before. The affair was successfully accomplished, without the loss of a man. The gunboats Saturday morning were engaged in shelling the shore and houses down the river.

A detachment of infantry and cavalry from General McClellan's army made a reconnoissance down the Chickahominy, through Diascund, and came on towards Williamsburg until they met our pickets, and then returned, after reporting at Fortress Monroe, by telegraph, that in their reconnoissance they had seen nothing of the enemy.

☞ Orders were issued at Washington, Monday, calling out 300,000 Militia for 9 months, by requisition on the States,—by draft. Also ordering the 300,000 Volunteers to be ready by Aug. 15,—or to be completed by drafting.

Gen. Burnside's troops have embarked and are off, say a letter from Fortress Monroe.

Col. Guitar, with 2 or 300 U. S. volunteers, had a severe battle with rebel guerillas, near Fulton, Mo., July 27, and is driving them before him.

Late advices from Hilton Head state that the rebel ram at Savannah has been completed, armed and manned. She is of light draft, great power and heavily armed. The rebels are taking soundings to bring her down the river. Two steamers for the purpose have been within range of Fort Pulaski, and compelled to retire. Admiral Du Pont is making every preparation for her reception.

Three steamers arrived at Fortress Monroe on Saturday, with three thousand rebel prisoners from Fort Delaware en route to be exchanged. Gen. Pettigrew is among them.

Nothing new has been heard of the gunboats above.

A Memphis letter states that Gen. Lew Wallace's command had joined Gen. Curtis at Helena.

A Washington dispatch says the order of the Governor of Missouri for the enrollment of all militia of that State is causing trouble in St. Louis. Hundreds of mechanics, who were at work on the gunboats and in the iron-plate mills have threatened to leave the State to avoid the conscription, and mill owners are here to procure a modification of the Governor's proclamation.

☞ Capt. Robt. C. Dow, of the 3d Regt., N. H. Volunteers, finds fault with Col. Jackson's report which he says, "goes on to state that I made remarks in the hearing of my men, which were calculated to discourage them and take off their attention from the enemy." Capt. D. says in reply:

"Now I utterly deny that I expressed a single word on that trying occasion which could have had the least effect to discourage my men. So far from behaving in an imprudent manner I stood firmly by them, giving orders for their direction, which they obeyed cheerfully and promptly."

☞ It is stated that the war does not affect the number of visitors to our fashionable watering places. The influx of visitors at Newport is unprecedentedly large, every cottage and room having been taken. At Saratoga, there is full as large a number of arrivals as for several years past.

A FEAT.—The other day a person undertook to climb up the front of Farm Ledge, on the road to Rockport, just to see if he could reach the top from that side.—The ledge is nearly perpendicular, and from fifty to seventy feet in height. Our hero succeeded in reaching about two-thirds of the way up, when his foot slipped and down he rolled into the highway. Fortunately he escaped with only a few bruises, but we hardly think he will attempt the feat a second time.—Gloucester Telegraph.

JOKING ON THE BATTLE FIELD.—Gen. Howard's right arm was shattered by a ball in one of the recent battles, and it was amputated above the elbow. While being borne on a litter, he met Gen. Kearney, who had lost his left arm in Mexico. "I want to make a bargain with you, General," said Howard, "that hereafter we buy our gloves together."

ON THE STREET. — "Good morning, friend! How many recruits have you in——?"

"Good morning! Two."

"Well, that's two too many!"

Two months' residence at Fort Warren, with a wholesome regimen of fatigue duty, would be none "too many" for the last speaker in the above dialogue. It might bring the man to his senses—and, if that did not, years might accomplish that where in months had failed.—Gloucester Tel.

A young lady—a sensible girl—gives the following catalogue of different kinds of love: "The sweetest, a mother's love; the longest, a brother's love; the strongest, a woman's love; the dearest, a man's love; and the sweetest, longest, strongest, dearest love—a 'love of a bonnet.'"

If you would rise in the world, you must not stop to kick at every cur who barks at you as you pass along.

Clarendon says it's not the quantity of the meat, but the cheerfulness of the guests, which makes the feast.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The enrollment in Manchester of able-bodied men liable to do military duty, has just been completed and shows the number of 1948, between the ages of 18 and 45 years. The number already enlisted, belonging in the city, is put down at 1950. Besides these 1950 men belonging in the city, who have enlisted, the number from the adjacent towns is not less than 600, making a total of enlistments in Manchester of more than 2500 men.

—— A young man by the name of Wm. H. Brown, from Windsor, Vt., was arrested at Lebanon last Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Ticknor for forging an order. He was placed under $100 bonds to appear at the next term of court.

—— It is thought this week will see full ranks at Camp Union, and the 9th regiment will be ready to leave by the 20th inst.

—— Capt. Allen, of the N. H. 3d Regt., has a nice dog, who has been present with his master at all the battles in which the Third has been engaged. At the action on James Island he was wounded by musket balls in two places. He has great sagacity, carrying parcels readily from one locality to another. He is now on furlough with his master in Manchester. A collar was presented by some workmen at the Print Works, upon which was engraved this inscription: "Ours by adoption. Dog Ned, Irish Co., 3d N. H. Vols." On another part of the collar was engraved the Stars and Stripes, supported by the Shamrock and the Goddess of Liberty.

MILITARY DISCIPLINE.—A correspondent with the army of the Potomac writes on this subject as follows:

"Military discipline in this army is now of the strictest character. Courts martial are in operation everywhere, and many an officer, for offences deemed light in time of peace, is dismissed the service. Take the case of a Major, for instance, who was broken because he denied the authority of his Lieutenant Colonel to issue a certain order, and refused to obey it. Charges were made, the offence proven, and the verdict, that the Major be dismissed the service, sent to Headquarters. The members of the Court martial thought they had been extremely severe, and were much astonished to find an endorsement something like the following, by Gen. McClellan: "The Commanding General approves the finding of the Court, but thinks that it is not sufficiently severe. The offender should have been sentenced to death, for no crime is greater, in military law, than disobedience of orders in the face of the enemy."

☞ By recent advices from Constantinople, it appears that the jealousies between the Latin and Greek churches, about repairing the Church of the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem, the pretext of the late Crimean war, have subsided. The Porte by right of jurisdiction, Russia as protector of the Greek church, and France of the Latin, have combined their patronage, the works now going forward under the supervision of an Armenian architect.

A PRIZE.—The British steamer Memphis has just arrived at New York, a prize to the U. S. gunboat Magnolia. The Memphis was bound from Charleston for Liverpool, having run the blockade July 27th.—The Memphis is a fine propeller of 800 tons, 4 months old, was built on the Clyde, is of 250 horse power, and has a cargo of 1575 bales of Sea Island cotton on board. She had previously run the blockade to Charleston with a cargo of ammunition from Liverpool.

☞ The Concord Statesman says that among the promotions in the Fifth New Hampshire Regiment is that of Thomas L. Livermore of Amherst to a second lieutenancy. At the outbreak of the rebellion this officer enlisted as a private, although an aged and wealthy relative offered him ten thousand dollars, cash in hand, if he would remain at home. The heroes are not all dead.

☞ During a terrible storm at Iron Mountain on the 20th ult., the lightning struck a large ore bank in one of the furnace cuts, and dislodged and threw down from 2000 to 2500 tons of ore. To have dislodged the same by powder would have cost the company several hundred dollars.

COTTON FROM EGYPT.—Accounts from Alexandria announce that the Egyptian cotton crop for the present year is estimated at 700,000 quintals. The cotton crop for the year 1860 was calculated at 600,000 quintals, of which four-fifths were exported to England, and the remainder to the continent of Europe.

☞ At the recent commencement at Yale College, the degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Hawley Olmstead of New Haven, Rev. Barnas Sears, D. D., President of Brown University, and Count Gasparin.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette has a rumor that Vallandigham has disappeared from Dayton, Ohio. His speeches, which had been packed in Hoyt's trunk, have been seized.

You will never convince a man of ordinary sense by overbearing his understanding. If you talk with him in such a manner as to show a due deference for his judgment, your complaisance may win him, though your saucy argument could not.

THE CABINET.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Post states that Mr. Smith and Mr. Chase have both for months desired to retire from the Cabinet, but they have not been permitted to do so with the consent of the President, and it is now entirely improbable that any change will be made in the Cabinet during the present year.

☞ Hollow metallic canes, filled with condensed gas, are now used in some of the European cities. The bearer has only to turn a small nipple, and apply his match, when he will instantly find himself furnished with a torch that will light him several hours.

☞ It has been found in exploring expeditions, where parties were subjected to great fatigue and exposure, that the educated persons of the parties, though of slender frames, have endured the trial better than the apparently tougher laborers.

DID NOT GET BITTEN.—The sutler at Fort Warren, states that he has never received any money from prisoners at the fort and deposited it, as has been stated.—The prisoners sold their gold for the most they could get, and took in return United States Treasury Notes.

☞ It is city gossip that a widowed member of the Cabinet is about to form a union with a distinguished widow lady, a resident of Boston.

☞ Owing to the recent Federal expeditions to the Virginia Central Railroad, the rebels have stopped running regular trains on that road.

☞ The Portland Shipping List states that T. C. Jackson, Esq., has purchased the Union Church Parish Property at $10,200.

☞ The Bridgetown Reporter says that Artemas Ward is rusticating in Waterford —near Rumford, as the great Wacks Figgerer would say.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number, my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

TEN MILE TROT.—"Sport" is not very brisk in this vicinity, as a general thing;—but a pretty good trot came off last week on the Lafayette Road, from its commencement at "The Willows," to Hampton Corner, "called" just about ten miles, and so stated on the guide-boards. The horses were a sorrel belonging to Mr. Nathan Jones' livery stable, known as the Spinney mare, entered and driven by Wm. D. Perkins,—and a white or grey mare from one of Mr. Frank H. Blaisdell's backs, which which ought to be called the Butler mare, and which was entered and driven by Robert O. Shannon—the match being made by the drivers. Mr. Blaisdell's horse won; time 33 minutes; the other mare being well up, neither being greatly distressed when they came in, and the last mile was the quickest. This is certainly good time for common work horses, with but little preparation; and though the distance was not measured, and may be a little short, yet the time was undoubtedly well kept, as Mr. Henry H. Smith of Newmarket was one of the judges. Such horses are too good for drudgery.

☞ At the Middle Street Baptist Church in this city, on Sunday last, Rev. Mr. Eddy, the pastor, who is one of the most earnest and honest of reformers, and a firm, outspoken defender of the Government and the Union, was arguing in his discourse, against the right of secession and assumption of the powers of government by the South; when suddenly arose in his pew, a member of the church who resides at the West End of the town, a man of good height, and who is well known as rather a prominent "Democrat"—and exclaimed, "Abe Lincoln allows the right of secession," and quietly sat down again. Mr. Eddy did not understand the remark,—so no especial rejoinder was made.

☞ We understand that a concert will be given in this city the latter part of this month, under the direction of the organist of the North Church, and Dr. E. B. Goodall. It is sufficient to announce to the lovers of music, that the new oratorio, "Belshazzar's Feast," will be performed, and that Mis Lizzie Ham will take the part of the Queen, and James P. Bartlett, Esq., the part of King. Beside all this, the best talent in the city has been engaged for solos and choruses.

☞ In answer to innumerable inquiries, we are desired to state that, that grand Excursion which we mentioned a few days since, will probably come off some day this week, perhaps on Friday, the 8th inst.—The whole route is delightful, and passengers who prefer can spend the day in Manchester, Concord, Laconia, Centre Harbor, or where they choose, along the line.

The trip will be from Portsmouth, over the C. & P. and BC. & Montreal Railroads to Manchester, Concord, Laconia, &c., to The Wiers, across Lake Winnpiseogee to Centre Harbor, the Islands, Wolfborough, &c., in the steamer—leaving Portsmouth at 6 o'clock in the morning, per special train, and returning same way in the evening,—all for the low price of $1.

Now is the chance for all hands to visit the interior; and from what we hear, we guess everybody and his wife are going.—Conductor Langley, who we believe is to run the train, says he will give full particulars to our readers on Wednesday morning.

☞ Capt. A. J. Hill, well known in this vicinity as formerly an efficient officer in our Militia and Independent military service; afterward Orderly Sergeant of the Portsmouth Company of Volunteers in the Mexican war, under Capt. Jackson—where he served with honor, and was recommended for promotion by Gen. Pierce, Col. Seymour and Adj. Ranson, of his regiment; and who recently has been Adjutant of the 3d Regt. N. H. V., with Lt. Col. Jackson—which situation he resigned on account of injuries received by being thrown from his horse;—Capt. Hill, who has thus both played and worked soldier, and "smelt gudpowder"—advertises this morning that he is desirous of recruiting a Company of Volunteers forthwith, his rendezvous being Jefferson Hall. We hope he may get them soon.

☞ Sergt. Robt. E. Shillaber, of this city, of the Rhode Island Cavalry, is now at home in this city, on a fortnight's sick furlough from the hospital at Providence,—after which he will join his regiment at Manassas Junction.

☞ All who can do so, are now enjoying their summer "vacation." Among the rest, Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, of the Christian Church, is to be absent from town during the month of August—his pulpit being regularly supplied, however.

☞ Capt. Towle is daily practicing his recruits in street drill and handling the muskets, and camp life generally; and the Light Guard also stand up to duty well in drilling.

MARSHAL KANE was swaggering about the city yesterday. If extensive airs were of account he would be an immense individual.—Boston Post.

CURRENCY.

FRAUD IN POSTAGE STAMPS.—Already defaced postage stamps are being brought up and passed at their nominal value, after having had the defacing ink extracted and pasted on paper, to conceal the loss of the gum.

There is another evil to arise from this currency which must be anticipated, but for which there is no remedy. Postage stamps are simple engravings, without a single signature or any other check mark of any kind. Not three months will elapse before there will be more counterfeit than genuine stamps in the currency. They are not a currency which will come under the cognizance or scrutiny of any sagacious bank cashier, and no one will be able to distinguish between a genuine government stamp, and the stamps which can be made for one hundredth part of what they will pass for. It is a bad currency, to say the best of it.

We have seen some 25 cent due bills, issued by responsible persons in this city, either of which will redeem them on presentation with bank notes. They have been a public accommodation, and are as good as the personal notes of these persons, which stand as well as any in the city.—The law, however, stops this currency after Aug. 1.

CITY COUNCIL.

On Thursday evening, in the Board of Aldermen, notice was given by the C. & P. Railroad Co. of intention to build a wharf near the old Ferryways, at the foot of Green street.

John Stokell was permitted to dig a drain for his store corner Cures street.

A communication from Lieut. F. W. Miller, in relation to arrangements for inducements for the next County Fair to be holden in this city, was referred.

Voted, that the Mayor cause the Jefferson Hall Flag to be hoisted daily until the vote be rescinded.

The Common Council acceded to the vote of the other Board, in granting $150 towards the expenses of the 4th of July celebration, to be taken from the contingent fund.

Capt. David Porter, U. S. Navy, whose arrival at Washington has been already announced, sailed with his ship, the Octorora, from New Orleans on the 17th ult. She came into Hampton Roads, whence he immediately proceeded on to Washington. According to Capt. Porter's report, made to the Navy Department, he captured on the 24th inst., after an exciting chase, the British iron screw steamer Tubal Cain, in latitude thirty-one degrees fifty-four minutes north, longitude seventy-eight degrees twenty-three minutes west. She was then steering north-west by north, for the port of Charleston.

She sailed from Nassau, N. P. on Sunday, the 20th of July, in company with two other steamers, all loaded with arms and munitions of war; and, if not interrupted, the others are probably by this time safe in port. The evidence against the Tubal Cain is very clear. She had not broken bulk since leaving Europe in April last, and had been waiting for a month at Nassau for a month to run the blockade. Her cargo is very valuable, being, it is understood, almost entirely of arms and munitions of war. The captain tried, during the chase, to rid her of the saltpetre she carried, but was taken with thirty tons of it still on board. The prize arrived at New York on Tuesday, in charge of a prize master from the Octorora. Her cargo is supposed to be worth $250,000.

VICKSBURG.—The bombardment of Vicksburg continues. Our gun-boats pass back and forth under the guns of the formidable batteries, and the mortars shell the city; but until a formidable land force is brought to cooperate, success will be doubtful. The city must be taken, or the great Mississippi is not free. The projected canal is, so far, a failure. They must now wait the rise of the river for a sufficient pressure to wear a steam and gun-boat channel.

CORRECTION.—In the second resolution passed at the War Meeting at Jefferson Hall last week, instead of "conciliation as the means," read, "conciliation as means." The latter was the form in which the resolution was read at the meeting, and represents as much difference in the sense as a definite and indefinite article can make.

THE LATEST COMET.—The comet discovered at the Cambridge Observatory by Mr. Safford, on the 18th inst., promises to become conspicuously visible during the latter part at least of the month of August. It is rapidly approaching the earth.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which lights them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface for radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by mailing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, give him full access of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All accessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 30 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

In this city and vicinity, and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the prices charged for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvements consist in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under side, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard roads.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, or all cases where horses have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1862.

THE NEW DRAFT.—The reader will agree with us in saying that when the Boston Advertiser, Post and Courier, all endorse a war measure, it must be popular. This happens to be the case with respect to the Draft. The Advertiser approves it, fully and decidedly.

The Courier says:—"The draft comes at last, and none too soon. In Massachusetts it is understood that not more than 4000 have been recruited, under the corrupting and pernicious system of bounties. We shall now get a more equal distribution of the toils and dangers of military service, and moreover the men will be forthcoming. The order thus issued affords the most promising prospect of bringing affairs to a decisive test, which we have yet seen."

The Post says:—"The draft for three hundred thousand men to serve for nine months, is an act that will speak to the country with a trumpet voice. It has no odious feature that freemen should carp at it or shrink from it! It is but the sacred call of the Law, which freemen made, when this law needs the support of its makers, who have, in sustaining it, a direct personal concern. In answering this draft the people are saving their own noblest work, and acting for the grand common whole of today and for posterity. As such, every patriot ought to regard it. As such, every State ought to receive it. Therefore let not a thought of disaffection arise. Rather rejoice that peaceforth the miserable oratorical twattle about a policy is at an end, and that there is now decision, purpose, energy. Now let officials, the humblest and the highest, address themselves to the business of co-operation promptly, State vieing with State in sending on its quota."

The Herald holds similar views.

Speaking of the draft the Portland Argus says:

Among the truly patriotic it was hailed with pleasure as an earnest that the government is finally aroused. This call must necessarily imply a draft,—but prompt volunteering in the regiments now under way will obviate the necessity of a draft to fill them. Now we begin to feel that we are in a war. Stand by the flag!

The Advertiser approves the draft,—and says:

Drafting finds many supporters now who did not like it ten days ago, and to that we must come, let popularity-hunters say what they please.

The Portland Press states that "every loyal man rejoiced" at the call,—and adds:

The people will sustain the government in this move and furnish the men. They want to see movements on a gigantic scale, and they are ready to respond. Maine will not be found wanting. It is estimated that under the last call, at least ten thousand men have enlisted, being three thousand more than our quota, and we believe this second draft will be filled by volunteers.—We hope that recruiting will not be stopped again during the war.

RHODE ISLAND AWAKE.—In Providence, on Monday afternoon, there was an immense assembly at the war meeting.—Speeches were made by Gov. Sprague, Lieut. Gov. Arnold, Bishop Clark, President Sears of Brown University, Rev. A. L. Stone of Boston, and others. For three hours the enthusiastic audience listened to the speaking. Resolutions were adopted, urging the President to use every constitutional means in his power to suppress the rebellion, declaring that there were but two parties—loyal men and traitors—and asking the Governor to add the enrolled to the active militia. The announcement that a draft had been ordered by the government was received with cheers.

Gov. Sprague has called on the colored citizens to form a regiment, as part of the quota of Rhode Island. He will probably accompany them to the field, and share its perils with them.

Per contra, a dispatch from Washington to the New York Post says:—"In answer to a deputation of prominent citizens, who waited on the President, Monday, to urge the acceptance of negro regiments, Mr. Lincoln replied that he could not accept the negro regiments, except as laborers.—This, it is understood, is the settled policy of the government."

We think if Gov. Sprague marches with his quota to the field of battle, "the government" will not boggle a great deal about the complexion of the men.

Ex-Senator Pugh, of Ohio, said at a late public meeting at Dayton, that at the first whisper of a compromise on the part of the South, he was for the settlement of this difficulty, forgetting the past.

If by "the South" the ex-senator means the rebel confederacy, he will hear yells of fury and hatred and contempt, rather than whispers of compromise. They aim to subdue us, and will do it unless we subdue them.

☞ The crops of the West are reported to be abundant; the corn especially productive. This is well, as the crops of England, France, Germany and Russia will be short. The more corn we send abroad, the less gold will be required.

THE REBELLION.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—A dispatch of Monday says, the boat from Aquia Creek has brought over 100 contrabands, who are principally from Caroline County, Va.—Many of them have been away from their homes for a considerable time. They were sent to the Creek on Saturday last. On their arrival they were directed to the contraband quarters. Among them are persons of all ages, sexes and sizes, including a sprinkling of infants barely a week old.—The women, for the most part, lugged the children Indian fashion, and the men bore on their shoulders immense bundles of baggage.

The Star of Monday says:—

"We are informed that the negroes of this city are organizing secret associations for the purpose of protecting themselves in anticipation of a riot and mob by the laboring classes of whites, similar to those which lately occurred in New Albany, Indiana, Cincinnati, and other places. It is also alleged that a number of clerks in the Government employ are aiding the negroes in perfecting their organizations. Our informant is a colored man of this city."

It is has been asserted that those Western mobs were not got up by laborers of the West, but by rebel sympathizers from Atlantic cities.

It is reported that General McClellan telegraphed recently to Washington that he could not get milk for sick soldiers—that the Secessionists would not furnish it, and Union men charge high prices. General Halleck telegraphed back:—

"If Secessionists won't furnish milk, seize their cows and milk them yourselves. Have a military board to fix the price at which Unionists shall sell, and if they refuse to take that price, seize from them also."

The alarm about the rebel rams in James river has subsided. It is now reported that the new Merrimac cannot be ready for service in less than three weeks, by which time the New Ironsides will be ready to meet her.

A Washington dispatch says it has been believed there in some quarters for several days that the enemy have been evacuating Richmond, there being reasonable suspicion that a pestilence has broken out in that city. Information of the same tenor in respect to the evacuation of Richmond by the enemy's troops has been received at Gen. Pope's headquarters.

The Tribune's Fortress Monroe letter of the 3d says Gen. Burnside's army sailed away from Fortress Monroe, but not up James River. A large number of transports are at Harrison's Landing.

A letter from Harrison's Landing states that on Saturday Gen. McClellan moved 15,000 troops, principally of Gen. Porter's command, across James River.

About 400 citizens within the lines of Gen. Sigel's corps have taken the oath of allegiance. Seventy have been arrested, and are in charge of the Provost Marshal. Twenty rebel prisoners have been taken by scouting parties within the past two weeks and paroled.

Gen. Butler at New Orleans is urgently calling for volunteers, who are much needed, no doubt, as there is no point more open to attack or insurrection. He has sent his transports home with sick and wounded soldiers, so that now he has no way of retreat. The enemy, meantime, is not idle. The disbanded soldiers of Beauregard's are pouring in there every day, and from this material the rebels look for power that is to drive us from the city. There is also an uneasy feeling among the slaves.—Ex.

Very likely this is all true: but we do not see why uneasiness among the slaves should trouble Gen. Butler, or anybody else except their masters, unless Gen. B. wishes to preserve the institution.

☞ The three chief sovereigns of Europe—the Emperors of Russia and France and the King of Prussia, are to have a meeting in September next. This forbodes some important movement on the chess-board of nations; it may have to do with Italy, with Turkey, or a half-dozen of the lesser powers of Europe; or it may affect Mexico or the United States. Louis Napoleon is a dangerous man; feeling himself called upon to settle all national questions, he may unsettle to a wider sphere than he gives peace. Nothing will do so much to keep European hands from our affairs as the prompt raising of the 300,000 recruits and the capture of Richmond, and we hope for both of these before September shall have come and gone.

☞ Latest Memphis advices mention that rumors are prevalent there of the capture of eight Federal Paymasters by the rebels at Humboldt, Tenn., including John A. Camp, Gatzmer, Coon, Hanna, Zoukey and Hazelton, with an aggregate of $1,800,000. Army circles give these rumors no credence.

☞ The Boston papers of Tuesday evening represent recruiting as very brisk that day—many men preferring bounty for enlisting for three years, to mere pay for nine months. The same is said of New York.

☞ The Police Commissioners of New York have resolved that, during the rebellion, they will not appoint on the police force unmarried men, or men on whom families are not dependent for support.

ORDER FOR 300,000 MEN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The following order calling for militia from the several States, has just been issued:—

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., August 3, 1862.

Ordered.—First, that a draft of 300,000 militia be immediately called under the service of the United States, to serve 9 months unless sooner discharged.

The Secretary of War will assign the quotas to the States and establish regulations for the draft.

Second, that if any State shall not by the 15th of August, furnish its quota of the additional 300,000 volunteers authorized by law, the deficiency of volunteers for that State will also be made up by a special draft from the Militia. The Secretary of War will establish regulations for this purpose.

Third, the regulations will be prepared by the War Department and presented to the President with the object of securing the promotion of officers of the Army and volunteers for meritorious and distinguished services, and of preventing the nomination and appointment in the military service of incompetent or unworthy officers.

By order of the President.

(Signed) EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A Sunday fight came off at Manchester, last Lord's Day. The American says that an altercation took place about one o'clock at the American House, which is likely to result in the death of one of the parties engaged. Robert Smith and Nathaniel S. Durgin, who were both intoxicated, met each other at this hotel, and in a few minutes got into a dispute. After some words, Smith went out of the back door, followed by Durgin, who struck him once or twice in the back yard. Smith retreated from his assailant, and had come near the side-walk on Manchester street, when Durgin struck him a blow on the side of the head which felled him to the ground. He was taken up insensible and carried into the house, and is in a dangerous condition. Durgin has been arrested.

—— A vicious dog belonging in Manchester killed and wounded several sheep in Bedford, one day last week,—and as he came home, killed a coset lamb owned by Wm. Stark, Esq., and was quietly sucking the blood, when the owner of the lamb tied a rope to the dog's collar, bound him to a tree, and shot him dead. The Journal of Agriculture advises shepherds not to shoot and drive away vicious dogs,—but to be still as possible, and kill them.

—— Diocletian Melvin, a much respected citizen of Peterboro', dropped down dead in the field, while mowing on the morning of the 26th.

—— The Governor and Council of this State have raised the Bounty to $60 for those enlisting for any regiment now in the field.

—— Geo. C. Gilmore, Esq., with a boy for clerk, made the enrollment of Manchester in two weeks.

WOOLEN MANUFACTURES.—"The call for 300,000 additional volunteers and 300,000 militia has an important bearing on the wool trade of the country. When the new quota has been raised, there will be over 1,000,000 troops requiring a regular supply of army clothing. The effect of this extraordinary consumption of army woolens must be to inflate and derange ordinary business in woolen fabrics. Some wool will doubtless be imported; and besides this, the American wool crop will realize sixty millions of dollars, distributed among the agriculturists and then returned to the commercial cities for the purchase of manufactures. This will be made into goods worth one hundred and twenty millions, bringing in the main high prices and making handsome profits."

ELECTION IN KENTUCKY.—Last week the Cincinnati Gazette gave prominence to a telegram that the rebels in Southern Kentucky contemplate a general uprising on Monday, in order to control the election, and it was thought in Kentucky that the secessionists have been for some time secretly at work trying to control the elections:—but a Louisville dispatch of Monday night says; Returns thus far indicate the election of all the thorough Union candidates in the county election to-day. Up to 10 o'clock this evening no reports had been received of disturbances in any quarter.

☞ As the thunder shower of last Saturday commenced, a son of Mr. Andrew Rider of Norfolk, Conn., had rolled up a pile of hay and walked about two rods from it, when he saw the first flash of lightning dart from over his head into the pile he had just left, consuming the hay immediately, altho' very green.

☞ The South Church in Hartford has been sued by the heirs of William Stanley, to recover about $100,000 real estate bequeathed to the church by Stanley, the church having broken a provision of the will which forbid them ever to sell the property.

☞ It is said that Illinois will this year produce twenty thousand bales of cotton, and sugar and syrup enough to sweeten that State. At present prices it will do to grow cotton at the North.

☞ The Philadelphia Bulletin argues that bread will be the great conservator of peace between this country and Europe.—The large exports of wheat and flour will enrich the people of this country, and the balance of trade for the year will be heavily in our favor. There will be no great importation while the war lasts.

☞ The casualties of all kinds in the army of the Western Department (late Halleck's) since it went into the field, are stated at 68,500, of which 40,000 are charged to death and absence from sickness, and 18,000 to various causalities by battles.

☞ The leading hatters of New York have agreed to advance the price of hats, so that those retailing at $4 now will be $5.—Their chief reason for it is the advance in shellac, alcohol, plush and other materials.

☞ The Philadelphia Home Guards have offered their fine battery of six ten-pound Parrott guns for service to the Government, the men belonging to the artillery company to accompany it to the war.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c. &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it where I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. Call on or address Dr. B. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o
About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most malignant character. For this there is abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to try it on myself. I have used it now, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about five months, and I have had no trouble from it since.
CAROLINE H. SWETT.
This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.
I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, coming many seasons on my side. And on the virtues of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been troubled with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and a medicine failed to give any relief. About a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I am in good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been with a humor, which prevented me from my right and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add, that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

WE DON'T SEE IT.—We stated in the Chronicle of Tuesday that a gentleman at the Baptist Church on Sunday rose in his seat and stated in reply to Rev. Mr. Eddy's remarks, that "Abe Lincoln allows the right of secession." The man alluded to says we did not state his remark correctly, and requests us to publish the following "correction," as he calls it. We must confess "we don't see" any difference between our statement and his:

Mr. Editor of the Chronicle:—The man that rose in his seat, said that Abram Lincoln said that they had a right to secede.
THOMAS NORTON.

SOLDIERS' HOSPITAL.—One of the principal objections to the establishment of a hospital at the Sagamore House, seems to be the difficulty of communication with the city. "Newington" thinks that our young ladies and gents, if stationed alternately along the route at short intervals, could start and maintain a regular line of busses!

☞ The quota of Kittery Volunteers, 32 men, with four extra, Capt. A. J. Stimson, left for Portland on Tuesday, escorted by the Kittery Artillery, Capt. M. F. Wentworth, with the Portsmouth Cornet Band. Farewell speeches were made by Messrs. Charles Stimson, Prescott and Wentworth.

☞ We hear it reported that Hon. John Dame of this city is considering the matter of recruiting a Company of Volunteers. There are loud calls for the "Pope," who will make a sort of Cromwellian officer.

☞ All young men in this city desirous of practising the rudiments of military drill, are requested to meet at the City Rooms this evening at 8 o'clock.

☞ The report about town on Tuesday, that the Isles of Shoals had burnt up, was incorrect. Neither have either of the hotels been destroyed by fire.

☞ We are requested to state that the Excursion to the Lakes, &c., will take place on Tuesday of next week. Particulars to-morrow.

☞ The 9 o'clock bell was not rung last evening, owing, we presume, to the severe thunder shower.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.—A dispatch from Helena, Arkansas, July 31, says there are nearly 3,000 confiscated slaves there. The cotton of their rebel runaway masters is being sold for their benefit. There are about 100 Union prisoners in Little Rock penitentiary, confined by Hindman's order in convict cells five feet by seven, with no exercise, fed on tainted meat, and left in their own filth.

At Memphis, Aug. 2, it is said thirteen thousand confiscated slaves are employed in fortifications and in the Quartermaster's Department.

A letter from Hilton Head, S. C., July 26, says: The negro regiment is not at all popular here. The men—as well behaved fellows as could be wished—were jeered at, insulted, and sometimes struck on their way to their daily labor at the wharf, until Gen. Hunter directed that no details from the 1st South Carolina Volunteers should be made for that purpose, but that gangs of men from the regiments who had abused them should take their place. Now there's a howl raised about "a nigger being of more account than a white man." Gen. Hunter is a perfect trump.

SECRET ORGANIZATION AMONG THE SLAVES.—Very much has been said by the press and the public in reference to the assertion of the author of "Among the Pines," that there exists among the Southern blacks a secret and wide-spread organization which has able leaders, and whose ultimate object is Freedom. This statement though generally credited, has been questioned by certain Northern Secession journals.

We are authorized by the author of that book to say that he has given in "Among the Pines," but a fifth of the whole truth in his possession in regard to that organization. That while he has in that work introduced only a single leader, he has personal knowledge of over twenty, and has the names and residence of over 500, who can control, at the tap of a drum, one hundred thousand able-bodied figuting men.

The names of these leaders, and all the particulars in regard to that organization, he is at liberty to communicate (they having been confided to him for that purpose) to the Government, whenever it is prepared to resort in quelling this rebellion, to all the means that are justified by civilized warfare.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ Gen. Pope seems to give the rebels great distress of mind, which finds relief in blackguarding and ridiculing the General and his orders. They denounce him as worse than a savage because he will not allow a horde of treacherous neutrals, who are in almost every instance spies for Jeff. Davis, to remain within his lines. The violent abuse of the Richmond editors is the best proof of the propriety of Gen. Pope's orders.

☞ The election in Baltimore on Friday for members of the second Branch of Councils was conducted very quietly and with an entire absence of excitement. There was no opposition to the Union candidates. The whole number of votes cast was 4861.

RIOT IN BROOKLYN.—The N. Y. World says that on Monday a serious disturbance occurred at the tobacco factory of Watson & Lorillard, Brooklyn, caused by the efforts of some Irishmen to drive out the colored employes. The assailants broke in the doors and windows and attempted to set the building on fire—but failing in this, they rushed up stairs to attack the negroes. The latter had just driven them out, when policemen arrived, who began clubbing the negroes, but in a few minutes discovering their mistake, they attacked the Irishmen and soon quelled the disturbance. A number of both parties were arrested, and it was thought there would be no farther trouble. The Herald says the negroes in the vicinity are charged with having used insulting language to white females.

MARCELLUS BUFFORD, City Clerk.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

NEW HAMPSHIRE MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INGENUITY and ENERGY as the REST. As this is to be a STATE Instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and sale, free of charge.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Cones and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HENRY M. CARTER, Corresponding Secretary, Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate victim for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Dragées, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—ly 13aw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY, AUG. 7, 1862. NO. 6.

The Chronicle.

☞ A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Washington, July 17, says:

"Rev. M. D. Conway, of Cincinnati, is here, providing for the welfare of his father's slaves, 59 in number, who have escaped from Fredericksburg, and are among the contrabands in charge of the government. He designs removing them to a country town in Ohio, where they may have a chance to improve their condition and take care of themselves. Mr. Conway, senior, is a leading rebel of Fredericksburg. This is one of the multitude of curious incidents which the war is constantly bringing to light."

FLOWERS are social, talking things; they tempt us with their fragrance; they coax us with their smiles; they surprise us with their capricious beauty. The mountains speak to me; so do the clouds, the storms, the rivers, and all the great features of creation. But none speak so gently, so kindly, so surely, so constantly as the flowers.—Each returning Summer spreads them around me. I cannot get away from them. They come to me wherever I go, repeating their lessons, and shaking their tiny fingers in reproach for my insensibility. The crags, the mighty torrents, and the woods, are away from the city; I must go to them if I would hear their language. But flowers come to us; they are everywhere; they smile in the market-place; they hang on our house-fronts; they adorn our parks; and some solitary plant may be seen on the window sill of a thousand lowly homes, for hardly any are too poor to have one blossom in a Summer, if only they love it enough to give it water. Thus flowers have a sort of universality which nothing else can rival.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also, in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The thorough practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides its extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, put him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary expense to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all the years of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other shoes, (except for steel shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold better, and which can be used for chase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1862.

GRAIN TO ENGLAND.—England took from the United States in wheat and flour, at least $30,000,000 during the year ending July 1, 1861. For that just closed she has taken a much greater amount, as the last crop in that country was a very meagre one. Should the present be good, still, as there is no surplus in that country, the demand from this will probably continue very nearly in ratio to the past, till several good crops, shall, with imports from abroad, have enabled her people to accumulate such reserves as shall, by relieving all apprehension, seriously react upon prices. Such is the conviction of parties in the trade there, so that the prospect of a fair crop will for the present, exert but little influence in weakening prices, or demand from that.

It is certain, but for the United States, the prices of breadstuffs in England the past year would have caused a much greater commotion than has the lack of cotton.—The demand for food is far more imperative than clothing, especially a single variety of clothing, and must be had in very near the same quantity, whatever may happen; whether a people be prosperous or the reverse, or whatever may be the condition of commerce or trade.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Robert Smith, who was assaulted on Sunday evening by Nathaniel S. Durgin, near the American House, Manchester, died on Tuesday morning. His death will probably make Durgin's crime manslaughter or murder.

—— The American says that Samuel McIntyre, of Dunbarton, was found dead in some bushes, three or four rods from the road, in Amoskeag Village. Two empty bottles were found by his side, and as he was an intemperate man, it is presumed he died in a drunken fit. He was a widower, about 50 years of age, and leaves several sons and daughters.

—— The members of the 2d Universalist Society in Manchester have decided to have an excursion to Portsmouth soon, and have appointed the Directors of the Society to make the necessary arrangements.

—— The Mirror says the chances of getting killed in the army are comparatively small, if the experience of Manchester is a test. Out of 627 whose families have been aided by that city, only 7 have been killed outright or died of wounds received in battle, and 11 died of disease,—being a loss of one out of every 89, or about one to a company.

☞ In a letter to Dr. Tyng, Gen. Hunter says, writing from Port Royal:—

"Using the negroes merely for throwing up intrenchments is a step in the right direction, though far short of what must be the end. It has the advantage, however, of making the further and final steps necessary; for men working in the face of the enemy must have arms with which to protect themselves if suddenly attacked."

Gen. Hunter is a large slaveholder,—and he says in the same letter:—

"None of the carefully fostered delusions by which Slavery has sustained itself at the North, is more absurd than the bugbear of "a general migration of negroes to the North," as a necessary sequence of emancipation. So far is this from being the fact, that although it is well-known that I give passes North to all negroes asking them, not more than a dozen have applied to me for such passes since my arrival here, their local attachments being apparently much stronger than with the white race. My experience leads me to the exact reverse of the received opinion on this subject would form the rule, and that nearly if not quite all the negroes of the North would migrate South whenever they shall be at liberty to do so without fear of the auction block."

SOLDIERS' FAMILIES.—Our cities and towns have done well, in voting and furnishing supplies and pay to the wives and children of our Volunteers, who have gone to the war.

The time will soon come, when the families of the Drafted Men will need the same kind and amount of aid;—and it will be the duty and ought to be the pleasure of our towns and cities to bestow it, promptly and handsomely,—not as charity, but as justice.

To many of the drafted men, their going must be more or less of a sacrifice. It is only a small thing for those who do not go, to be taxed for the support of their families.

We hope our own City Government will lead off in this business: and we know our heaviest tax payers will not object to it.

Indeed, if bounties sufficiently liberal were offered, no doubt the entire quotas for both levies now called for, could be raised in the loyal States, without any draft at all.

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The shipments of boots and shoes recently have been large. Manufacturers are busy throughout the State, and prices of stock and work show an upward tendency. Orders for army work are soon expected in this market, and stock suitable for army shoes and cavalry boots is in demand. The prospects of the trade seem good for some time to come.

☞ The party of Federal troops which took possession of the village of Orange Court House on Sunday morning, consisted of 200 of the 5th New York (Ira Harris) Cavalry, and 200 of the 1st Vermont.—They left Culpepper Court House at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon last, and camped at night near Raccoon Ford, on the Rapidan. Early next morning march was resumed, driving in the enemy's pickets. About 10 o'clock, in the neighborhood of Orange Court House, and while marching into the town, they were attacked by the enemy, about 500 strong. Our forces drove the rebels from the town, killing and wounding some, and capturing forty or fifty prisoners, among them one Major, two Captains, and two Lieutenants. The Union party were commanded by Brig.-Gen. Crawford in person. The enemy were Ashby's cavalry, Col. Robinson. Many of the prisoners were badly wounded by sabre cuts. The Major would not surender, when he was struck a terrible sabre blow on the top of his head. One of the captains had one of his ears cut off. The prisoners were taken to Culpepper Court House. The loss in the Ira Harris Cavalry is stated in one account to have been three killed or mortally wounded, and six wounded more or less seriously. In the Vermont regiment some five or six men wounded, some seriously.

☞ In Cincinnati on Saturday night, a dispatch was received from a conductor on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, that he had eight hundred prisoners in charge, who were too obstreperous for him to manage. The supposition, of course, was that they were rebels, and a large police force, armed with clubs and muskets, was ordered out to receive them. On the arrival of the train at the depot, the "prisoners" were found to be those who had been captured at Murfreesboro by the rebels and paroled. They were greatly incensed at the reception extended to them, but very many of them were so intoxicated that it was found necessary to keep them under strict guard, and this gave abundant employment to all the special policemen summoned.

FROM NASSAU, N. P.—English steamers Columbia and Leopard were in port July 20, waiting to run the Southern blockade. Also in port, the rebel steam gunboat Oveta, in charge of officers from the British gunboat Bull Dog.

Mr. A. S. Griffin of Hartford is a passenger in the Model. He has been engaged as an agent of the United States Consul at Nassau, in forwarding dispatches to Key West, by which means important information has been given to our naval authorities at the latter port, in regard to the movements of the rebel vessels, which are constantly waiting for an opportunity to run the blockade. This agency of Mr. Griffin excited the enmity of the secessionists at Nassau, who on one occasion made a dastardly attack upon him, and inflicted serious injury to his person. He has returned home on account of ill-health.

☞ In Rochester, last week, a lad named William Dickson came to his death by being smothered in a bin of wheat at the large elevator there. In company with two other boys, he was playing in the wheat, when a team drove in below for the purpose of getting a load. The slide was drawn out, and, of course as the wheat ran through the spout, Dickson, who was directly over the outlet, was drawn down, and in a short time completely covered from sight. The alarm was given, the spout knocked off, and the wheat started from another outlet. The dead body was found half an hour after.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.—A private letter received at Boston from New Orleans, under date of July 24, says that a lighter schooner which was sent up the river a few days previously, to load sugar, was burned by guerillas, and the Captain wounded in three places. The ship J. P. Whitney arrived from up river on the 21st, with only 200 hhds. of sugar, having been obliged to cut adrift and run. Shipping is very scarce, many of the vessels having been taken to carry coal up river at high rates.

WEST POINT STUDENTS AND THE ARMY.—The highest class of West Point students are now three years in the Academy, and it is suggested that it would be a very judicious step to give them commissions in the army where there are now vacancies, or to give them appointments in the new regiments which are being raised under the President's call. They would perfect their education more by practical operations in the field than by theory at West Point.

☞ Mr. Simeon Draper, who has been appointed commissioner to carry into effect the recent order of Secretary Stanton, relative to the expiration of furloughs and the arrest of soldiers who shall neglect to return to the army by the 11th inst., has gone to Albany to consult with Gov. Morgan in relation to the subject. Before the 11th inst., he will visit the Governors of the Eastern States, and a general plan of operations will be decided upon. The police force of the country will probably be employed to arrest delinquents.

For the Chronicle.

KITTERY.—Last Friday we sent you, and on Saturday you published the resolutions, &c., adopted in town meeting by the citizens of Kittery, declaring themselves "ready and willing to present to our country our full quota of men and means, and more if need be." Since then five days only have elapsed, and to-day [Tuesday] that volunteer quota is complete and on the "forward march" to our country's rescue from vandal rebels, thieves and fiends. This glorious thirty-two of our own best athletic, moral, sober, whole-souled young men, this morning met at Armory Hall, and the Kittery Artillery and a band from Portsmouth to discourse sweet and soul-stirring music, with hundreds of our citizens, including many patriotic ladies, escorted these young heroes to the Kittery depot, where, while waiting for the train to take them to Portland and the 17th Maine Regiment, they were warmly, most feelingly and eloquently addressed by Mr. Prescott, of the Navy Yard, Rev. Messrs. Fobes and Rowell, Col. John L. Lawrence, and other friends in this town then present. On the arrival of the cars we exchanged with these heroic young men a sad, heart-felt, earnest adieu, and bidding them God speed, with a silent yet we believe universal prayer of that assemblage, which went speedily heavenward, that the Almighty arm will be with and shield them from harm, and ere long safely and gloriously return to us these our noble boys, of whom we are most truly proud.

And now the writer just learns that some thirty more stand ready to enlist when our country calls. With these noble and stimulating examples before us, shall we much longer hear of skulking officers and other cowardly absentees from our armies in the field? And how long shall our government and people be sponged by superfluous forces—a paid and fed "retired list" dubbed "Coast Guard." Hon. E. M. Stanton, Sec. of War, sees the humbug and says, in order of the 4th inst., "the regulations (under call for militia from the several States,) will provide for ridding the service of certain incompetent and unworthy persons now holding commissions," &c.—We heartily thank you, and all the truly loyal of the people say, Amen, and bid you go on in double quick time in this needed retrenchment and reform.

On Tuesday evening the citizens of Kittery filled the Congregational Church at Kittery Point, to listen to the strong and noble speeches of Rev. Messrs. Gage and Waterhouse, of your city, who came to congratulate us on our acts and deeds of faith for our country's salvation. G.

U. S. GUNBOAT CIMERONE,
Rgt. Wing Harrison's Landing, Aug. 1.

Sir:—I have the honor to report that at 12:50 this morning the rebels commenced a heavy fire of rifle and smooth-bore guns from the opposite shore on the right flank of the army, and the transport fleet. Their fire was rapid and apparently effective.—We of course opened on them immediately with our battery, and as soon as the range could be obtained by us it became strikingly evident that the fire of the enemy was less continuous and confident.

We appeared during the greater part of the cannonade to be the especial mark aimed at by their gunners, judging from the constant explosion of shell around us.—Their shot passed over us in every direction, but I am happy to say that we are spared from all casualities. The only injury sustained was the destruction of the gig, caused by the explosion of a rebel shell.

The officers and men behaved splendidly and did their work intelligently and effectively. To give you an idea of the affair, which lasted an hour, our nine-inch gun, in charge of Acting Master Ed. D. March, was fired with shell and shrapnell thirty times. The rifle hundred-pounder was discharged some seventeen times, and our howitzers forty-five times. We could have done even better than this but our primers did not perfectly perform their part.

When it is considered that two-thirds of this crew are "landsmen," and the majority unusually young, it affords me great satisfaction to bear testimony to their coolness, courage and quiet conduct working the guns. I would be doing great injustice to my executive officer, Lt. Bush B. Taylor, if I did not make this statement, as this good discipline is owing to his energy and untiring diligence.

The engines were in readiness for use at a moment's notice. The hot water hose led along and everything in readiness under the supervision of Chief Engineer Du Plaine, who with his whole corps zealously aided me in the fight.

All of which I have the honor to submit for your consideration.

Respectfully your ob't serv't,
(Signed) M. WOODHULL,
Commander U. S. N.

Flag Officer Charles Wilkes, Commanding James River Flotilla.

GEN. CURTIS' OPERATIONS.—In consequence of a report that Gen. Price was crossing the Mississippi into Arkansas, with troops and ammunition, somewhere between Napoleon and Vicksburg, Gen. Curtis started on an expedition up the river, and captured a rebel steam ferry boat, and a large number of other ferry and flat boats. Some of them were destroyed, the rest preserved for use.

FERRAM OUTDONE.—The great Excursionist himself never planned a cheaper or more inviting trip than the one to the Lakes, advertised in our columns this morning.

☞ Newbern advices of the 30th, state that M. J. Galvin, Co. C, 23d Mass. Regiment, was shot in the street while doing guard duty at night. The shot was fired from a house, and is the fourth attempt to murder the guards. All the habitations in the neighborhood were searched, and all suspicious characters jailed. Six or seven adjacent houses were demolished.

☞ Northern traitors have undergone a fresh stirring up the past week. A rebel officer from New Orleans named Johnson, has been arrested at Roxbury; a notorious "secesh" intriguer and blower named Partridge, at Norwich, Vt., has flown with several of his cronies, to avoid arrest; and the government is said to be after Vallandigham, the Ohio M. C., for some of his treasonable practices.

☞ News has been received from Indiana that Richard Thompson has raised a full regiment under the new call within ten days after he began the work. Mr. Stokes, of Tennessee, who was a member of the last Congress, has also just completed a cavalry regiment. The advices from Illinois and Indiana are encouraging.

☞ The N. Y. Commercial of Tuesday evening says the first accounts greatly exagerated the Brooklyn disturbance between Irishmen and negroes: it was all quelled by a dozen police, and less than 50 roughs had any hand in the action.

The Washington Republican denies the statement that the negroes of Washington are organizing secret associations for the purpose of protecting themselves in anticipation of a riot and a mob by the laboring classes of white men. The story is a fiction;—and no doubt was invented to serve some base turn.

Rebel dispatches in the Richmond Examiner of the 2d report a defeat of our forces at Courtland, Ala., by the rebel Gen. Armstrong. The rebel guerillas are said to have taken possession of Brownville, Tenn., and burned 3000 bales of cotton purchased by Northern men. Gen. Rosecrans' division is at Tuscumbia. Madisonville, La., is occupied by the Federals.

An assault was made by four U. S. gunboats on a rebel battery in Ogechee river, near Savannah, July 29, preparatory to more operations.

A rebel dispatch states that their cavalry stormed Summersville country seat, Nicholas county, Western Virginia, capturing the entire garrison, including Lieut. Col. Starr, a and 65 officers and men.

Washington dispatches of Wednesday say that McCracken, the rebel Engineer, who planned Fort Darling and superintended its construction, was captured near Fredericksburg.

By latest advices from Sperryville: eight prisoners have been brought in from beyond Madison. Three of them had been in the rebel army at Richmond, and one, a surgeon, was on his way there. Loyal blacks are coming into the lines in great numbers from the direction of Stannardsville.

Hints are thrown out in government circles that Mr. Lincoln is preparing a proclamation upon the subject of confiscation and emancipation.

The President is reported to have told the Ohio delegation that in his opinion to arm the negroes would turn 50,000 bayonets from loyal border States against us that were for us.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Post says, reports from Gen. Pope's headquarters state that the rebels are concentrating forces at Gordonsville with the evident intention of attacking Gen. Pope.

Several Governors of loyal States, including Gov. Buckingham of Connecticut, are here in consultation with the President in relation to the new orders for drafting.

NO STATE OR COUNTY FAIR.—At a meeting of the Board of Officers of the New Hampshire Agricultural Society, held at Concord, Monday evening, it was decided not expedient to hold a State Fair this year, on account of the gloomy and unsettled condition of national affairs.

And at a meeting of the Executive Board of the Rockingham County Agricultural Society, at Exeter, on Wednesday last, a similar decision was arrived at. So there will be no Rockingham or State Fair the coming Fall—though nature promises her best, and perhaps better shows than any previous, could have been arranged.—But under all present and prospective circumstances, of the war and its demands, we have no doubt the decisions of the officers of the two Societies will be approved by the public. We will say, however, respecting the County Fair, that all concerned, both in the Society and out, were ready to do their utmost for its success.

☞ Measures are being taken to organize a brigade for the defence of Washington. Among the employees of the Department, it is said that two thousand clerks can be enrolled for that purpose.

LAWS OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1862.

AN ACT in addition to and in amendment of the act authorizing cities and towns to aid the families of volunteers, and for other purposes, passed June session, 1861.

Be it enacted, &c. Section 1. That every city and town shall raise money, by taxation or otherwise, and if necessary, apply the same, under the direction of the mayor and aldermen of such city, or a committee, by them appointed for the purpose, or of the selectmen of such town, or a committee chosen at any meeting duly held for that purpose, for the aid of the wife, children and adopted children under the age of sixteen years, and parents, actually dependent for support upon any person who was an inhabitant, at the time of his enlistment, of such city or town, who is now a member of the volunteer or enrolled militia of this State, or as a volunteer in the navy or regular army of the United States, or who may be hereafter be mustered into the service of the United States; Provided, such persons are indigent and unable to support themselves, and stand in need of such relief, and the same is imperatively demanded by the circumstances of the case: Provided, also, that in all cases where any soldier shall, for no good reason, neglect or refuse to pay or allot at least one quarter part of his monthly pay for the aid of those dependent upon him, relief shall be afforded only to prevent extreme destitution. No disabilities of any kind whatever shall be created by reason of aid so furnished and received.

Sec. 2. Any town or city may raise and apply money as aforesaid, for the aid of the aforesaid dependents, upon any one of its inhabitants who has been duly mustered into the service of the United States, as a part of the quota of any other State, before the passage of this act.

Sec. 3. Of the same aid furnished by any city or town, for the support of the family or dependents of any inhabitant who may be actually engaged in the service of the United States, as provided in the foregoing sections of this act, there shall be annually reimbursed, from the treasury of the State, to such city or town, an amount exceeding four dollars per calendar month, for the wife, and four dollars per calendar month for each child or parent of such inhabitant, dependent upon him for support as aforesaid: Provided, that the whole sum so reimbursed shall not exceed twelve dollars per calendar month for all the persons named in this section so dependent upon any such inhabitant.

Sec. 4. Any town or city may apply money, in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of this act, for the aid of the widow or children dependent as aforesaid upon any of its inhabitants, mustered into service as aforesaid, who may have died while in the active service of the United States; or for the aid of such inhabitant himself who may have returned home, discharged from disability; and the same so expended shall be reimbursed by the State, under the rules and limitations provided by this act in other cases: Provided, however, that there shall be no reimbursement of more than eight dollars per month for any such disabled inhabitant, nor of expenditures made more than six months after the death or discharge of such inhabitant.

Sec. 5. On or before the first day of May in each year, a full and particular report, certified and sworn to by a majority of the selectmen or committee of each town, and by the mayor and a majority of the aldermen of each city, claiming reimbursement for money expended as aforesaid, shall be made to the State Treasurer; such report containing a statement of the names and service of the inhabitants of such city or town, whose families or dependents have been assisted, as provided in the first section of this act; the names and ages of the persons assisted, and the amounts which such persons severally bear to such inhabitants respectively; the circumstance of each case, showing the nature and kind of the relief afforded, and that the same was imperatively demanded as aforesaid, the sums paid to or for the support of each person, and the full amount due such town or city; and such report shall be carefully examined, scrutinized and approved by the State Treasurer, the Governor and Council, and by the Legislature.

That every foreign fire-insurance company, doing business in this State, shall, in writing, under its seal, appoint some person resident in this State as its agent, upon whom all lawful processes against said company may be served, which shall have effect as if said company existed in this State, and such service were made upon it; and in said writing shall provide and agree, on the part of said company, that any lawful process against said company which is served on its said agent, and all orders, decrees and judgments, in any legal proceedings duly had thereon, shall have the same force and effect in law, in all respects, as if said company existed in this State, and service were made on it. ☞ One day last week the Washington provost marshal had before him two soldiers in uniform, of a light form, who excited his suspicions. After being questioned they admitted that they were females and had been serving as privates in a regiment now in Pope's army, for many months. They were furnished with proper apparel and sent Northward.

A VALUABLE ACQUISITION.—Among the articles comprised in the cargo of the captured steamer Tubal Cain, were eighteen thousand stand of improved firearms,—very good for us.

☞ See pon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

NOTICE TO THE Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, to be held

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as good MATERIAL, INTELLIGENCE and ENERGY as the best. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and difficulty in the process of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the health of many, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a PHYSICIAN of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale his French Capsules, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y 3taw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

A. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every nature, having, by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country for advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

by any other Stove in the market, of whatever name. Therefore we ask those in want of the best Cooking Stove, to examine the

VENETIAN LIQUID

HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE. This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1840; since that time it has been used throughout the world, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

A CONFIRMED GRUMBLER.—Some time ago there lived in Edinburg a well-known grumbler, named Sandy Black, whose often-recurring fits of spleen or indigestion produced some amusing scenes of senseless irritability, which were highly relished by all except the brute's patient little wife. One morning Sandy rose, bent on a quarrel; the haddies and eggs were excellent, done to a turn, and had been ordered by himself the previous evening; the breakfast passed without the looked for cause of complaint.

"What will you have for dinner, Sandy?" said Mrs. Black.

"A chicken, madam," said the husband.

"Roast or boiled?" asked the wife.

"Confound it, madam, if you had been a good and considerate wife, you'd have known before this what I liked," growled Sandy, and, slamming the door behind him, left the house.

It was in spring, and a friend who was present heard the little wife say:

"Sandy's bent on a disturbance to-day.—I cannot please him, do wh at I may."

The dinner-time came, and Sandy and his friend sat down to dinner; the fish was eaten in silence, and on raising the cover of the dish before him, in a towering passion he called out—

"Boiled chicken! I hate it, madam. A chicken boiled is a chicken spoiled."

Immediately the cover was raised for another chicken, roasted to a turn.

"Madam, I won't eat roast chicken," roared Sandy, "you know how it should have been cooked!"

At that instant a broiled chicken, with mushrooms, were placed on the table.

"Without green peas!" roared the grumbler.

"Here they are, dear," said Mrs. Black.

"How dare you spend my money in that way?" said he.

"They were a present," said the wife, interrupting him.

Rising from his chair, and rushing from the room, amidst a roar of laughter from his friend, he clenched his fist and shouted:

"How dare you receive a present without my leave?"

☞ A Southern refugee declares that after the late battles, every man in Richmond possessed of 3 shirts, was compelled to give one to the army, such was the scarcity of clothing.

☞ During the past month the issue of nickel cents from the mint at Philadelphia, amounted to two million six hundred thousand coins. The coinage of gold for the month was only $121,920, and of silver $18,200.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c., and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1862.

GOV. SPRAGUE'S ORDER.

This document is worthy of attention.—Gov. S. says:

"The 6th Regiment, ordered by the Secretary of War, under date October 3d, 1861, will consist entirely of colored citizens. Enlistment will commence immediately. Our colored fellow citizens are reminded that the Regiment from Rhode Island, in the Revolution, consisting entirely of colored persons, was pronounced by Washington equal, if not superior, to any in the service. They constitute a part of the quota of Rhode Island, and it is expected that they will respond with zeal and spirit to this call.

The Commander-in-Chief will lead them into the field, and will share with them, in common with the patriotic soldiers of the Army of the Republic, their trials and dangers, and will participate in the glories of their successes.

Gov. Sprague is the right man in the right place to take this step. He was chosen Governor, in the first place, as a wealthy and popular young man, who was not an abolitionist, nor even a straight Republican,—and his election was hailed with joy by the proslavery press in New England generally.

When the war broke out, and the President called for men, Gov. Sprague moved with his men and his guns into the field of danger, and he fought with them at Bull Run. He was the only Governor that did this. And when a Senator of the U. S. was to be chosen in Rhode Island, Sprague was the man; for this office he received the vote of the Democratic party and of the Union party;—while the Republicans, as a party, ran no candidate against him, and some of them voted for him.

We suppose by this time it is fair to call him a War Democrat,—one who is not afraid nor ashamed to enlist a regiment of white men and another of black men, and lead them into the field!

We have never been able to see any good reason why the white citizens of our free States should be called upon, as they now are, to leave their families and risk their lives in battle,—and the black ones be so carefully kept at home and out of harm's way.

Gov. Sprague's Sixth Regiment, and twenty more just like it, would be valuable at Vicksburg or James River just now.

THE WAY TO DO IT.—The Boston Transcript says:

"The bounty of $300 offered by the town of Methuen, filled up her quota (47) in one day.

Weymouth's quota is 124 men. One hundred and forty have enlisted, and it is believed that within two days enough men will be raised for the new call for the extra 300,000 to make Weymouth exempt from draft.

The complement of Ipswich is filled, and we are assured that the same number will volunteer under the new call, so that a draft will not be required."

Notwithstanding the strong arguments in favor of drafting—the fact that it will put on Northern secesh sympathizers their share of the nation's burden, and equalize the toil of war on all towns and classes—yet we must confess that we regard drafting as opposed to the true spirit, though not the letter, of our republican institutions. And we wish it might be obviated, by the most liberal offers of bounties and pay.

☞ In Newburyport the City Government offered $200 city bounty to volunteers. The vote passed Tuesday evening. 125 men enlisted on Wednesday,—and the remaining 40 on Thursday. All will go to camp on Friday.

Haverhill, Mass., has raised its quota of 212.

The Portland Courier says:

"More Provincials are coming to Maine to enlist than there are skedaddlers pushing to the Provinces to escape the smell of gunpowder. Disgrace to the cowards, honor to the Provincials.

THE GULF STATES.—Nothing definite is known at the North in regard to the condition of the slaves in the Gulf States.—Some accounts state that they remain quietly upon the plantations, cultivating the grounds under the direction of the wives of the planters. A gentleman just from the South, informs the Boston Traveller that in the sections he visited, the inhabitants were likely to have considerable trouble with the slaves, who were rapidly becoming insubordinate,—having, in many cases, abandoned all labor.

They were moving about the country in bands, plundering wherever an opportunity offered. In fact the scarcity of provisions in some cases compelled the blacks to resort to theft to obtain food in sufficient quantities to sustain life. Should scarcity continue, and the negroes get desperate, a terrible future will be in store for the women and children thus left at the mercy of such a large number of men made merciless by the privations and sufferings consequent upon the rebellion.

Vanity Fair thinks a fur fast going out of fashion is the fur-lough.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP NEAR WESTOVER, VA., July 29.

Dear Uncle:— * * Happy, thrice happy was I to learn that the sons of the old Granite State were responding so promptly to the call of the Chief Magistrate of the nation. I would say to them, "Come one, come all, we welcome you to our decimated ranks—'few and faint, yet fearless still.'"—Now is the time to show yourselves men; now is the time to reinforce the army of the Potomac; and we promise you before the frosts of Autumn, we will carry our eagles in triumph into the rebel capital.—We are safe here, acting on the defensive; we defy the whole force of the enemy.—But with the superior resources of the North, why not at once reinforce our brave men here, before the enemy can recover from their recent terrible disasters, so that we may once more advance on their "last ditch."

To the brave men now enlisting will equal honor and glory be given as to us veterans, if we may style ourselves such from having seen fifteen months service and a half score of hard fought battles.—There will be but one more struggle—it must be desperate, but will be short. We must triumph, of a certainty. Those that survive can return to home and friends once more, with the proud consciousness of having risked even life in the glorious cause for which we are battling. I hope no one will hesitate in enlisting at once. Now is the time. Don't put it off till to-morrow, but now, to-day, at once, is the time. To-morrow may be to late. Half we been reinforced properly on the Chickahominy before the recent battles, it would have saved thousands of lives and millions of treasure.—Besides, it has prolonged the war at least three months. Let us, then, have no more delays; but rally at once, and strike the final blow. The enemy has staked his all on his capital—beat them here, and the war is irretrievably at an end. Their prestige abroad is gone, their capital lost, and they have not even a straw to catch at.

The weather continues very warm. We have no duty in the middle of the day.—Porter's Reserve Corps, which lost 8000 men in the recent engagements, is now reported for duty, and we are under marching orders the same as the rest of the army, viz. three days' rations, bread, coffee and sugar on hand at all times, men ready to march at a moment's notice. No sign, though, that we are to move at present.

S. H. M.

GEN. McCLELLAN'S ARMY.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, 6th.

The army of the Potomac has again assumed the offensive. The reconnoisance made yesterday under General Hooker to Malvern Hill, White Oak Swamp bridge, and in the direction of New Market and Richmond, was in every respect a complete success. The troops left the camp about dark, night before last, arriving at Malvern Hill at four o'clock yesterday morning, a distance of ten miles. Here they encountered two regiments of infantry and a battery posted behind earthworks. Fire was immediately opened upon them by Captain Benson's battery and a section of Captain Robinson's. The infantry was not engaged. The firing lasted about three hours, when the rebels ingloriously fled by the river road towards Richmond, hotly pursued by our troops, who succeeded in taking 100 of them prisoners. The loss on our side at this point was 3 killed and 11 wounded.

Col. Averill, with 500 cavalry, took the Quaker road to White Oak Swamp bridge. There they found the 10th Virginia cavalry drawn up to receive them. A charge was immediately ordered, which broke the rebel lines, when they fled. Col. Averill followed them three miles, taking 28 prisoners without losing a man.

Gen. Pleasanton, with a force of cavalry took the Newmarket road, on which a portion of the rebels were retreating. He followed them to within a short distance of Newmarket, when, meeting two brigades of rebels, he fell back, bringing over 30 prisoners taken on the way. Newmarket is ten miles from Richmond.

This ended the operations for the day, the troops going into camp on Malvern Hill. Gen. McClellan who went to the scene of action early yesterday morning, has not returned.

Three thousand of our prisoners will arrive to-day from Richmond, in exchange for a similar number sent up on Monday.

Everything is quiet on the opposite side of the river.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The question of the legal tender value of United States notes was decided last week in the District Court of Philadelphia. A bond made in 1861 specified that $28,000 should be paid May 1, 1862, "in specie, current gold and silver money of the United States of America." When it became due, the debtors tendered, instead of gold or silver, United States notes. They were refused, and suit entered to compel the payment in gold and silver. The Court decided that the offer of the Government notes was sufficient to answer the obligation of the bond, and the writ was set aside.

☞ The Memphis Bulletin of the 3d, reports that a fight occurred seven miles from town on Sunday, between a force of 4000 Federals and the rebels under Jeff. Thompson. The latter were driven back with great loss. The paper gives no further particulars. More fighting is anticipated.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In our army near Richmond, the N. H. 2d Regiment, Col. Marston, being on the extreme left, is now in advance of the entire army, and has been doing picket duty for some time past. The colonel has nearly recovered from his injuries, and is able to assume active command of his regiment.

—— The house, barn and out buildings belonging to Mr. John Huntington of Bennington, were entirely consumed by fire on Saturday morning about 9 o'clock. All the tools and some 20 tons of hay were destroyed. The fire was caused by a small boy playing with matches. The property was insured for $1000.

—— The dwelling house and barn of O. E. Eastman of Bristol, were destroyed by fire on Monday evening. They were nearly new, and were insured in the Western Massachusetts Insurance Company.

—— Major Daniel Smith, of the 7th N. H. Regiment, arrived at his home in Dover on Monday, from Port Royal, on a furlough to recruit his health, impaired by long residence at Tortugas and Port Royal.

—— Capt. Samuel P. Sayles, of Co. D, 2d N. H. Regiment, arrived in Dover Saturday, on a short furlough for the recovery of his health. Capt. Sayles reports the 2d Regiment in good health and spirits, though much reduced in numbers by the hard service it has seen, and ready for an "onward to Richmond" march, whenever the word is given.

—— The whole number of persons in Dover subject to enrollment under the new Militia law is found to be 934. The number in the service from that city at the present time is 331.

☞ Contrabands of all ages and sexes are making tracks from North Carolina to Portsmouth, Va. In Suffolk contrabands arrive daily and report themselves to the Provost Marshal. If they keep on coming in, there will be no hands left on any of the plantations south of Suffolk, Va.

☞ A Harrisburg, Penn., dispatch, of Aug. 6th, mentions the fact, that Gen. Wadsworth, by direction of the War Department, arrested the editors and publishers of the Patriot and Union, charged with issuing treasonable posters calculated to retard and embarrass recruiting throughout the State. The whole party left for Washington.

Something of the same kind is possible in New England.

☞ Secretary Welles is cutting down his long beard into fighting trim and clearing his decks for action. The contractors have received notices to hurry up the ironclads, and in every government navy yard and work-shop the greatest activity prevails. Let every Jack tar take a fresh quid and a final hitch to his trowsers, and then go in for glory, prize money and the constitution.—Post.

THE WEST.—It appears from the Cincinnati Times that our troops are leaving Corinth and all points in that vicinity south of the Tennessee river. The position of the troops on the north side of the Tennessee, hold ng the railroads on the east and west, will be fully tenable until the arrival of the troops of the new levy.

☞ Last week a band of guerillas entered Fayette, Mo., and robbed nearly every Union family in the place. One of the Unionists called in and armed his slaves, with whose aid he held the rebels at bay until some Federals arrived.

A clergyman once desired his clerk to give notice that there would be no service in the afternoon, as he was going to officiate for another clergyman. The clerk, rising up, called out, "I am desired to give notice that there will be no service this afternoon, as Mr. L. is going fishing with another clergyman."

☞ Geo. Lunt, Esq., editor of the Boston Courier, offers his share of that concern for sale, "at a reasonable rate, and has no doubt that the remainder of the concern, if desired, may be purchased at the same time."

☞ The National Republican states that Mr. Fay, late American Minister to Switzerland, who has returned home, urges the Government, if it would prevent foreign intervention, and enlist the sympathies of Europe to proclaim emancipation.

☞ From reports received in New York, Wednesday, the military authorities are confident that no drafting will be required to fill the quota of 300,000 volunteers on the 15th of August.

PERHAM OUTDONE.—The great Excursionist himself never planned a cheaper or more inviting trip than the one to the Lakes, advertised in our columns this morning.

☞ An officer from Tuscumbia, says that on Saturday some rebel cavalry burnt the station house at Leighton, ten miles from Tuscumbia, and the one at Jonesboro', fifteen miles from the same place, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

☞ The Jackson Mississippian says that Commander Brown, of the ram Arkansas, was wounded in the head at the time she ran the Federal fleet gauntlet.

☞ An immense loyal and war meeting was held in Washington on Wednesday afternoon.

RYE BEACH.—For the benefit of those who wish to visit Rye Beach, the correspondent of the Ballot "would just say that the following hotels are not burned:—"Atlantic House, Surf House, Washington House. A party numbering between thirty and forty came out from Portsmouth one evening last week, to the Washington House, and had a supper, dance, &c., and 'went home with the gals in the morning,' at half-past three."

BURNING OF A STEAMSHIP—180 Live Lost.—Steamship Golden Gate, which left San Francisco July 21 for Panama, with 230 passengers and $1,114,000 for New York, and $270,000 for England, was burnt at sea July 27, and 180 lives were lost. All the Treasure was also lost.

A later dispatch says the treasure will probably be saved, as the ship was beached.

GEN. POPE'S ARMY.—A deserter from Gordonsville reports a large rebel force there and reinforcements arriving daily.—The programme is to whip Pope and then McClellan. 140 citizens of Sperryville, who refused to take the oath of allegiance, were marched over the lines, Thursday. Gen. Sigel's advance corps is now subsisting entirely upon the rebels.

The greatest general officers in history arose from the ranks; and it matters not if we do enter humbly, if our services require it, a post of trust awaits us.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 16th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of the day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Sore Breasts, Sore Heads, Salt Rheum, Scald Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Ears, Swelled Nose, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Fresh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Weps, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Stiles, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the Skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family, and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money; and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

Price 25 cts per box. Manufactured by WM. GRACE, Amesbury, Essex Co., Mass.

M. S. Burr & Co, 26 Tremont street, Boston, wholesale agents. All orders addressed to this firm or the manufacturer, will receive prompt attention.

For the Chronicle.

VOLUNTEERS.—Many more young men of our city would long since have volunteered, had it not been for the numerous traitors who infest every corner of our streets, and are continually "running" the army and the Government. The question has often been asked, are there any secessionists in Portsmouth? I answer, yes!—If so, who are they and why not give them a "warning," as Napoleon does? And then should they not immediately cease talking against the Government and the army, and saying all they can and dare say in favor of the rebels to prevent young men from enlisting—why not arrest them at once and send them in charge of Provost Marshal Howell to Fort Warren? The names of some are—[here our correspondent gives the initials of about twenty well known "Democrats," so called—though their sympathies in this case are directly in favor of the most contemptible and despotic aristocracy the world ever saw.—Ed. Chron.]—I could name more, but those are sufficient for to-day. Now there are at least one hundred and fifty of this stamp in this city, therefore give them a first notice—their whole conversation is treason—and if they do not stop at once, hand them over to the Provost Marshal. UNION.

RECRUITS.—We are glad to learn that recruiting is now going on more briskly in Portsmouth, than at any time heretofore since the late calls for more soldiers. The State rightly offers more bounty for volunteers in old than in new regiments, and the city ought to do likewise, as Exeter and most other towns have done. But while to help fill up our old regiments is perhaps not quite so attractive as to go off with a new one, yet the experience in camp and field life of the old ones, renders the service in them easier, safer and really more agreeable.

Large numbers of men are also enlisting in the Navy here—three or four score on Thursday, we hear.

MANNER OF DRAFTING IN 1812.—One of our elderly correspondents, who stood a draft in Portsmouth in the war of 1812, says the company was called together and formed in a hollow square, the officers then prepared two boxes similar to drawing a lottery. In one of these was put the names of the company, say 100; in the other the number required, say 20, numbered in figures 1 to 20, and also 80 blanks. And most fortunate felt the man in this lottery (different from all others,) whose prize was a blank! J.

The same old gentlemen also tells us that this drafted company were afterwards marched down to the wharf, and refused to embark for Fort McClary, on the Maine side of the river,—preferring to go to Fort Constitution, and not "leave the State." They were dismissed till next day, when Capt. Walbach's company of marines from Fort Constitution marched behind the conscripts, with bayonets on the "charge," till the drafts were on board the boat.

☞ A young lady teacher in Indiana has just returned to her home in this city, on account of the closing of the seminary where she was engaged in teaching—many of the male teachers going to form a Company of Volunteers.

Another young lady, a resident of a neighboring town, who has for years been private teacher in families at the South, has just returned home from South Carolina—from which State she had considerable difficulty in escaping. She wore a sunbonnet, and took no baggage but a small travelling bag, and took cars first in an opposite direction,—that she might not be suspected of "going north." Even then, the party of which she was one, was shot at twice when crossing the lines of the two armies. This lady reports that the people in the section where she has been living, have all their wants well supplied; and she thinks the Confederates can never be subdued, but will establish a monarchy in a few years. Although all her acquaintances at the South have continued to treat her in the kindest manner, and she has always been attached to the South, yet the recent public events have led her to desire to exchange locations, and get under a government of the people once more.

☞ Among the visitors in this city, for the past few days, have been our New York correspondent "Newington"; also "Hesse" and "Bowdoin" of the Journal.

We regret to hear that our old contributor "Ion", who was last our correspondent from New Orleans, but from whom we have not heard direct for a year or more,—is a conscript in the rebel army.

☞ We learn that Mr. N. S. Payne, who has been at the Portsmouth Navy Yard for the last seven years, as Check Officer's clerk, is about leaving the Yard to engage in business elsewhere. Success to him.

☞ Wanted, 3 or 4 copies of the Chronicle of Saturday, Aug. 2.

☞ The draft proclamation made Wall street stocks more buoyant and joy marked the financial circles.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.
CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 24, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
W. F. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1861.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to eat quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

(From the Home Journal.)

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A. Crandall. It is not dangerous, like a common rocking horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. This latest of child-novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-saddles when required."

NEW HAMPSHIRE
MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.
NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, ASTILLERY AND ENERGY as the rest. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Cone and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HENRY M. CARTER, Corresponding Secretary, Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

July 12.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which renders the body and mind unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y Saw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

April7, 1862—1y Saw

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 25 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

VENETIAN LIQUID

HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1846; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unmeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has business more than he believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all of which ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending; such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra, and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the shoe being thicker on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, on usual and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

3000 rebel prisoners from Fort Warren and Fort Delaware went up the river from Harrison's Landing. The same number of Union prisoners from Richmond may be expected down the river, and the requirements of the Federal Government in regard to the exchange have been strictly complied with, which is understood to mean the release of Col. Corcoran and other Union officers.

Gen. Pillow's letter to his brother in regard to the slaves of the former renders interesting the fact that Gen. Curtis has freed all the negroes in question, 275 in number. Pillow has three plantations near Helena, on which all the moveable property was confiscated. Gen. Curtis has freed at Helena about 3000 slaves, chiefly those who worked on Forts Pillow and Donelson.

Capt. Gansevoort of the Adirondack has informed the Navy Department of the pursuit, by him, of the steamer Herald, represented by Nassau papers to be a British vessel. The Herald has been running from Nassau to Charleston with warlike supplies, and was returning to Nassau with cotton. She was commanded by Coxsetter, formerly captain of the privateer Jeff. Davis. The chase was not continued within British jurisdiction.

A Nashville dispatch of Aug. 7, says Gen. Robert McCook was shot by a party of guerillas, near Salem, Ala., while riding towards Winchester, Tenn., in an ambulance. His remains reached Nashville on Thursday evening. Capt. Brooks was captured. Our forces burnt the house of the rebel who led them into this ambuscade.

A detachment of Gen. McClellan's force occupies Malvern Hill. Its capture was made by artillery and our loss was small, only 20 killed and wounded. The rebel loss is much greater. 100 cavalry, men horses and equipage complete, were captured, and one small battery.

From Baltimore it appears there is quite a stampede of parties eager to escape a draft, some going to Europe, many to Canada, and others to various Northern States.—Many leading secessionists are fast disappearing to parts unknown.

Guerrillas are operating in Missouri—and a small fight lately took place near Point Pleasant, Mo., between some citizens and State troops in which it is reported that several were killed on both sides. It seems that the citizens bound themselves together to resist the enrollment act.—Troops were sent from New Madrid to enforce the law, and hence the collision.

The Cincinnati Commercial says of the reports concerning the capture of eight army paymasters at Humbolt, Tenn.:—"They are known here to be unmitigated lies. The rebels attempted to make the capture and failed. We do not see why such trash should be telegraphed."

A Northern civilian, who was captured by the rebels at Front Royal, and who has now got back to Washington, declares that Richmond has not been evacuated, nor are there any signs of pestilence. The rebel army lies east of the city, and he is confident its effective numbers have been greatly exaggerated. Stonewall Jackson, he says, is at Gordonsville with 15,000 or 20,000 men.

A small detachment of Pope's army, last Tuesday made a descent upon Frederick Hall Station, twelve miles from Gordonsville, on the Virginia Central Railroad, destroying buildings, stores, and about half a mile of the track.

Gen. Gibbon had a sharp skirmish with the enemy on the Richmond telegraph road, ten miles from Fredericksburg. A few prisoners were taken. We lost one man killed and several taken prisoners. Two of of Gen. Gibbon's column were wounded.—The enemy had been apprised of our advance, and came around on our rear from Bowling Green.

A gentleman from Knoxville, Tenn., reports that 15,000 rebel infantry, with a proportionate number of cavalry and artillery, were there, expecting to march into Kentucky at an early day.

Gen. McCork, when killed, was sick and on his way to his brigade. The guerillas upset his vehicle, and shot him while on his knees begging for quarter. He lived but a few hours. When the 9th Ohio Regt. learned the facts they marched to the scene, burned all the houses in the neighborhood, and laid waste the lands. Several men implicated were hung on trees.

Guerillas are rapidly increasing, and trains are fired upon. One man was killed and 13 wounded on the train for Columbia.

Cassius M. Clay, it is said, is likely to assume command at Cincinnati of the new department of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Prominent Kentuckians in Washington have been assured that troops shall be crowded into Kentucky as fast as raised in Ohio and Indiana.

Thirty thousand fresh troops in the Western States are ready for the field.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The town of Bristol offers $200 for each volunteer there who has enlisted under the late call, or who enlists before the 27th. It is said there will enough men raised there, for the three years call, and also for the nine months.

—— The American says Mr. Perry R. Emerson, formerly of Manchester, was lost at New Orleans with his family at the outbreak of the rebellion, was pressed into the rebel army, and in an engagement on the Mississippi was taken prisoner, and is now at Fort Douglas, in Chicago. His wife and family were sent North by Gen. Butler.—Mrs. Emerson has just reached Manchester with the remains of a child which died on the passage.

—— The Mirror states that enterprising and patriotic young men of Manchester are about forming a company and will offer their services to the Government for nine months. The company will have a treasurer who will receive all money for services and divide it equally among men and officers. This company will choose its own officers, and offers an excellent chance for any one to "go to war" in a picked company. The American has confidence that two good companies of volunteers for nine months can be raised there. Recruiting is brisk there now.

—— At the Amoskeag Mills, Manchester, notwithstanding a great number of enlistments have been made from the mills, the overseers and Superintendent, will, as far as possible, retain places for all employees who go to the war.

—— Tuesday evening the lightning struck the barn of Jonathan Ordway, on Hackett's Hill, Bow, setting it on fire, burning it, with two cows, several hogs and several tons of hay. It stretched by the shed to the house, which was entirely consumed with contents. The loss was large and there was no insurance. Mr. Ordway was not at home at the time.

—— Dexter Richards, of Newport, has recently purchased of the farmers in that town and vicinity, 30,000 lbs of wool, averaging about 40 cts. per lb., which he will manufacture into flannels for the New York and Philadelphia markets.

—— In the inquest on the body of Robert Smith, killed at Manchester, by one Durgin,—Joseph Whitford testifies thus:—"I keep the Manchester House. Robert Smith came to my place about half past 11 o'clock on Sunday forenoon last. He appeared to be intoxicated, had apparently been drinking; be drank twice at the bar; Mr. Peaslee helped him once; I gave him old rum once. I do not think he was there over a half hour at the outside. He was making some noise; I told him he had better sit down; I went behind the bar. Mr. Nathaniel Durgin and Smith had some words and I came back and stopped them, &c."

—— Durgin, who killed Smith, at Manchester, last Sunday, in a drunken quarrel, has been fully committed.

—— Lieut. H. D. F. Young, of Lancaster, 2d Regiment, N. H. V., has been promoted to 1st Lieut. and attached to Co. H, of the same regiment, his commission bearing date on the day of the battle at Williamburg. Lieut. Young enlisted as a private, on the first day that a recruiting office was opened in Coos, and since that time has discharged his various duties with honor to himself and the service.

—— Warren Tarbox, Esq., one of the Selectmen of Nelson, and a prominent and useful citizen, committed suicide by hanging, on the 22nd of July last. The Keene Sentinel says he had frequently told his wife of his intention to make away with himself some time. He appears to have been a man of property and character, but evidently a monomaniac.

—— Somersworth has sent 193 soldiers to the war, besides some fifteen men to the navy, and has more than furnished her quota to the requisition for three years.

☞ Gen. Patterson, the hero who did not help our army at the battle of Bull Run, has been making a speech lately, in which he says:—

There were only twenty-three woolly heads in the army, with the rank of General, out of two hundred and thirty. This difference must exist no longer. Pray, who brought on the war? The woolly heads.—Who prolong it by their interference with the army? The woolly heads. Why, we might ask, did they not make more Generals of that stripe? They would if they could, but they hadn't them.

By woolly heads we suppose the hero means republicans:—and if anybody besides him should wonder why we have so large a proportion of democrats as generals,—the whole thing may be made plain in a moment, by recollecting that the power in Congress and the Executive, has been in the democratic party for many years,—and the appointment of cadets to West Point has been mainly in the same hands. The result is natural,—and not wonderful in the least. Gen. P. is one of the results; but he is hardly a fair sample of the type.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

The Republic of Portsmouth—Glebe Lands—The Rebellion at Dover.—Mrs. Mason soon found that the income received from the estate here, would not justify the expense incurred. She neglected to furnish supplies, and her agents and stewards made her no more remittances, but in 1639 divided the goods and cattle among themselves. Many of the people left the plantations, and those who remained, kept possession of the buildings and land, and claimed them as their own.

The inhabitants of Portsmouth, having been destitute of any efficient government from the time of its first settlement to 1640, in that year entered into a social contract to establish a government among themselves. They elected Francis Williams, Governor, and Ambross Gibbins and Thomas Warnerton, assistants.

On the twenty-fifth of May, twenty of the inhabitants, including the Governor and one of the assistants, made a deed of fifty acres of land for a glebe to Thomas Walford and Henry Sherburne, church wardens, and their successors forever, as feoffees in trust. Twelve acres of this land is situated in the compact part of the town, and is bounded easterly on Court street, southerly on land of Rev. Dr. Burroughs and of the Universalist Church; westerly by land of the late William Sheafe, of the Rockingham House, of Wm. Stavers and others; and northerly by Congress street. The remainder of the fifty acres is situated on the road leading from the head of the North Millpond to the Plains. This land has been granted on long leases upon very small annual rents. The names of the subscribers to this deed, are Francis Williams, Governor, Ambross Gibbins, assistant, William Jones, Renald Fernald, John Crowther, Anthony Bracket, Michael Chatherton, John Wall, Robert Puddington, Henry Sherburne, John Lauden, Henry Tayler, John Jones, William Berry, John Pickering, John Billing, John Wotten, Nicholas Row, Matthew Coe, William Palmer. It appeared by this deed that a parsonage house and chapel were already erected on the premises. The parsonage house stood a little to the north of the present Universalist Church. The chapel was furnished with one great bible, twelve service books, one pewter flaggon, one communion cup and cover of silver, two fine table-cloths, and two napkins, which had been sent over by Mason. The people were not puritanical in their religious sentiments, but retained their attachment to the Church of England. Governor Winthrop says, "some of them were professed enemies to the way of our churches." They made choice of Richard Gibson, an Episcopal clergyman, for their first parson, and their worship was conducted agreeably to the ritual of the English Church.

Mr. Gibson did not continue long at Portsmouth. Having given offence to the government of Massachusetts, he was summoned before the Court at Boston; but upon his submission, and in consideration of his being a stranger, and intending to leave the country, "they discharged him without fine or punishment." It does not appear what his offence was, for which he was obliged to answer. At the present day it would be considered as a very arbitrary measure for any court to summon a person, belonging to another government, to answer for an offence committed without their jurisdiction, more especially as there then was a government established, whose courts had cognizance of every breach of the law.

Hanserd Knolles was minister of Dover, but many of the people were desirous of removing him for immoral conduct.—Thomas Larkham arrived from England about this time, and being a popular preacher, the party in opposition to Knolles employed him as their minister. Knolles' friends were the most numerous, and they excommunicated Larkham. A riot ensued; the parties armed themselves, and Larkham sent to Governor Williams, of Portsmouth, for assistance, who immediately went to Dover with a company under arms, and arrested Underhill, the Governor of Dover, and Knolles. Williams, acting as a magistrate, although without his own jurisdiction, tried them as rioters, and found them guilty; and having fined them, obliged them to remove out of the government.

The Territory of Dacotah promises to be one of the richest and most productive portions of the country. It is larger than all New England, being equal to seven States of the size of New York. It is said that Brother Jonathan has a few acres of land at the West outside of the Territory of Dacotah, enough for forty or fifty States. Take a note of that, Mr. John Bull. Wonder if there isn't a reason for—intervention.

☞ In answer to an inquiry, Gov. Andrew has been informed by the War Department, that if any State raises more than its quota under the call for 300,000 volunteers, the surplus shall be put to its credit on the draft for 300,000 militia.

"THE EPHIL DUER."—Some "conservative" reader of the Transcript sends us a communication headed with the inquiry, "What shall Be don with the Ephil Duer?" We decline publishing and answer the inquiry, give the "Ephil Duer" phlix.—Peoria Transcript.

ANOTHER PSALM OF LIFE.

What the heart of one egg said to another.

REPORTED BY BROWNFELLOW.

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Life is but an empty dream!
Chickens in their oval slumbers
Are by no means what they seem.

Life is real, life is earnest;
And this shell is not its pen;
Egg thou art, and egg remainest,
Was not spoken of the hen.

Not enjoyment and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to scratch, that each to-morrow
May find us fatter than to-day.

Art is long, and time is fleeting;
Be our bills, then, sharpened well;
Not like muffled drums be beating
On the inside of the shell.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the great barn-yard of life,
Be not like the lazy cattle.—
Be a rooster in the strife!

Trust no hawk, however pleasant;
And yet never be it said,
When the birds of prey were present,
You were skulking in the shed.

Lives of old cocks all remind us
We can make our lives sublime;
And when roasted leave behind us
Bird-tracks in the sand of time:

Bird-tracks that perhaps another
Chicken, dropping in the rain,
A forlorn and henpecked brother,
When he sees, shall crow again!

Let us, then, be after hatching,
With a heart for every fate,
Ever crowing, ever scratching,
Learn to cackle and to prate.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 16th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a benefactor of mankind. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Eyes, Swelling, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Flesh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Burns, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Skin, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of every description, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the Skin.

There are many who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other ointments, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family should especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand. For it will save them much trouble, suffering and money; and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily, from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

Price 25 cts. per box. Manufactured by WM. GRACE, Amesbury, Essex County, Mass.

THE DRAFT.

To the enrollment made in towns and cities will be added the number from each in the war and enlisted at home—and the share for each town estimated on that basis, for New Hampshire's part of the army.—Then each will receive credit for the number sent, and if there is a lacking it must be filled up by draft. Many towns are determined to have their share of volunteers before the 15th, to avoid the draft.

By some persons it has been said that the nine months' men must be drafted. But if they volunteer, why draft? The draft is ordered to make the matter sure and quick. If any town has volunteered its share, the law says that is all that is demanded:

SEC. 2.—Whenever, in the present or any future war, it may become necessary to make a draft upon the militia of this State, each town or city shall be called upon for its quota in proportion to the number of its enrolled militia bears to the enrolled militia of the entire State; and the volunteers which have been or shall be furnished by such town or city for such war, shall be accounted for as part of its quota.

This looks as if our enlistments for the sea service might be counted—but we are not sure of it. Enlisted men in the regular army or navy may not be counted. We shall soon see.

☞ Robert F. Gerrish, Esq., of Kittery Point, was waylaid near his residence last Wednesday evening by three soldiers, assaulted, and severely injured; and five soldiers, belonging to the same concern, came up on Thursday morning, with threats to attack John L. Lawrence, Esq., and other citizens,—on account of the resolutions which were passed at the late town meeting in Kittery, in relation to volunteers and home guards.

The civil and criminal laws of Maine, and the War Department of the United States, will soon regulate these matters.

☞ George Harris and Flora Temple have been brought before the S. J. Court, Portland, on a presentment by the Grand Jury, for keeping a house of ill-fame on Exchange Street. They had fled the city and were arrested in Portsmouth last Sunday; being pursued to this place by Marshal Heald of Portland.

☞ Among the callers at the Chronicle counting-room, yesterday, were John B. Clarke, Esq., of the Manchester Mirror, en route for the Shoals; and "L," the indefatigable Boston correspondent of the Ballot. We regret not being in at the time of Br. Clarke's visit.

A CARD.—Capt. Towle and Volunteers present their grateful acknowledgements to Mr. Richard Hilton, for his most acceptabld "treat" last evening; and also to the ladies of Wibird's Hill, for a delicious drink of lemonade this evening.

Portsmouth, Aug. 7th.

SNNDAY SERVICES.—We understand that Rev. H. K. Pervear, of East Cambridge, will preach in the Middle street Baptist Church to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. Hall, of Dorchester, Mass., is to preach at the Unitarian Church.

FIRE AT NASHUA.—On Wednesday afternoon a fire broke out in the forge shop of the Nashua Iron Co., situated on Hollis street, and in an incredibly short space of time it was totally destroyed, the materials of which the building was constructed being very dry and burning like tinder.—The company at present have a large contract with Government, to manufacture machinery, &c., for the new iron-clad gunboats now being constructed, and have recently put into the shop a monster trip hammer, which, with machinery, weighs about sixty-five tons, and cost $16,000. A new building is to be immediately erected, and the work resumed forthwith.

☞ Brigadier General Sickles promotes from the ranks, in accordance with the merits of the men under his command.—Hence, he has quite a number of excellent officers beneath him who entered the brigade as privates, and every volunteer fights under him with an inspiration arising from the consciousness that he is watched, and that every exhibit of superior skill or courage on his part will place him in the line of "safe precedents" as regards promotion to a higher position.

☞ John L. Swift, Esq., of Boston, who is well known to many people in New Hampshire as a stump speaker, made a speech at a war meeting in Roxbury, Mass., last Saturday evening, in which he told those present that he was going to enroll his name as a volunteer, and at once enlisted in Capt. King's company. To do this he resigned an office in the Boston Custom House worth $1500 a year.

THE OLD BOYS.—We learn that a letter has been sent to the President by some of the Old Boys of Portland, requesting him to confer upon Governor Washburn authority to organize a regiment composed of men between the ages of 45 and 60.—A capital regiment can thus be raised.—Make way for the Old Boys.—Port. Adv

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA; and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may25o

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my bosom, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum, and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And with bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give me relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble in any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add, that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our town in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruation, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, costiveness, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

were the commencement of a new era in the treatment of female complaints, all obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and when an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, unknown with certainty, yet edical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Sold by Druggists generally.

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

[From the Home Journal.]

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A Crandall. It is not dangerous, like a common rocking horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. The latest of child-novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-saddles when required."

Different sizes of these Horses may be seen at the store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.
NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles or exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the REST. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c., also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Cone and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HENRY M. CARTER,
Corresponding Secretary.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotics, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. These for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—ly Saw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had more experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MATHEWS'
VENETIAN LIQUID
HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR.—It neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, AUG. 11, 1862. NO. 9.

The Chronicle.

Volunteers throughout the free States, are coming in by thousands. A Washington letter says the reports received daily at the War Department are very encouraging. Troops are pouring in from all the States, and more will be in camp next week than the Government can properly arm. The War Department has, however, made the necessary arrangements to secure a full supply of arms, and long before the new levies can be drilled so as to be of actual service, good arms will be procured.

☞ The Boston Post is quite confident that Boston will raise her quota for the second 300,000 without drafting. Men appear willing to go for nine months, who could not go, except at great inconvenience and sacrifice, for an indefinite period.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have an advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set them, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The inventor claims that the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, if so call and

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1862.

ENROLLING, DRAFTING, &c.

We publish a paper this morning devoted in a great measure to Military Matters. Indeed military business is now the business of the country. We are in the midst of a great civil war, and must fight it out. The stronger we make our arm, and the harder we strike, the sooner it will be over, and the better for us.

In New Hampshire, our State enrollment is to be made over again, because it was not done right at first.

In Massachusetts, and of course here, under the same law, in the enrollment, all able bodied male citizens between the ages of 18 and 45 will be included. No exemptions will be considered in making the enrollment, but the proper exemptions will be made on proceeding to draft, if any draft shall be made.

Some persons have expressed the opinion that Militia, drafted or not, cannot be ordered out of the State, because they suppose the Constitution forbids it. The Constitution does indeed provide that the Governor shall not march them out without their consent or that of the General Court; but then the General Court has consented, by a law of the last session.

The Concord Statesman says: "It seems to be understood that the payment of money will not exempt a drafted person from service under the the last requisition for 300,000 troops. That is to say: The laws of the United States are paramount to militia laws of the States. A man, therefore, can procure a substitute, but not be released by the payment of sums specified in State laws."

We know it seems to be so understood,—but we don't see anything like it in the laws themselves. The new U. S. law, under which the draft is to be made, does not, to be sure, say anything about fines,—but neither does it say anything about substitutes.

The militia laws of the United States have always contained provisions for fines, and do so now, unless they have been repealed lately, or superseded by some new law which we have not seen.

The order of doing the business now will be this. The U. S. War Department will make requisition on the Governor of New Hampshire for so many militia,—and when they are raised by volunteering, or draft under our laws and our own officers,—they will be accepted by the U. S.

The men, therefore, who run away to avoid the draft, are frightened out of their propriety by a danger comparatively small, and they run into a greater danger; for if they come back within the six months they are liable to be picked up as deserters!

☞ Numerous applications have been made to the War Department by railroad companies to exempt their employees from militia duty; it has decided that none but locomotive engineers in actual employment when the draft is made, can be exempted. The exception of telegraph operators is upon the ground that they are practicing an art necessary to military operations, and which being known to comparatively few persons, their place cannot be supplied.

☞ George C. Hersey was hung at Dedham, Mass., on Friday, Aug. 8, for the murder of Betsey Frances Tirrell. Shortly before his death he made a written confession of the crime for which he was to be executed; but in the same document he says he is innocent of the death of his wife and Mary Tirrell,—though he has been strongly suspected of murdering both of them, ever since the proof became clear that he poisoned Betsey Frances. Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D., of Boston, was his spiritual counsellor, and baptized him just before his execution.

☞ Capt. Cadwalader Ringgold, of frigate Sabine, now at New London, has been promoted to the rank of Commodore. Com. Ringgold is a native of Maryland, from which State he was appointed. He entered the service March 4, 1819, and his captain's commission was dated April 2, 1836.

THE NEW YORK MILITIA LAWS.—According to a recent militia law of New York, the enrolled militia is divided into two classes, those between the ages of eighteen and thirty years constitute the reserve of the first class, and those between the ages of thirty and forty-five years constituting the reserve of the second class.

☞ Hon. Sir Allan Napier McNabb died on Friday afternoon at his residence in Toronto, of gastric fever, after a short illness. He was 64 years of age.

THE REBELLION.

In the West there is renewed activity against guerillas. In the encounters which have recently occurred, the Unionists have generally been successful. Such is the exasperation of the people, that guerillas hereafter may expect little quarter.

Notice is officially given by Secretary Seward that until the requisitions of the War Department on the several States for quotas of their militia shall have been complied with, no passports will be issued for any male citizen liable to be drafted.

Gen. Burnside's army is in camp at Fredericksburg, ready for a movement.—Gen. McDowell's command, on Wednesday, was at Culpepper, and Gen. Banks' at Woodville. Gen. Sigel's corps was moving from Woodville on the 7th, and Gen. Banks, it was thought, would be beyond Culpepper on that day.

A New York dispatch states that Admiral Dupont has trustworthy information that two rams are nearly completed in Charleston harbor, and that he expects that a concerted demonstration will be made by the rams of Charleston and Savannah, acting in conjunction with the powerful land force of Gen. G. W. Smith.

Important movements are progressing on the south side of James river.

The rebel ram at Savannah is said to be the British steamer Fingal, covered with railroad iron and armed with fourteen guns. She is commanded by J. Pembroke Jones, executive officer of the Merrimack.

OFFICIAL ORDERS.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, has issued the following important orders:—

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D.C., Aug. 8, '62.

An order to prevent the evasion of military duty and the suppression of disloyal practices.

First—By direction of the President of the United States, it is hereby ordered that until further orders, no citizen liable to be drafted into the militia, shall be allowed to go to a foreign country, and all marshals, deputy marshals, and military officers of the United States are directed, and all police authorities, especially at the ports of the United States on the seaboard, and on the frontier, are requested to see that this order is faithfully carried into effect, and they are hereby authorized and directed to arrest and detain any person or persons about to depart from the United States in violation of this order, and to report to L. C. Turner, Judge Advocate, at Washington city, for further instructions respecting the person or persons so arrested and detained.

Second—Any person liable to draft who shall absent himself from his country or State before such a draft is made, will be arrested by any Provost Marshal or other United States or State officer, wherever he may be found within the jurisdiction of the United States and conveyed to the nearest military post or depot and placed on military duty for the term of the draft, and the expenses of his own arrest and conveyance to such post or depot, and also the sum of $5 as a reward to the officer who shall make such arrest, shall be deducted from his pay.

Third—The writ of habeas corpus is hereby suspended in respect to all persons arrested for disloyal practices.

Order Authorizing the Arrest of Persons Discouraging Enlistments.

Ordered, first, that all United States Marshals and Superintendents or Chiefs of police of any town, city or district be, and they are hereby, authorized and directed to arrest and imprison any person or persons who may be engaged by act, speech or writing in discouraging volunteer enlistments, or in any way giving aid and comfort to the enemy, or in any other disloyal practice against the United States.

Second—That immediate report be made to Major L. C. Turner, Judge Advocate, in order that such persons may be tried before a military commission.

Third—The expense of such arrest and imprisonment will be certified to the Chief Clerk of the War Department for settlement and payment. (Signed)

EDWIN M. STANTON.
Secretary of War.

FOREIGN.—The steamship Scotia passed Cape Race on Saturday morning. Earl Russell justifies the vigilance of the Federal cruisers at the Bahamas. The Tuscarora suddenly left Southampton in chase of the steamer Merrimack, which, with a large cargo of ammunition, &c., for the Confederates, had been lying in Plymouth Sound since the 7th of June, and hastily put to sea, bound for Nassau. The Merrimack put back to Holyhead, where she lost all her crew. The Tuscarora was at Queenstown, watching for her.

——The 9th Regiment is full, and nearly all the recruits are in camp. The Regiment will be ready to leave by Tuesday, the 19th, without fail. The report that Col. Fellows is to resign appears to have no valid foundation. Lt. Col. Stevens has not yet accepted his appointment. He has been ill at Washington for some time, but will visit Concord this week and give his decision. Should he prefer to remain as Major of the Second, Nat Head, Esq., of Hooksett, has been proposed for the office of Lieut. Colonel.

—— Adj. William N. Cook of the 9th Regiment died at Dover on Thursday morning. He was a member of the class of '63, Dartmouth College.

THAT EXCURSION to the Lakes, &c., comes off to-morrow, Tuesday—the train leaving Portsmouth at 6 o'clock precisely. Some particulars of the route, and the sights to be seen, are given in the advertisement—but the half is not told. We never heard of so varied and attractive a trip at so low a price—only one dollar, with accommodations for all hands to "picnic" among themselves, in such parties as they choose; and with Conductor Langley to take charge of affairs, there need be no fear but that all arrangements will be satisfactory.

Besides, as the train will return by the same route it goes up, any person or parties who prefer, can spend the day in Manchester, Concord, or elsewhere on the route.—As the number is limited to the comfortable accommodation of all, it is desireable that tickets be secured early by all who wish to participate in the pleasures of the day.

If the weather is not suitable on Tuesday, the excursion is appointed for the first pleasant day.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Concord, August 8, 1862.

To the Selectmen of the Towns and the Mayor and Aldermen of the Cities in this State:—

The return of enrolled militia received at this office, in conformity with the order for enrollment, issued July 12, 1862, is inequitable and imperfect in many respects.

A new enrollment will be ordered under a requisition just received from the War Department of the United States, with specific instruction, which is to be completed and forwarded immediately.

From the first enrollment above mentioned it appears that the proportion necessary to complete the quota of this State, not including the nine months' men, is about thirty five per cent. of the total enrolled militia in each town, counting those now in the service of the United States. Towns and cities can continue raising men before the bounties already offered shall cease, and all men furnished will be placed to their credit in estimating their quota after the return of the new enrollment.

By order of His Excellency the Governor.

ANTHONY COLBY,
Adjutant General.

THE LOSS OF THE GOLDEN GATE.—Further particulars of the loss of the Golden Gate have been received. She sailed from San Francisco July 21st, having 242 passengers and a crew of 95 men. On the 27th, at 4.45 P. M., when 15 miles north of Manzanillo, an alarm of fire was heard. The steamer was promptly headed for the shore, 3 1-2 miles distant, the flames meanwhile making fearful progress. At 5:15 the steamer struck the beach, and those who had not got into the boats jumped overboard and endeavored to swim ashore.—About 100, including 5 children, swam or were washed ashore. The ship burned to the water's edge and soon disappeared. 78 of the passengers reached the shore and made their way to near Manzanillo. One boat has not been heard from, but it has probably made the shore south of Manzanillo.

☞ It is stated that in order to meet the requirements of the Government, seven out of every twenty-two of the enrolled militia of the loyal States will have to volunteer or be drafted.

☞ Newburyport offers $100 bounty to volunteers for nine months, with the usual State aid to their families. Enlistments have already commenced.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

At a meeting of the Trustees of this Society, held at Exeter on Wednesday, the 6th inst. the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

Whereas, at the last Annual Meeting of the Society, it was voted to hold a Fair in the Fall of 1862, if then deemed advisable; but in view of the deplorable state of the country, and the urgent calls upon the public for men and money, and the imperative duty of all to use every effort to suppress this wicked and unconscionable rebellion, at the sacrifice of everything else—therefore,

Resolved, That the Fair of the Society for the year 1862 be omitted.

Voted, That the Members (if any) whose names are omitted from the Catalogue, are respectfully requested to inform the Secretary.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N.H., Feb. 20, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the sole charge from her infancy of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large number had seen and tried the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of your Sweet's Panacea; and she has now been entirely cured by the use of this Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my neighbors, who were afflicted, and have heard of many full cures effected by it, since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or fail to work the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.

CALVIN H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife, is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called the Itch, which broke out on my legs and feet causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH HOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited off my food immediately after taking it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure in my case; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

SKEDADDLERS IN TOWN.—We are informed by a gentleman just arrived in town from Portsmouth, N. H., that many are leaving that place for Prince Edward's Island, in order to evade the draft; and that two persons of that stamp are now in this city.—Portland Press.

We hear of a few sneaks of the sort above referred to—and of all such it may with truth be said, that they "leave their country for their country's good"; but it will be news to everybody here, that "many are leaving to evade the draft."

☞ We learn that Hon. John Dame, of this city, has consented to open a recruiting office in Portsmouth, immediately,—a large number of young men having offered to volunteer, if Mr. Dame will go as Captain. Matthew Thornton Betton, a grandson of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, is talked of for Lieutenant.

☞ We understand that meetings are to be held in Greenland, Rye, North Hampton, and perhaps in other New Hampshire towns in this vicinity, to day, (Monday,) to consider the matter of offering bounties and aid for Volunteers. It is about time all the towns were stirring, it would seem, if they wish to escape a draft; and there is a chance yet for each town to raise its quota, if all loyal men take hold in earnest, even now.

☞ We are told that Kittery pays her Volunteers more bounty than any other town in Maine or elsewhere—$320 in all, by appropriations and subscription.

We learn that Mr. John Rogers of Kittery, who claims lineal descent from the martyr of the same name, is to recruit a Company for the quota of that town for the second 300,000.

☞ The late stringent Orders of the War Department, concerning the squelching of Northern secessionists and traitors, needs to be enforced in Portsmouth and some other towns in this vicinity. While all their talk about resisting a draft, taxation, &c., is the sheerest nonsense—since the State of New Hampshire and the United States are rather hard pricks to kick against,—yet the treasonable prating does doubtless do some harm, in discouraging enlistments and exciting opposition to the people's government.

☞ Mr. Thomas Tredick is fitting the store on Market street, long occupied by Mrs. Hills as a millinery establishment, for the dry goods business, and will shortly resume trade there. Misses Hills will continue their millinery on the second floor.

Among the new buildings going up in the city, we notice that Mrs. Hills is erecting a fine residence on Islington street, just below Cabot—which leaves hardly a vacant lot on Islington street, between the parade and the Creek. Mr. Burnham C. Dennett is the architect.

Mr. G. V. Rowe has been appointed Sutler to the 9th Regiment, N. H. V., now in camp at Concord, in place of Mr. N. F. Mathes, resigned on account of the death of his partner in business in this city. It will be seen that Mr. Rowe requests immediate settlement of all his business here.

Mr. H. L. Garrett announces the opening of his new grocery and provision store, No. 89 Market street.

☞ During the severe thunder storm which passed over our city and vicinity on Saturday afternoon, the house of Mr. Bradbury, in Kittery, near the Portsmouth bridge, was struck, and a daughter of Mr. Bradbury slightly injured. One or two others in the house received slight shocks. The building, which we understand has a lightning rod, was not injured.

☞ Mr. Sides advertises a new Hack this morning, added to his stock—and it is certainly one of the handsomest carriages of the kind we have seen,—light, roomy, and very easy. No similar place that we visit, turns out such a stock of hacking coaches as Portsmouth; and this new one is among the best of them.

☞ We refer our readers to our advertising columns, for an opportunity to purchase one of the most desirable residences in Portsmouth.

"THE AMERICAN FLAG" is the subject of a new Lecture by Prof. Alonzo Tripp, of Roxbury. The Prof. has lectured in this neighborhood very acceptably, and we hope he will be called to give our citizens his last timely production.—Ports. Jour.

☞ Capt. Towle's Portsmouth Company of Volunteers goes to Concord to-day. The excursion to-morrow offers all who wish it, a fine opportunity to visit the camp of the Ninth Regiment at Concord, and spend a good long day there.

☞ Senator Hale was in town on Saturday, and visited the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where he was received with the usual salute.

☞ Gen. Negley, in command of the Federal forces at Columbia, Tenn., has arrested ex-Senator A. O. P. Nicholson, for declaring that he was a sympathizer with the rebellion.

PORTSMOUTH MEN!—TO YOU.

This war cannot last a year longer. We can end it before that time if men will come forward. If we do not end it, it will end us. Which shall it be? Look at some Home Truths.

1. If we do not volunteer at once we must draft. 300,000 volunteers will do more to cheer the country and send dismay to rebels and meddlesome foreigners, than 500,000 forced recruits. A man who will go if he is drafted, can go with more honor and more profit as a volunteer. There is no bounty to a drafted man.

No man goes to this warfare at his own charges. The pay is enormous. Suppose this war lasts another year. The lowest private gets $738 for the year, and the highest sergeant over $800, with a chance of promotion and extra pay, with a pension from the Government. Foot up the items:

Government bounty, part of it in advance,	$100
State bounty for every private,	150
The City adds so this,	100
A man at home must support his family. For an absent soldier, with a wife and two children, the State allows $12 per month—for the year,	144
A man at home must pay board and tailors' bills. Government allowances for rations, when not drawn, is 40 cents a day—for the year,	146
Allowance for clothing, $3.50 a month,	42
Pay of a private, $13 a month,	156
Making private's pay for the year,	$738
And when promoted to 1st Sergeant, the pay is $21 a month, $8 more; for the year add	96
Showing highest pay of enlisted men to be,	$834
$10 additional to such as go in old regiments.

This is certain, paid whether you are sick or well, and whether it rain or shine, and in these hard times. How many men in good business are making half of it? And besides this, the Government will give liberal pensions at the close of the war.

3. A man who gets a commission without enlisting, gets no bounty or clothing or equipments, so that the shrewdest way is to begin in the ranks. The commission may be won, and is of double value when won on the battle-field. Promotion is rapid from the ranks.

4. A young man may go into this campaign, take care of himself, and get experience worth through life ten-fold more than all it costs. You will be proud of what you have done, and be honored by it till the last day of your life. You will be ashamed and sink into insignificance when all is over, if anything but plain duty elsewhere kept you from sharing in these sublime events.

5. "But what chance does a man stand of coming out safe?" A better chance than any child in our schools stands of living another year. The soldier must meet sufferings and privations. But the mortality among the children of Portsmouth is greater than among the soldiers of Portsmouth. This is literally true. Look danger full in the face. If you are to die this year, you cannot dodge it by staying at home. And if you are manfully doing your duty, you can trust in God to take care of your life.

Facts utterly contradict the impression that the loss of life has been terrible. If General McClellan could get some batteries of sensation letter-writers into position against the enemy, they would mow down the whole rebel army in a few hours.—There has been much sickness at times, and the casualties have been great in some battles, but when the facts are calmly verified the actual loss of life is surprisingly small.

Our soldiers have had their share of hardships and disease, and they have been in the thickest of the fights, and they have endured and have dared as bravely as ever soldiers did. The companies are weakened in various ways. Many were sent home by government surgeons, as unfit for duty, and should not have been enlisted; others have been disabled by disease, accident and wounds; and others still have perished in battle. But let us be thankful for the fact which the records prove, that no more of these gallant men have been killed and died, in proportion, than there have died out of the same number, in the same time, in our healthy city.

Portsmouth, August 11, 1862.

CITY COUNCIL.—In the Board of Aldermen, at a special meeting, held on Saturday evening, the joint committee to whom was referred the subject of the distribution of the relief fund, made their report, which was accepted, and ordered to be printed.

An ordinance was received from the Common Council, increasing the bounty to Volunteers, under the first call for 300,000 men, from $100 to $200. The bill was passed. By its provisions, Volunteers who had already enlisted under the recent call, and who form part of the quota from this city, are entitled to the bounty, as well as those who may enlist previous to to the 19th inst. The bounty of $200 is in addition to any bounty offered by the State.

A joint resolution from the Common Council, appropriating the sum of $10,000 for the relief of the families of Volunteers, was referred to the committee on bills on second reading. The previous appropriation of $10,000 is nearly exhausted.

An order was passed, directing the Committee on the Fire Department to introduce water into the several engine houses.

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

[From the Home Journal.]

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A. Crandall. It is not dangerous, like a common rocking horse, for children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. This latest of child novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side saddles when required."

Different sizes of these Horses may be seen at the store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in this city.

MAKING CHANGE.—In 1837, when the banks suspended specie payment, silver change became as scarce as at the present time, and the premium obtained for it led to throwing it out of the legitimate channel of business. At that time Mr. Thomas Hurd was the toll gatherer at Portsmouth Bridge. He was ready to do everything to accommodate travellers, but had a sense of right which he would not readily relinquish. One day in that year a traveller from a country town offered a dollar bill to pay his twenty cent toll. Mr. H. asked if he could not make the change, but the traveler would only offer his bank bill. "I can only make change for you one way," said Mr. H. as he gave him eighty cents in silver, for silver change is scarce, and is worth a premium." Who buys change, and what is it worth? said the stranger, who exhibited to Mr. H. something like a pack of packages of silver pieces in a box in his carriage. Finding that Mr. H. was not desirous to purchase, he drove into town.

In the course of a few hours he completed his business, and with his carriage he might be seen at the toll gate presenting another dollar bill for his toll. "You must now make change" said Mr. Hurd. The traveller refused, and declared his right to pass. "You don't pass here to-day without making change," firmly said the toll gatherer. "I will have you prosecuted for delaying me," was the reply. "Very well," said Mr. H. "just call on Squire Cutts, in town, and he will do the business for you," at the same time taking his horse by the head, he turned him back to make way for other carriages in waiting. The indignant traveller rode back to town, but as he did not again appear at the toll gate, he was evidently ashamed of his business, and took either the circuitous route through Newington or Newmarket and Dover to reach his home on the border of Maine.

A batch of incompetent regimental officers was dismissed from service a few days since. Provided no mistake was made in the selection, the country should feel thankful, for not a few who wear shoulder straps deserve to be cancelled out. Another excellent promise is, that in future a good part of the promotions shall be made directly from the ranks. This is in accordance with the system in France, and it is to this one principle more than any other that the superiority of the French army is to be attributed.

By the prompt raising of 300,000 men the last whisper of foreign intervention would die away. We imagine that few of the additional levy will see active service in the field, but will give the prestige of numbers, and stand ready all prepared in case the worst should befall our arms. The mere fact of their being ready and equipped will of itself prove a terrible blow to the rebels, not only at home but abroad.

TERRIBLE FIRE AT PROME, BURMAH.—The N. York Chronicle publishes the following extract from a letter written by Rev. Dr. Kincaid, Baptist Missionary to Burmah, to a friend in this country, giving an account of an extensive fire in which the mission and the Christian families suffered great loss:

"On the 19th of this month (April), a fire broke out in the southern side of the town. The wind was fresh and steady, but moderate from the south; and, as the fire spread, increasing greatly. There had not been a drop of rain, of course, in five months, and everything was crisp. In less than one hour the heat became so intense that fearful whirlwinds were produced, which stripped the roofs from buildings, and lifting the fiery masses to great height scattered them in all directions. The noise of these whirlwinds were like distant thunder, and the flames leaped from house to house, in one great ocean of fire. In less than four hours nothing was left that could consume.—Even brick buildings supposed to be fire-proof, were destroyed.

It was heart-rending to see thousands of men, women and children, of all ages and ranks, fleeing for their lives; mothers agonizing for their missing children, and children for their missing parents. Thousands rushed into the river to escape the intolerable heat. About twenty are reported as having perished in the flames; 4500 houses are burnt, and 5000 families without a shelter, or article of furniture, or cooking utensil, and the rainy season is just at hand. Besides the houses, a vast amount of merchandise and other property is destroyed.

The chapel which I built last year, and had been finished but seven months, is gone. All our Christian families but two, which live on the windward side of the fire, have lost everything.

RENEWED DEATH OF BEAUREGARD.—It will be remembered that General Beauregard, after his retreat from Shiloh, was, at his own request, relieved from duty. He made the request on account of severe illness, and at once retired to Mobile, where, it is now reported, he died on Monday of sore throat. We give this rumor just as it reaches us. Beauregard has been the life of the Rebellion in this region. When Beauregard left this city to superintend the assault on Fort Sumter his hair was black and his form was erect. In less than eighteen months his hair has become quite grey, and he has exhibited all the appearances of a broken man.—New Orleans Delta, 17th.

DRAFTING.—The law of Congress on the subject of drafting, says the Dover Enquirer, authorizes the President to make all necessary rules and regulations, if by reason of defects in existing laws, or in the execution of them, in any of the States, such regulations are found necessary. The clause in our law, exempting persons drafted on the payment of $75, appears to appertain to service exclusively in the State, and will not, it is presumed, be of any effect under a draft by the General Government.

The Guirilla mode of warfare, a system of private murder and robbery, irresponsible as any other banditti, is sanctioned and approved by Jeff. Davis and his presses; and this is another reason why the proposed 300,000 volunteers should at once take the field, to be followed by 300,000 more; an imperative call, to be at once drafted if not otherwise forthcoming.

A CAMP MEETING of the Methodist denomination will be held at New Market Junction, commencing on Monday, Sept. 1, and probably continuing through the week.

Capt. Towle's enlistments up to Friday morning, amount to 42. They will probably leave for Concord on Monday.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

The Chronicle.

☞ Hon. Geo. E. Badger, of North Carolina, has written a letter to Congressman Ely, of New York, in which he says—

"There is in North Carolina no Union feeling as you suppose, and as is probably supposed by the generality of Northern men. There was in this State a strong Union feeling, which induced the people by a very large and overwhelming majority, to vote down the purpose of seceding from the Union on account of Mr. Lincoln's election. But as soon as Mr. Lincoln's proclamation of April, 1861, appeared, offering us the alternative of joining in an armed invasion of our Southern sister States for their subjugation, under the pretense of executing the laws, or resistance to the authorities of the United States, our position was taken without a moment's hesitation."

That is to say, they were in favor of a Union which was less powerful than a rope of sand to hold any two things together,—but they were against a Union which had any power to be a terror to evil doers.

In another part of the letter Mr. Badger says:—

The North may be able (though we believe it not) to conquer us, and even to keep us conquered; and if it should be the wise and good purpose of Almighty God that this should happen, we shall endeavor to suffer with patience whatever evils may befall us. But a voluntary return to any union with the North, this we cannot and will not accept upon any terms; a revival of Union sentiments—this is a mere impossibility.

This is very distinct and plain;—we must conquer them, and rule them too,—or they will conquer us and rule us with a rod of iron.

HEAVY ROBBERY.—Ivory Littlefield of Kennebunk had his store broken open Wednesday afternoon, and $2700 in money taken from the safe, in which the key had been left, while the clerk temporarily stepped out to the depot. The thief, an hour afterwards, was apprehended while in the act of hiring a horse with which to decamp. The whole amount of the money was recovered. The rogue is said to belong to Wells.—Portland Press.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials bel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has the abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him also, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending; such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1862.

U. S. DRAFTING REGULATIONS.—These have been sent to the several States, and are plain and specific. The enrollment embraces all able-bodied citizens from 18 to 45, and in this enrollment must be the names of those who are now in the U. S. service, with that fact stated, and the capacity in which they serve.

Commissioners of enlistments must be appointed in each county,—who will attend to exemptions, drawing a red line through the names of exempts, including all those exempted by State laws, and also the names of those now in the U. S. service.

Able-bodied substitutes will be received on certain conditions plainly set forth.

Nothing is said about a commutation or fine, to be paid by a drafted man: but from the fact that the State law is regarded, as to exempts, it might be inferred that it would also be regarded as to fines.

It is to be presumed that if New Hampshire, by her own laws, brings forward her quota, the U. S. Government will not meddle with the matter,—and her laws include the ransom of $75.

We perceive that a correspondent of the News Letter considers the allowance of a fine of $75 by a drafted man,—to be a departure from democratic usage and principle. It is not so: the State of New Hampshire, under democratic rule, fixed the fine at $50,—and it remained so for years:—this year the fine was raised to $75,—and this is now the law.

FOREIGN.—Foreign news to the 3d has been received. Various rumors are still current, especially on the Continent, as to the intended mediation in American affairs.

Sir P. B. Head advocates in the Times that the cheapest defence for Canada is for England to proclaim a system of retaliation, such as if America invades Canada and burns Toronto, England will bombard and burn Boston, &c. During a party debate in the House of Commons, Messrs. Cobden and D'Israeli reviewed and generally deprecated the Ministerial policy during the last session. Lord Palmerston spoke in defence of the hasty action in the Trent affair.

U. S. steamer Tuscarora left Queenstown on the evening of the 1st, destination unknown.

There are rumors of the early marriage of the Prince of Wales, either to a Danish or Prussian Princess.

Garibaldi has issued a proclamation to the volunteers assembled in Sicily, announcing that the time for action has arrived.—The destination of the expedition is unknown.

STRENGTH OF NORTH AND SOUTH CONTRASTED.—The following shows the whole able bodied force of both North and South. The usual enumeration is of the men between the ages of 18 and 45, but this does not give the whole strength of a nation available for warlike purposes. Should a war last three years, lads between 15 and 18 could be made use of before the war was over. At a pinch, also, men between 45 and 50 could be used.

The number of white men in the loyal States between 15 and 50 years in 1860, according to the U. S. Census, was 4,960,703.

The North and West have drawn on this force thus far, for army and navy 900,000. Leaving to draw 4,060,703.

In the Seceded States the number was 1,268,822. The South has drawn upon this force thus far 500,000, leaving 768,822. Border States—Kentucky and Missouri, 488,276.

This table shows the enormous advantages the loyal States possess over the disloyal in men; the figures giving the wealth and resources of the North would be quite as startling as a matter of contrast. If, with this superiority, we fail, then as a nation we deserve to die.—N. Y. World.

☞ A plan is on foot in New York to get up a drafting insurance company, after the style of similar institutions in Europe.—They propose, for a certain sum, to become responsible for persons liable to a draft, and in case of their being drafted the insurance company is to find a substitute.

NEWPORT OFFERS A BOUNTY OF $500. Newport, R. I., Aug. 10.—At a special meeting of the City Council, yesterday afternoon, it was unanimously voted to pay a bounty of $500 to each recruit enlisting to fill the quota of the city in the old regiments for the war unless sooner discharged. This, with the bounty from the State and Government makes a total of $615.

☞ The United States steam frigate Lackawanna was successfully launched Saturday morning at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. She was named by Miss Cooper, daughter of Commodore Cooper, United States Navy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A runaway horse in Manchester, on Saturday, ran over a little girl and a carriage which she was drawing, containing a child. The horse and wagon passed completely over the party, knocking the girl down and smashing the child's carriage to pieces, but only slightly bruising the face of the child.

—— The boys at the State Reform School have got the war fever badly, and five or six will enlist.

——The trustees of Dartmouth College have added one week to the present vacation, so that the Fall term will commence on the 5th of September. Commencement hereafter will be held one week earlier than heretofore—on the last Thursday but one of July. This lengthening of the Fall vacation will be compensated by shortening the Winter vacation one week, and giving up the week which has usually been granted between the Winter and Spring term.

—— Mr. R. M. Bailey, Treasurer of the Belknap Mills of Laconia, authorizes the agent to pay a bounty of $25 to every man employed in the mills, who shall enlist before the 15th, and to assure them they shall have situations on their return, at least, equal to those they now occupy.

—— The amount of travel to the Mountains by Centre Harbor and Conway, is one third more than last year.

—— The Tenth Regiment has now nearly all the officers named. The Quartermaster and Surgeon have been appointed, and four or five hundred men will be ready to go into camp this week. The Regiment will be about one-half Irish and half American. In Manchester there are two Yankee Companies pretty well advanced, and men enough recruiting to form probably three of adopted citizens. In Nashua there will be a Company mainly Irishmen. Also in Dover and perhaps in other places. A majority of the officers appointed to enlist are Americans. The field officers are all American born, though two of them are of Irish origin.

—— The following appointments have been made under the Internal Revenue bill:—

New Hampshire. 1st District—James M. Lovering of Exeter, collector, and Geo. M. Herring, of Farmington, assessor. 2d District—Hon Herman Foster of Manchester, assessor, and John Kimball, Esq., collector. 3d District—Daniel Wheeler of Oxford, collector, and Calvin May of Keene, assessor.

—— Elbridge G. Harmon, of Manchester, color bearer of the 10th New Hampshire Regiment, is six feet ten and a half inches in height. He is a native of Gilmanton.

—— Rev. Samuel B. Stewart, of Farmington, Me., has accepted the invitation to become the pastor of the Unitarian Society in Nashua, but requests that the commencement of his labors be deferred to the first of April next, and the Society has granted his request. In the mean time he proposes to visit Europe, partly for the benefit of his health and partly for the purpose of further prosecuting his studies in Germany.

—— A son of Henry P. Rolfe, Esq., of Concord, 8 years of age, was drowned in the river at Concord, while bathing, on Wednesday.

—— On Thursday afternoon, the house, barn and out buildings, of Mr. Daniel Farnum, two miles from Concord, were destroyed by fire. There were about forty tons of hay in the barn, which, with a very valuable horse and several swine, were consumed. The contents of the house were saved. The amount of insurance is understood to be $2,500—not at all adequate to cover the loss.

—— The Nashua Cornet Band, 17 pieces, all enlisted at Manchester, on Thursday. The Mirror states that they enlisted as privates of the 9th Regiment, and are to be detailed as musicians.

☞ Information is wanted of Eliza Myles, who has not been seen or heard from since 1852. The last that was heard from her, she was in Boston; and it is supposed she is in some of the Eastern States. Any information of her whereabouts would be thankfully received by her brother.—Address Wm. H. Myles, box 2,468, Post-office, New York City.

☞ It is said that the Hartford Bridge Company has introduced the practice of taking the rate of exchange in giving silver change for a bank note; for instance, if you hand them a dollar bill, they give back 84 cents—1 cent for toll and 15 cents for premium on silver.

☞ Gov. Washburn, on Friday, commissioned Lieut. Ames, of the 5th U. S. Artillery, Colonel of the Maine 20th Regiment, and Prof. J. L. Chamberlain, of Bowdoin College, Lieut. Colonel. He also commissioned Andrew J. Stinson, Kittery, Captain Company K, 17th Regiment.

☞ The University of Vermont, at the recent commencement, conferred the degree of A. M. upon Mr. Thomas W. Holloway, of Boston,—a native of Newburyport.

☞ There are not so many fighting men in all the rebel States as there are in New York and Massachusetts. So says an exchange.

THE REBELLION.

The telegraph reports that the Petersburg Express has a Richmond dispatch, that Gen. Van Dorn, in a dispatch to the rebel Sec. of War, states that the rebel ram Arkansas has been blown up. She left Vicksburg on Monday, to co-operate in the attack on Baton Rouge. While an attempt was being made to adjust her machinery, which had become disabled, our boats attacked her. Her officers and crew, after "a gallant resistance," abandoned and blew her up. They reached the shore in safety.

Admiral Farragut, with the Hartford, Richmond, Brooklyn, Oneida, Iroquois, and the rest of the fleet, arrived at New Orleans on the 19th ult., anchoring off that city.

Gen. Scholfield reports that Col. McMill, with 1000 men, whipped Porter's forces, 2500 strong, at Kirksville, Mo., on the 7th, and again near Stockton on the 9th. Col. McMill reports Porter's forces demoralized and broken up. Cobb and Poindexter are still to be attended to.

A battle was fought on Saturday between Gen. Banks and Stonewall Jackson. The rebels, under Jackson and Ewell, crossed the Rapidan in force. Gen. Banks attacked their advance guard, 15,000 strong, on Saturday afternoon, about 6 miles south of Culpepper Court House.—Until 6 o'clock the fight was almost wholly with artillery; but at that time the infantry became engaged, and a determined and bloody contest followed. The rebels had greatly the advantage in position, and Gen. Banks' right wing, under Gen. Williams, suffered severely. At 7 1-2 o'clock Gen. Pope arrived from Culpepper, accompanied by Gen. McDowell, with a part of his corps. But the battle was then substantially over, Gen. Banks holding the same ground he occupied in the beginning. After Gen. Pope's arrival there was an artillery contest, continuing at intervals until nearly 12 o'clock. The losses are very heavy on both sides,—not less than 2000 or 3000 killed, wounded and missing on each side. Gen. Banks was rather severely hurt by an accident. A cavalry trooper ran against him, and he was struck heavily in the side. The rebel Gen. Wilder was wounded. Some prisoners were taken by Jackson and Ewell. Reinforcements under Gen. A. P. Hill, to the amount of 18,000 men, reached the rebels about the same time ours arrived.

The N. Y. Herald's account of the battle of Culpepper gives the following;—

About 4 o'clock Gen. Pope and staff went on the field and were greeted with vociferous cheers. The General rode to the extreme front in the thickest of the fight, and came near getting into a rebel ambuscade, but he discovered his danger in time to avoid it. We took several rebel prisoners. At 5 o'clock, hungry and wearied, the troops of Gen. Banks were relieved by portions of Gen. McDowell's command and fell back half a mile. Some of the men incautiously made fires, and this revealing our position to the enemy, they commenced shelling us. Their firing was generally excellent, soon compelling our soldiers to move back toward Culpepper. It is certain that Gen. Winder (rebel) is killed. Jackson was wounded slightly in the hand.—Gen. Saxton is mortally wounded. The rebel force engaged in the battle was from 15,000 to 20,000. Our wounded were sent to Washington. Two pieces of artillery and a large number of small arms were captured from the enemy. The number of our wounded is large, but the wounds are generally slight. The number killed is small. On Sunday morning the rebels were not in sight in front, but indications were that they were reinforced on Saturday night, and were attempting to flank our movements. Nothing had been heard from Gen. Buford at Madison Court House.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch says Governor Sprague was roused at daylight by a special messenger, and started immediately for Gen. Burnside's army. It is believed that Gens. Burnside and Pope were in some way to co-operate, and this sudden sending for Governor Sprague is regarded as indicating speedy activity.

A Washington dispatch, dated half-past eleven Sunday night, says it was then considered certain that there had been heavy fighting at Gordonsville on Saturday afternoon, and perhaps on Sunday. Advices from other quarters indicate that our movement has not been confined to Gen. Pope's army alone.

☞ At a meeting in Rye on Monday, it was voted to give their volunteers $400 bounty. Six men forthwith stepped up and entered their names for the War.

At a meeting in Greenland on Monday afternoon, it was voted to give volunteers from that town for three years $300, and for nine months $150. Eight men at once expressed their desire to go. Charles W. Hatch, Esq., is recruiting officer.

☞ We understand that Horace Bacon, Esq., of Epping, counsellor at law there, visited Concord on Saturday and procured enlistment papers, came home and made a war speech in the evening, and on Monday morning began to recruit—getting 25 men before the morning train left for Portsmouth.

It is said 40 men enlisted at Newmarket on Saturday.

THE BOOK OF DAYS, No. 6, is just issued by J. B. Lippincott & Co. of Philadelphia—and the work is one of the deepest historical and general interest.

CAPT. MCGUNNIGLE AND HIS TRIP UP WHITE RIVER.—The Chicago Tribune contains a communication from its correspondent giving the incidents of a trip up White River, Arkansas, a short time since, by the intelligent and brave young officer whose name is given at the head of this article, and who is now in town for a few days at the Rockingham House. The facts and incidents stated will give the reader a good idea of the spirit and principles controlling the south western rebels. The Captain fully believes that nothing will avail in the prosecution of the war on our side, short of a resort to the most stern usages authorized in putting down a rebellion. We must conquer or be conquered.

Capt. McGunnigle is now engaged in constructing the largest iron-clad steamer on the Mississippi, and which is now well under way. We are pained to learn his extremely bad state of health under pulmonary disease, by reason of which he has a short leave of absence. He is a native of St. Louis, where his father's family still resides, one of the most hospitable in the city. Patriotism and heroism from such a quarter are entitled to double honor.

Readers of the public prints who have never taken a ride upon a steamer or an unprotected railroad car, passing through an enemy's country, where each tree conceals a savage and relentless foe, whose boast is that in default of strength to cope with you manfully in the field, he will resort to assassination and shoot you as you pass his ambush, as he would a wild beast,—can never fully realize the danger encountered by the late excursion of the steamers St. Louis, Cincinnati and Mound City, up White River; from which hazardous undertaking they have but recently returned.—To stand in the ranks upon a battle field does not require the courage that is called for in exploring an unknown region, where river banks are covered with timber, behind which you can see the guerrilla rifleman, his weapon at rest, the black muzzle pointing at your breast. And that was the kind of experience Capt. McGunnigle was called upon to go through on his late trip. He tells me that in making the passage from St. Charles eighty miles up and into Arkansas, he has not the least doubt he was fired upon in this manner more than fifty times. And yet, strange to say, he was not struck, and only one of his men killed. Col. Fitch, being with his force upon wooden transports, was not as lucky, having lost four men. I have already related how he proposes to retaliate.

The first difficulty Capt. McGunnigle had to encounter was to obtain the services of a White River pilot. None presented themselves. When commerce was the business, and not war, plenty of such men could be found in Memphis and all along the river. But now not one could be brought to accept the post. The captain said all he asked was one who knew the water in the stream. His own pilot would manage the wheel. A gentleman by the name of Goss finally said that he had travelled the river and studied it for years, and knew its every crook and turn, but he knew no more of a steamer's tiller than a school boy. This man volunteered to undertake to point the way. His services were accepted and the gunboats started. For a wonder, the gentleman piloted them as safely as the most accomplished river pilot could have done, and the trip up and down, notwithstanding the low state of water, was made without extreme difficulty. But not a mile did they pass without being fired upon from the shore. There is an incident connected with the impromptu White River pilot, of the St. Louis, worthy of being related.

After the purpose of the expedition had been accomplished, and St. Charles had been captured; while on his way back to this port, Capt. McGunnigle, when sitting in his quarters one evening, was visited by the pilot, Mr. Gross, and a request was made that he might, during the next day, be allowed to go on shore at Helena to get his wife and child whom he had not seen for a year, but with whose anxiety to join him he had been made acquainted by letter. The captain is as generous as brave, and at once consented, and said that proper guards and a boat should be furnished.

Rockingham Co. Agricultural Society.

At a meeting of the Trustees of this Society, held at Exeter on Wednesday, the 6th inst., the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

Whereas, at the last Annual Meeting of the Society, it was voted to hold a Fair in the Fall of 1862, if then deemed advisable; but in view of the deplorable state of the country, and the urgent calls upon the public for men and money, and the imperative duty of all to use every effort to suppress this wicked and causeless rebellion, at the sacrifice of everything else—therefore,

Resolved, That the Fair of the Society for the year 1862 be omitted.

Local.

WHAT IS THE REASON?

Mr. Chronicle:—Will you tell me, or shall I tell you, what the reason is that the full quota of Portsmouth to defend our flag, is not sooner forthcoming? Is it that our wealthy men, our merchants, have not done their share? No doubt they have done something—perhaps they think, a great deal; but what is 5 or 10 per cent. of any man's property, or twice that, even, to sustain his government, and perhaps protect his own personal liberty or life?—Well, the recruit, the noble volunteer, puts his life in jeopardy more or less,—places his body between the best government on earth, and the shots of ruffianism which are aimed at it—and he ought to be well paid, and his family amply provided for.

In this view, we rejoice, and all loyal citizens will rejoice, that our City Government has at last raised our City bounty to $200; and we hope they will also offer $100 at least to the nine months' quota.—And is it not time that our "heavy" men should start a new subscription, to give yet higher bounty, if necessary or advisable? and to aid Volunteers and their families yet more than the City or State can do?—These things are done in most other cities, and Portsmouth is as able to be liberal as almost any other place.

And another thing—we want our first-class young men in the ranks; and to get them there, we must have active young men, congenial to them, for officers. In this view, we regret to learn that a highly influential citizen—a Christian gentleman, who would at once wield "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon"—has concluded that he cannot recruit the Company of fine young men who were anxious to serve under him.—Capt. Towle has worked long and hard to enlist and fit men for the service; and besides, has always been liberal of pains and money, to develop a military spirit in our midst; and has given his only son to the service of his country, after educating him therefor at his own expense—and we think is fairly entitled to a commission.—Capt. Hill has proved himself a good soldier and efficient officer, in Mexico; and has since served in very high capacity with the N. H. 3d. He is now recruiting in this city,—and will do all that can be done for those who enlist with him.

But there is another, younger man, in Portsmouth, who we think should long ago have had a commission; and under whom, we think, a class of our young men would rally, whom it is difficult for most to reach. We refer to Mr. NATHANIEL J. COFFIN, a worthy and gallant son of old Portsmouth, who enlisted as private in the Mexican war, won great honor at the storming of Chepultepec castle, where he was the first man inside unharmed—and for his uniform and determined bravery was twice breveted, and promoted to Orderly Sergeant. He has since been concerned in two or three campaigns or series of skirmishes with Indians in California and Oregon; was a member of the splendid corps of the California Vigilance Committee; and afterwards Sheriff of a County in that State.—so that he has doubtless seen more actual service than any man among us. As a school-fellow, we know him to be active and fearless, yet affable and popular, and we should deem him to be possessed of rare qualities as a commander. We know not whether he would accept a commission now or no; but we feel sure that our city, our State and our country need the services of all such true-hearted, experienced and loyal men, in this our day of trial. At all events, "let us all be up and doing"—and may it never be true of any of us, that we failed to "do what we could" for the cause of good government and the people's rights.

JUSTICE.

☞ Capt. Towle's Company of Volunteers, enlisted in this city for the 9th Regiment, left their camp on Market Square on Monday afternoon, and took the cars for Concord. They were escorted to the depot by the Portsmouth Light Guard, in drilling whom Capt. Towle has been so active and efficient. They were accompanied by Knight's Brass Band, who kindly volunteered their services on the occasion. The volunteers numbered 55 men, and we doubt not, should they be called into active service, will reflect honor on our city.

☞ A drill corps, recently organized by several of our young men, have found it impossible to obtain arms from the State, and are therefore unable to drill. Those of our citizens who own muskets would at once confer a favor on the club, and aid in keeping alive in our young men the desire to become proficient in military drill, by lending them to the club.

☞ A little boy about eight years old, named James McFarland, fell overboard from a wharf near the Spring Market, on Monday, about noon, and was drowned.—His lifeless body was recovered about 2 o'clock, and conveyed to his father, Mr. Archibald McFarland, who lives in Hill street.

☞ The Excursion train for the Lakes, &c., starts from the C. & P. Railroad Station in Portsmouth, this (Tuesday) morning, precisely at 6 o'clock—returning this evening per same route. By the advertisement, it will be seen that a baggage-car is to be attached to the train, so that baskets of eatables, &c., can be carried.

The tickets were all sold on Monday P. M., and consequently many who wished to go, were unable to obtain them. We understand that for the accommodation of such persons there will be another excursion at the same price at a very early day.

☞ Mr. Frank Jones, a young man not quite 18 years old, (son of Capt. Edward Jones,) formerly of Portsmouth, who was a member of a Lynn Company of Volunteers, and participated in the battle of Bull Run, and has been in numerous actions since, was killed by the explosion of a shell at the battle at Malvern Hill, last week.—A soldier at 16 years, and a martyr hero ere the age of drafting was reached—what a rebuke is his brave example, on those who are hunting up reasons and excuses for not doing their duty to their country.

☞ We are informed that after long and earnest consideration of the matter, Hon. John Dame has decided not to raise a Company of Volunteers in this city, on account of severe physical disability, which renders him incapable of military duty.

☞ See pen fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

[From the Home Journal.]

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A. Crandall. It is not dangerous, like the common rocking horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. This latest of child-novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design, and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-saddles when required."

Different sizes of these Horses may be seen at the store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in this city.

Morning Chronicle.

VIGOROUS PROSECUTION.—By a "vigorous prosecution of the war," (says the Boston Post,) we understand this: "That the President shall have three hundred thousand—or, if need be, six hundred thousand more men in the field; so that in every contest we may have a decided preponderance of force, and may run no hazard in any instance. That thus our armies may move with resistless might, and overwhelm the enemy in every encounter.—That our forces may have the privilege, accorded in all ages by the laws of war, of foraging on the enemy's corn and cattle.—That, in short, they may take and use whatever they find, animate or inanimate, belonging to the enemy, which they may need, provided they do not engage in malicious and wanton devastation and plunder, to the infliction of needless suffering and the utter demoralization and ruin of themselves. That wherever they find mules or slaves that can render them valuable and necessary aid, it is the right and duty of our armies to avail themselves of their aid. That the Government should tax all the energies of the nation—physical and material—to suppress the rebellion.—That our armies should advance with all the activity compatible with certain success, until they shall occupy every inch of the American soil. These are some of the features of a vigorous prosecution of the war."

NEW HAMPSHIRE
MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.
NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden
IN PORTSMOUTH,
To commence on the 15th of September,
AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the REST. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Painting, Shell work, Cone and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be directed to HENRY M. CARTER,
Corresponding Secretary,
Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

NONDESCRIPT VEHICLE.—Favored citizens of Dorchester and Roxbury have recently had glimpses of a horseless carriage running merrily over the smooth roads at the rate of from ten to fifteen miles an hour, turning out for other carriages, and turning round with perfect facility, and in every way conducting itself like a self-possessed and well-behaved vehicle. The new comer seems to be quite a success. The whole establishment is light; and there is no apparent reason why it should not be the beginning of a decided revolution on the highways and byeways, ending the era of fast nags, and depriving Rarey of his merciful vocation by rendering it unnecessary. It is a locomotive carriage moved by steam, the invention of an ingenious mechanic connected with the watch factory at Roxbury.—Transcript.

DELAY OF RAILROAD TRAINS.—The trains from Boston have been ten or fifteen minutes late almost every day for a week. We have heard no other excuse for the delay than the dense fogs that have prevaied. We would advise putting a snow-plowion, and thereby make an effort to come in on time.—Portland Price Current.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (ussd 16 Ar. 1857.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form and sufficiency for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1862.

TOWN QUOTAS.

Many people, we think, says the Salem Gazette, "have erroneous ideas respecting the plan of grabbing men from anywhere for the sake of 'filling up a quota,' to use a common term. The towns which enlisted men came from are no doubt specified at the State House; and they already constitute a part of the quota of those towns, whatever they or anybody else may desire to the contrary. Those towns will no doubt willingly pay them bounty on application. The idea that the paying off of these men by a city or town from which they did not enlist would relieve that city or town from any of the consequences of a draft, is, to our view, erroneous. It is true a town which fills up its quota with citizens of other towns, will have more men to draft from when a draft is made; but it is equally true, now that the assessors are to make a new return of the enrolled militia, (and presuming that a draft will be based upon that return,) that these towns will in consequence show a larger number of available enrolled militia, than if their quota had been filled by their own citizens, and consequently more men will be required of them. On the other hand, the assessors of those towns which men have left to enlist in other places, will present a proportionately smaller number of present available enrolled militia, and, if the draft should come, fewer men will of necessity be required of such towns. A volunteer may, therefore, in the past, have called himself a citizen of the place where he receives his money and which chuckles over having one more recruit for its quota; but he really counts to the advantage of the place where he actually comes from so far as drafting is concerned; and it is physically impossible for him to count to the advantage of any other place."

All this appears natural and reasonable, as applied to different towns in one State, —but where transient persons, or new comers, like the Canadians in Maine and Vermont, volunteer in Portland or Burlington, as citizens of those places, they will probably go to fill up the quota.

DRAFTING IN THE WAR WITH ENGLAND.—The draft of men of 1814 received no bounty, but on the contrary had to furnish their own equipments, including gun, cantoen, cartridge box, and twenty-four rounds of ammunition. Their pay from Government was $8 per month. Offers of substitutes were numerous, but very few were accepted.—Exchange.

Some of this is true, but much of it is erroneous. It is true that all militiamen, in that day, were by law required to find their own arms and equipments,—and when drafted or detailed many of them used their own guns:—but this was not true of all,—for we have seen a drafted company of 100 men come upon the Parade with not more than 20 or 30 guns of all sorts;—then march to the arsenal, leave all their old guns, and march back with 100 new ones all alike.

We never heard before, that the drafted men found their own ammunition. It was not true then: we don't believe it now.

It is true their pay was small; but it is not true that able-bodied substitutes were generally rejected. We know of many who served here,—and some made a good thing of it,—for those days.

When our enrolled militia shall be reorganized, as we suppose it must be by another year,—it would surely not be a great hardship for every soldier to own or procure his weapon.

Had our old militia system been kept up at the North, we could have been ready with 100,000 men, and cannon enough for them, in Washington, in a single week after the war began.

No unarmed Pennsylvania regiment would have been turned back from Baltimore,—nor could the rebels have run such a riot as they did, before we could arm and organize our men.

We shall need a militia now, and for ages. Nothing of the kind is so good as a general, almost universal, arming, inspection and drill, annual, semi-annual, or quarterly.

☞ Madame Alboni recently received an invitation to a ball from a lady moving in the best circles of Parisian society. The celebrated songstress wrote in reply to inquire whether the invitation was addressed to Madame Alboni or the Countess Popili as Alboni charged $200 when she went out to spend the evening, and the Countess charged nothing. This would-be hostess wrote that she invited Alboni. Alboni begged to be excused.

THE REBELLION.

Port Royal dates of the 7th mention the capture of the British steamer Sadona as she was trying to run the blockade. She has a heavy cargo.

Volunteers are offering themselves rapidly in Kentucky. 1000 cavalry over the quota have already been enlisted, and there will be no need of a draft for infantry in that State.

A dispatch to the Boston Herald says: Gen. Pope reports that the fighting on the Rapidan had not been renewed since Saturday. His forces occupy the battle field and his headquarters are at Culpepper.—The rebels are in force two miles beyond. The late battle was brought on by the energy endeavoring to prevent a concentration of our forces preparatory to an attack on Gordonsville. Gen. Pope has been largely reinforced since the battle.

The correspondent of the New York Times, writing under date of the Army of the Potomac, 10th, says Gen. Hooker retired from Malvern Hill on account of 75,000 rebels being sent against him.

Gen. Pope telegraphed to Washington on Monday that he had advanced his own army that morning to the position lately held by the enemy. Other accounts state that it was thought on Sunday that the purpose of the enemy could hardly be a flank movement, and the impression became general at Gen. Pope's headquarters in the field, that instead of seeking to renew the fight, the rebels were either seeking a new position in the rear or skedaddling.—Gen. Burnside is said to be on Jackson's right flank.

☞ Advices from San Francisco by telegraph are to the 8th inst. The ship West ern Continent had arrived from Hong Kong with dates to June 7th. Fourteen pirates had been sentenced to be hung. News had been received from Honolulu to the 12th ult. It is unimportant. Intelligence from Arizona without date states that Gen. Carleton with the California Volunteers had reached the Rio Grande without opposition. The rebel Gen. Sibley had withdrawn his force from New Mexico into Texas. The Apache Indians attacked two companies of our cavalry as they were passing through the Mesilla valley, killing 7 and wounding several. The Indians were repulsed with great loss.

☞ Tuesday was so warm and pleasant, that it was gratifying to those of us compelled to endure the dust and heat of the city, to know that some of our friends were enabled to enjoy the day in those delightful trips to the sea-shore, which all of us desire to make at such a season as this. And the glorious evenings which have recently been granted us, with their soft moonlight and balmy air, drawing us away from the cares of business and luring our minds from the contemplation of the sad events which our dread civil war is constantly producing, might well inspire us with better and nobler thoughts than it is our wont often to indulge. Would that they might excite within us better thoughts of life, and cause us to think not only of the sorrows and trials which that life is bringing us, now that so many others of our friends are passing them on the blood-stained fields of the South, where bayonets gleam and foes are active,—but also cause us to hope that the time will soon come when that peace of which such fair moonlight nights are typical, shall bless our land, and see all our States reunited as a free and happy people. Would that they might cause each one of us also to do his part towards the attainment of that peace, and nerve each arm for a strong and effective blow towards its achievement.

☞ A man in New Haven procured a certificate of exemption from military service by the following process: Having procured a pair of old boots, he deliberately knocked off the heel of one, and as deliberately walked into the doctor's office.—There was necessarily a peculiar "dist-and-go-one" gait that could not be mistaken. A certificate of "defective limbs" was pocketed and the man departed.

☞ In consequence of the new and strict orders received in New York, Provost Marshal Kennedy has prohibited passengers going out in the California steamers without passports, and the steamer has been detained. All persons found in the streets on Monday, in military uniforms without proper papers were arrested by the police.

☞ There was a great exodus of guns from the Springfield armory on Sunday.—Orders were received on Saturday to hurry up as many as possible. The capacity of the armory will doubtless be put to a greater test than ever before, in supplying the wants of the regiments so rapidly forming.

☞ The Maine and New Hampshire Association of the New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian) Church will hold their annual meeting at the New Jerusalem Temple in Portland, commencing with religious services on Friday next, 15th inst., at 10 o'clock A. M.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
72 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, he now secures Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers relating to Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents of inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Codes of Laws, with Decisions, sent free for one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by if not unequalled by any other agency, by which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that NOT A MORE SUCCESSFUL AGENT THE LATTER OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The success enjoyed by the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Great Britain, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, or employment of agents, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Pensions, Bounty, and Arrears of Pay due to Soldiers in the Present War prosecuted.

Local.

☞ A correspondent suggests that our citizens generally seem to be asleep with regard to the enlistment of our city quotas. No committee is in motion to encourage recruiting—no closing of stores and ringing of bells, or music of bands, to call meetings of all the patriotic citizens, and talk matters over, and work up patriotic feeling. No—and even when the new company of Volunteers left camp for Concord, Monday afternoon,—there was no turn-out of citizens en masse, to bid the gallant fellows farewell and God-speed, and say an encouraging word. Out upon such apathy! awake, ye sleepers! it is time to be up and doing.

☞ The great excitement of Tuesday morning was the departure of the excursion train for the Lakes, &c. Such a rush has not been seen in Portsmouth before for a long while—and without doubt a full thousand tickets could have been sold in this city alone—though the number was limited to about five hundred—the comfortable capacity of the steamer Lady of the Lake;—and another thousand could easily have been disposed of along the road to Manchester. As it was, with all the precautions to exclude non-ticket-holders from the train, quite a number who had no tickets must have crowded aboard; and yet there seemed as many disappointed as successful in obtaining tickets, or seats without them. On Monday evening hundreds of people, our own citizens as well as many who had come from neighboring towns, (some from as great a distance as Newburyport,) were busily enquiring all about the city for "tickets for the excursion;" and when the crowded train started, Tuesday morning, scores if not hundreds present were only reconciled to their disappointment, by Conductor Langley promising them a chance to go on a similar excursion some day next week—which will be on Tuesday, as will be seen by his advertisement. So no great harm was done, except to rout some folks out of bed in pretty good season, who don't usually get up so early in the morning; and those who couldn't "ring in" on this occasion can "wait for the wagon."

The train returned Tuesday evening, about 10 o'clock; the party report a "grand time, though they were pretty tired." In fact, if they did not get tired, they wouldn't think they had had a good time.

Next Tuesday is the day appointed for the departure of the 9th Regiment from Concord; and if the Portsmouth Cornet Band is taken along with the excursion,—as we hear it is designed,—the number of tickets will have to be limited then, too,—especially if the very low price is not increased.

NEWINGTON AWAKE!

At a meeting of the citizens of Newington, held on Monday evening last, concerning the late call for Volunteers by the President of the United States, the following business was transacted. A committee of three was chosen to encourage enlistments, and ascertain who will volunteer.

A vote was passed authorizing the Selectmen to call a legal Town Meeting at the earliest possible day to raise money for a bounty for volunteers.

An informal vote was passed to pay to each Volunteer the sum of Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars, which in addition to the State and Government bounties (if we are rightly informed) will amount to Five Hundred Dollars; of which, Four Hundred and Twenty-five Dollars will be paid when the Volunteers are mustered into the service of the United States.

After a general expression of opinions and feelings, manifesting a desire and willingness to contribute freely towards our Country's rescue, the meeting was adjourned until Monday evening next.

THOMAS G. FURBER, Chairman,
V. M. COLEMAN, Secretary.
Newington, Aug. 12th, 1862.

☞ Our columns from day to day show that the towns in this vicinity are at last awake to their duty to their State and country—and it is a little remarkable that in several cases, prominent gentlemen, who have been suspected of coldness toward the National cause, are the most earnest and eager in their manifestations of patriotism—better late than never.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—This road is doing a heavy business this week. In addition to the regular travel of the line, the beach business is at its height at present—The camp meeting at Hamilton occasions a vast amount of travel to and from Hamilton to all parts of the road. The camp of volunteers at Lynnfield creates considerable travel from the towns east of Salem on the South Reading branch. A regiment is to be transported from Portland to Boston on some day of this week. The entire rolling stock of the road is in constant use, in addition to a large number of cars belonging to the Fitchburg Railroad, borrowed for the present exigency. The workmen have commenced laying the brick upon one side of the new station building in Boston.

☞ "It has been hinted," says the American, "that the real purpose of the fishing party which left Manchester on Monday morning for Portsmouth, is to flee the country, on account of the draft which has been ordered. There is no foundation for the report as they have given their parole of honor that they will return after they have finished their ravages upon the inhabitants of the great deep. It is reported that the great object of the expedition is to qualify the members for the naval service."

It has been hinted in this city, though we can't vouch for the truth of the story, that the dangers, trials, and sufferings of the party did not terminate in their giving their parole of honor to return; for a friend of ours asserts that a dispatch was received in this city, on Monday, stating that the members of the party were really endeavoring to skedaddle; and that they had consequently experienced some difficulty in getting out of the harbor on their fishing excursion.—The story is altogether too good to be published entire.

☞ We are glad to learn that Capt. Hill and Mr. N. J. Coffin have associated together, to recruit Volunteers in Portsmouth and Rye; and were Newington and Greenland added, they could no doubt raise a full Company in a week or less.

Among the most noticeable of our volunteers, is Richard H. Paine. He is a Portland boy by birth, but has lately been engaged in business at Portsmouth, N. H.—A few weeks since he came home to visit his folks, preparatory to removing to Chicago, Ill., and establishing himself in business there. But he heard the call of his native city for more men, and now joins the cry of the times,—

"We are coming, Father Abraham."
—Portland Advertiser.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambac Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

(From the Home Journal.)

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by Jesse A. Crandall. It is not dangerous, like a common rocking horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. This latest of child-novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design, and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It would be in in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to contain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side saddles when required."

Different sizes of these Horses may be seen at the store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in this city.

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLIGENCE and ENERGY as the best. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1845. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some two or three bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with them, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and formed a sore, which I took to be one of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.
CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOW.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
CARR LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 21, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers connected with Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense facilities of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot secure a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 14, 1862.

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!—We are glad to learn that a special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of Portsmouth was held on Tuesday evening, to devise measures to arouse our citizens more fully to the importance of immediate action concerning the enlistment of our quotas for the crushing of the infernal slavery rebellion.

The City Clerk and a Committee of the Aldermen were sent to Concord on Wednesday, to ascertain from the Governor all the particulars concerning enrollment, drafting, enlistment, &c.

Another Committee was appointed to make arrangements for holding public War meetings of the citizens daily, and to procure speakers, music, &c.

It is about time something aroused our people, great and small, high and low, rich and poor; and we regard these as among the most efficient means. Let us all leave business for a little, each day, and "take counsel together;" else, verily, we may have no business to leave, ere long, unless we all "do what we can" for our country.

PATRIOTISM.—THE TRUE POLICY.—The editor of the Manchester Mirror, who chanced to be visiting in Greenland at the time of the enlisting meeting there, thus speaks of the proceedings:

"Charles W. Hatch, Esq., presided. The attendance was quite large, and the results very patriotic. Albert Blaisdell, Esq., for years one of the wheel-horses of the Democracy, and a very heavy tax-payer, (the heaviest but one in Greenland, and heavier than any man in Manchester,) made a motion that the town should pay a bounty of $300 for each recruit for the war, and $150 for nine months' volunteers,—and the motion prevailed. He supported his motion with patriotic remarks, showing himself eloquently in earnest. The motion, coming from that source,—from one who had got to pay largely towards the bounty,—took the people by surprise, and had an electrical effect. Mr. Blaisdell takes a noble view of the matter,—that if the rebellion is not crushed and the Union restored, property is good for nothing, and our children would be left to a beggarly inheritance; and that those who have property and business that they cannot well leave, should "back" to the uttermost the brave fellows who are willing to shoulder their muskets and fight for the dear old flag. Would to God that the rich men of the Granite State, in all its towns, would step forward and do likewise."

True as preaching. Governor Sprague said, in Providence, the other night, that the poor man—the working classes, were more vitally concerned than the rich, in preserving the Union; that the rich man could take care of himself any how and everywhere. But we don't think so—we think the rich have most to lose and most to fear from any rebellion or other outlawry; and that as the protection of a good government is vastly more important to the wealthy, and far more expensive than that of the poorer classes,—so the rich should be even more ready and liberal with their funds, than the masses are with their bone and sinew.

THE MALVERN HILL FAILURE.—It is rumored that Gen. Frank Patterson, of Philadelphia, commanding the New Jersey Brigade, is the General referred to as having so seriously interfered to prevent the consummation of Hooker's plan of capturing a whole Rebel division at Malvern Hill.—It is said that Gen. Patterson at the time was intoxicated, and so acted as to give the rebels timely notice of the approach of our army. He is now under arrest, and the whole matter will come before a General Court-Martial.

☞ The St. Johnsbury Caledonian tells of a farmer in Waterford who compelled his hired man, who had determined to enlist and did enlist, to pay him damages to the amount of $20, for not fulfilling his contract in working the number of months which he agreed to in the spring, but thinks the law will set the exaction aside. Of course it will.

☞ The "crack" sailors of the Navy, to the number of about 500, have been within a few days selected from the different receiving ships in commission at the home ports, and sent on a secret expedition, which is expected to astonish some rebel port. The Winans steamer, it is said, will take part in the affair, which is beginning to excite intense curiosity. All particulars relating to it are, of course, contraband.

☞ Southern advices confirm the death of Col. Seymour, editor of the New Orleans Bulletin, and for several years President of the Associated Press in that city. He was killed in one of the late battles before Richmond.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Gen. Pope states that the rebels have retreated, and his cavalry and artillery are in pursuit across the Rapidan. The prisoners report that the heavy guns used by the rebels in the battle on Saturday, were of recent English manufacture, with English fixed ammunition. Gen. Banks's division has joined Gen. Pope's army. Jackson's flight shows that he fears our troops. A dispatch from Culpepper gives the following brief account of his operations:—

On Saturday he attacked, with his whole force, a portion of the corps of Gen. Banks, but was checked and finally driven from the field of battle. On Sunday he remained idle, the troops on both sides being exhausted. On Monday Jackson sent in a flag of truce asking permission to bury his dead, a large portion of which still lie on the field of battle, pending which he escaped with his trains. On Tuesday morning Jackson's whole army was gone. Gen. Buford with his cavalry and artillery quickened Jackson's pace toward Gordonsville, compelling him to burn the bridges to save himself. The enemy now only show their backs to our forces. The valley of the Shenandoah and the whole country from Manassas to Gordonsville is free from armed rebels. A man claiming to be Jackson's servant reports that his master admits a loss of over 2000 men in the engagement on Saturday.

Owing to the severe injury that Gen. Banks received, the command of the 2d corps has devolved upon Gen. Williams.—Gen. Pope, having concentrated his forces and having been heavily reinforced, is again ready to advance. It is thought the rebels will dispute the passage of the Rapidan.

On Wednesday the Virginia Central Railroad was torn up for several miles, the telegraph wire cut, and water tanks destroyed, by our troops, thus seriously interrupting the rebels' communications. A large quantity of grain, whiskey and other stores, which were awaiting transportation to the rebels at Gordonsville, were also destroyed.

The latest accounts from Harrison's Landing report an immediate move of the whole or a large part of our force. The people may expect to receive intelligence in a few days, of a most important and momentous character. It is asserted that the movement, if carried out as designed, will result in a victory that will erase from the minds of the people all the failures and defeats of the past.

It is said that Gen. McClellan, at the time of the occupation of Malvern Hill, had planned for a great battle, and sent back for the greater part of the army, but the messengers took the wrong road, and were thus delayed so long that the troops did not reach Malvern Hill until it was too late.

Commodore Porter's mortar fleet still remains at anchor in Hampton Roads.

According to the Memphis Bulletin, the Arkansas went up the river on the 6th on a reconnoissance. If this be so the report of her destruction is incorrect. A later dispatch says the Arkansas arrived at Baton Rouge on the 5th, and destroyed twenty of our gunboats, and that our whole force there had been captured by Breckinridge. And still another dispatch says that Breckinridge was attacked and captured at Baton Rouge last Wednesday.

Independence, Mo., was attacked on Monday by 1500 rebels under Cols. Hughes and Quartrell, and after an hour's severe fighting the Federals surrendered. Twenty of our men are reported killed.

Morgan, with a large force of cavalry, on Tuesday, took possession of Gallatin, Tenn., and captured Col. Boone, command ng the post, 300 men and supplies. There was no fight.

On the 5th and 6th instants several engagements took place at Cumberland Gap. According to the telegraphic account the federal forces won a brilliant victory over the rebels, who were four times their number, while our loss was very small.

ANOTHER CANAL.—Commodore Farragut is reported to be making another cut-off at Terraphia Neck. This point is three-fourths of a mile across. The cut-off commences at the head of Island No. 100, and terminates at the head of Island No. 102. It is hoped that the rush of water through this canal will tend to make the current strong enough to wash out the new channel cutting off Vicksburg.

☞ The U. S. Sanitary Commission have sent a letter to the President, urging him to call out a reserve force of 1000 men.

☞ John N. Goodwin, of South Berwick, was nominated at Portland, on Tuesday, for re-election to Congress, by the Republican Convention.

☞ It is stated that on Sunday night a schooner left Newburyport for the Provinces with some sixty persons on board fleeing to escape the draft.

☞ Twenty-seven deaths occurred in New York city and vicinity on Saturday from sun-stroke.

CAPT. McGUNNIGLE'S TRIP

UP WHITE RIVER—[concluded.]

An Episode.—It was about twelve o'clock on the next day that the little fleet passed before that cut-throat robbers' den, and murderous hole Arkansas people call Helena. Capt. McGunnigle called an officer, ordered twenty men—the whole crew desiring to volunteer—to perpare to go on shore, leaving all arms behind excepting their pistols, and a gig was lowered for their use. The pilot said it would take but fifteen minutes for him to produce his wife and child. The boat's crew rounded to the wharfboat and landed. The pilot jumped ashore and in a moment disappeared. The fifteen minutes—half an hour—three quarters of an hour passed, and all the time the Captain was intently watching the shore through his glass, expecting every moment to see the boat shove off to rejoin the steamer. But instead, he noticed a large crowd of people gathering on the levee. After an hour had passed, Capt. McGunnigle could wait no longer. He ordered his uniform, dressed himself in it, girded on his sword, and calling Paymaster Curry to accompany him, got into a second gig and was also taken to Helena.

When Capt. McGunnigle arrived at the wharfboat, and inquired of his men the cause of delay, he was answered that the pilot had not come, but had sent down a little boy with a message saying that he would be along in a few minutes. The captain landed, went up to the boy and asked him pleasantly to go up to the house and tell Mr. Goss to hurry as he was anxious to be on his way. The boy started, but was met by a ruffianly fellow before he had got off the wharfboat who turned him about and cuffed his ears, at the same time telling him to "mind his own business thereafter." Of course the boy did not go on the errand. This little by-play had been witnessed by Capt. McGunnigle, and he immediately proceeded to question the ruffian. He was answered gruffly that Goss' wife did not want to leave, and that he had himself finally concluded to remain. The fact was very apparent to the officer that Goss was about to suffer for his kind offices to the Federal gunboats, and he had not the least doubt but at that moment preparations were being made to hang him. The captain quickly decided upon his course.—Placing himself in a position where he could be heard by the entire crowd, which by this time constituted almost the entire population of Helena, he made a brief but pointed address, the pith of which was that they had detained his man, Goss. He wanted that man, and did not propose leaving that place until he had him. If his wife wanted to remain, let her do so, but Goss must come. He said in conclusion:—

"Gentlemen: I am about to return to my gunboat. I leave you your choice of two things. You can produce me the man, Goss, in fifteen minutes' time, or within one hour remove your women and children from the town. I am a man of few words. I mean what I say!"

A low murmur ran through the assemblage as McGunnigle turned upon his heel, entered the gig and was rowed out to the St. Louis.

In precisely fifteen minutes, Mr. and Mrs. Goss, and their child, were at the wharfboat. They were soon on board the steamer and the journey resumed up the river.—There was no truth whatever in the story that Mrs. Goss had wanted to stay, but there was truth in the idea that a noose was preparing for the neck of Mr. Goss, which was not so easy to wear as he had found the hymeneal halter, years before.

Capt. McGunnigle knew that the residence of the rebel General Hindman was in Helena, and he would have asked no better target upon which to expend a few heavy shell.

The gratitude of guerillas.—As the St. Louis was coming down the White River, returning from the unsuccessful attempt to reach Batesville, the captain, at a certain point, discovered a group of a dozen men standing upon the shore, one of whom waved a white handkerchief, and beckoned him to stop. He accordingly paused and sent a gig on shore to find out what they wanted.

The boat's crew were returning, having taken on board all the persons, when the commander found out they were twelve negroes. He immediately ordered the boat back to the shore and told the contrabands their game was up. He would have none of them. They were accordingly landed and the steamer ordered forward on its way. Hardly had it gained headway, when, in return, perhaps for obeying orders and not stealing off their negroes, the St. Louis was fired upon by half a dozen riflemen, standing not a hundred yards from the spot where his boat's crew had landed. It did not take long for the St. Louis to send a couple of shell into that thicket. What the result was, time can only tell us.

[This "return" is an exact picture of all the returns we shall ever get for our foolish care of rebel property, either in men or any thing else. The officer obeyed his orders, but as Sterne's Uncle Toby said, he did "perfectly right as a soldier, but very wrong as a man."]

Picking up refugees.—When in an unfrequented part of the river, the captain of the St. Louis was hailed by a man in a small skiff, who was accompanied by a lady. The boat hove to and took them on board.—They were refugees, brother and sister, named Chatham, and although evidently well brought up and all unaccustomed to hardships, had passed five days and five nights in that small skiff, hiding away in morasses and bayous during the daytime, and making the little progress they could by night, endeavoring to escape the tyranny of their oppressed and guerilla-ridden State of Arkansas. Capt. McGunnigle gave up his own apartments to the lady, and on Sunday evening landed her and her brother safe in Memphis. They congratulate themselves that they are once more in a civilized country; in a city where the flag of the country waves and is respected.

☞ The War Department says that volunteers for the old regiments will be received until the draft is made, which, it says, cannot be before the first of September.

Local.

☞ The committee appointed by the City Government to make arrangements for a series of meetings to encourage enlistments in this city, at a meeting on Wednesday evening passed the following votes:—

That the first meeting be held at Jefferson Hall on Friday evening,—to be addressed by Lieut. Col. Coughlin and other gentlemen;

That the bells of the several churches be rung for half an hour previous to the meeting;

That the Portsmouth Cornet Band be employed on the occasion; and

That the Store-keepers be earnestly requested to close their places of business at 6 o'clock each evening on which war meetings are held, and to use all their endeavors to procure enlistments.

It is hoped that our citizens generally will exert themselves to advance the object of these meetings; that those having flags will display them, and that there will be evinced everywhere an unalterable determination that old Portsmouth shall now do her duty.

☞ Lieut. Col. Coughlin, of the 10th Regiment, will address the citizens of Portsmouth at Jefferson Hall, on Friday evening, at half past seven o'clock. Other speakers have been invited, and the Committee have received encouragement to hope that Col. Donahoe, of the 10th, will also be present to address the people. The loyal citizens of Portsmouth, without regard to past differences of opinion or place of birth, are most cordially invited to be present. Let there be a rousing meeting, with many present prepared to act as well as to hear.

☞ It will be seen that the second grand excursion to the Lakes will take place on Wednesday of next week; and the managers request us to state that all who wish to go, would do well to procure tickets forthwith, as the number is limited, and all who do not succeed in getting tickets, will be positively refused admission to the cars. There is no doubt that every seat will be filled, but the managers are determined that no more shall go than can be comfortably accommodated. "A word 'to the wise," &c. The fare is so low that of course there will be no spare tickets.—See advertisement.

☞ Capt. Towle's company, from this city, which went to Concord on Monday, accompanied by Knight's Brass Band, were joined on the way by 59 other volunteers from Rochester, and 12 from Great Falls, making 132 recruits and officers in one train. The enthusiasm on the whole route was great, and handkerchiefs were waved and cheers went up at all the stopping places for the brave soldiers, who were willing to peril their lives to save the Union.

☞ Among the recent volunteers from this city is Mr. George G. Kimball, son of Israel Kimball, Esq. He graduated at Bowdoin College last week, returned to his home on Saturday evening, and on Monday went to Salisbury, where he is to drill a company of recruits. More than a third of his college class have enlisted for the war, principally in Maine regiments.

☞ A correspondent, himself we think a lawyer, and Justice of the Peace, writes to us, complaining that such Justices were left off the recent enrollment, and insists that they should have a chance to show themselves men, like other folks. We know that the idea has been somewhat prevalent, that Justices of the Peace "are not liable" to serve their country; but the sober second thought would seem to show that only "Justices ("Judges") of the Courts" proper are meant—and that the army of so called petty Justices are held responsible like any other men, as they should be. The communication is well written, and has the true ring; and we would gladly publish it, but that our columns are crowded—and besides, all these questions will speedily be settled by other if not higher authority than the press.

☞ Messrs. Matthew T. Betton, John H. Folsom and Enoch W. Goss have opened a recruiting office in the old Post Office building, on Daniel street. The Bounty is $275.

THE NEW STAMP CURRENCY.—The Treasury Department has already received orders for the new postage stamp currency to the amount of over one hundred thousand dollars. The new stamps will be ready for delivery in a week or two.

☞ The New Haven Palladium says that $150,000 in silver arrived in that city a few days since, and was deposited in one of the banks. It is the property of a New Haven firm who have done business for many years past in New Orleans.

☞ The Cincinnati Price Current says: The prohibition of the use of specie in the purchase of cotton has stopped a large demand which had arisen for gold, and thrown large amounts on the market which had been brought to buy cotton and sugar.

☞ Two hundred and and six lives were lost in the destruction of the Golden Gate.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester papers of Tuesday state that the Governor has withdrawn the papers issued for recruiting for the 11th Regiment, and that it is settled that the regiment will not be raised, at least until the old regiments have been recruited to their full standard. But we learn that this is a mistake, and that Hon. Walter Harriman, of Manchester, has been appointed Colonel, Capt. Barker, of the 2d Regt, Lieut. Colonel, and Moses N. Collins, Esq., of Exeter, Major. It is understood that the regiment will go into camp at Dover.

—— The Henniker Band furnished the music, and a company from Sutton did escort duty, at the funeral of Lieut. Cyrus E. Jones, of Co. E, 1st Regt. Sharpshooters, in Bradford on Sunday last. Lieut. Jones was wounded in the leg by a rifle ball, in the last of the seven days' fight before Richmond. He was taken prisoner and conveyed to Richmond, but was released. As his wound had not received proper attention, amputation became necessary, which resulted in death. The funeral discourse was preached by Rev. Mr. Heald, and Col. Mason W. Tappan, who knew him well, paid a touching tribute to the memory of the departed.

—— North Gilmanton has voted to give volunteers $100 each, there being only one vote against it. New Market has voted to give its volunteers $200 each. Raymond and Epping have voted to pay the same.

—— John M. Caswell enlisted in Manchester in six days, sixty eight men, and he now has ninety-seven in all.

—— A little girl badly cut and bruised her head in Manchester, on Monday, by falling through an opening in the sidewalk, to the cellar door.

—— The American states that "on Saturday last a gang of secession talkers in Hancock fell upon a Union man and beat him most savagely and cruelly. They were openly proclaiming their hostility to the war, when he reminded them of the new Order, and in turn for this they made the attack. The parties have been reported to the Governor at Concord, and will no doubt be immediately dealt with according to the new programme."

—— At a town meeting held in Rollinsford on Monday, it was voted to pay volunteers from that town a bounty of $150 in in addition to that paid by the State. To this, Samuel Hale, Esq., offered to add ten dollars for every man who enlisted on that day, and five dollars for all who enlisted thereafter. Augustus Rollins, Esq., offered an additional bounty of five dollars to each of the first twenty men who enlisted.

☞ Durham, N. H., has voted to pay $440 bounty for her quota—the largest in the State yet, and one of the most liberal offered anywhere. Glad of it,—let all who can go and are willing to go, be well paid.

The double quota of Epping, which is probably about 52 men, was filled in one day, and we are told that as many more were ready to enlist. Bounty $200.

We hear that Hampton and Seabrook have voted to pay $300 bounty.

PERILOUS EXPERIMENTS.—READ, IF YOU VALUE LIFE.—Our public hospitals need reform. Neither the food nor the treatment of the inmates is what it ought to be. The great object in most of these institutions seems to be to doctor the sick at the least expense. As Capt. Bunsby might say, "if they live, so; if they die, so, also." The worst feature of the whole is, that the patients are used as living subjects for young practitioners to experiment upon. These eleves of the medical schools expect to obtain the knowledge necessary in private practice by testing the powers and properties of medicines upon the helpless wretches placed under their charge. Deny this who will, we know it to be true.

For our own part we are far from placing implicit confidence in the prescriptions of the faculty. As contraire, we have infinitely more faith in the world-pervading remedies of Prof. Holloway than in all the tinctures, decoctions, pills, pastes and cathartics recommended in the professional text-books. Doubtless the egotistic nabobs of some of our medical institutions would designate his Pills and Ointment as empirical preparations. But we say no.—Empirics experiment upon the diseased system; but he does not. He claims the trust and confidence of invalids on sure grounds—an unbroken series of cures, embracing all internal and external complaints, and running through no less a period than the fourth of a century! Can imagination conceive of more conclusive testimony than this? Does not such a voucher, bearing the endorsements of the sick in every clime, and backed by the favorable opinions and friendly decrees of some of the leading governments of Europe, carry more weight with it than a whole stack of diplomas?—Sunday Times.

☞ The following appointments have been made under the internal revenue act:

Maine, 1st District—Collector, Nathaniel J. Miller, of Portland; Assessor, Nath'l G. Marshall, of York.

☞ It is stated that in quite a number of towns in Massachusetts, a bounty will be offered for volunteers for nine months.

U. S. Marines.

Pay ranges from $13 to $17 a month, according to the rank of the soldier.—Each man is furnished with an abundant supply both of food and clothing of excellent quality.—Quarters, fuel and medical attendance free of charge. The pay of each soldier commences as soon as he is enlisted, and he will receive a bounty of One Hundred Dollars in addition to his pay, at the end of his term of service.

Steel Spring Saddle Horse.

(From the Home Journal.)

"Of all the child furniture we have ever seen, no article combines so much of those two important things—health and happiness—as the Adjustable Patent Steel Spring Saddle Horse, invented by James A. Crandall. It is not dangerous, like the common rocking horse, to children's feet, cannot be upset, does not wear carpets, but stands firm on its base, and its action is so like the gallop of a live horse that the child never wearies of it. The latest of child-novelties is exceedingly elegant and artistic in design; and so substantial and durable that it will last a lifetime. It is indispensable in every family where there are children. It should be in every primary school and gymnasium in the country, as it can be made strong enough to sustain grown persons. As a pedestal for photographic pictures, nothing is more beautiful. Every Orphan Asylum and Institution where children are congregated, should be furnished with a number of these beautiful articles. They are fitted with side-saddles when required."

Different sizes of these Horses may be seen at the store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in this city.

NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,

AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds, over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the best. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The most liberal arrangements will be made with the Railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

Rye, N.H., Feb. 25, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors." I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or bottles of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by cathartics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.

CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for this disease.

HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOVD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. F. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY, AUG. 15, 1862. NO. 13.

The Chronicle.

GOTTSCHALK.—Our citizens will remember this delightful pianist. The Portland Courier relates the following rich anecdote of him:

"He was called on by the Montrealers at his concert the other evening, to give them 'Dixie' as soon as he took his seat at the piano. Waiting for a moment with folded arms until the confusion ceased, he turned to the piano and gave them 'Hail Columbia,' 'Star Spangled Banner' and 'Yankee Doodle' as they never heard them played before.

The audience received the rebuke good naturedly, and were generous in their applause throughout the remainder of the evening."

GOOD SPUNK.—On Monday last, a young lady of Newburyport, who had had no previous experience in the art, pulled an oar in a four oared boat carrying nine persons, from the Rocks Bridge, East Haverhill, to Ferry wharf in Newburyport, a distance of about nine miles—a feat which half the young or old "stay-at-home rangers" would shrink from performing.

☞ A town in Maine is known by the name of Harpswell, which has a peculiar beauty and significance, when it is remembered that the town lies on the borders of "the sounding sea." But when you add another word, and speak of Harpswell Neck, it becomes little better than "Bungerunguernuck Landing," not very far distant.

☞ The Cape Cod Republican says the cranberry crop in that vicinity has been much injured by a peculiar blight. One gentleman, who expected to raise one thousand bushels, will not gather more than three hundred bushels.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR.
NOTICE TO THE
Citizens of the State of New Hampshire.

There is to be a MECHANIC & INDUSTRIAL FAIR, for the encouragement of the Mechanic Arts, holden

IN PORTSMOUTH,

To commence on the 15th of September,
AND CONTINUE FIVE DAYS.

The proceeds over and above the expenses, to be expended to aid our volunteers.

There will be competent and impartial Committees chosen to decide on the merits of the various articles on exhibition, and liberal PREMIUMS will be awarded in the various departments.

As this is the first Exhibition of the kind ever held in this State, we are determined it shall be successful. There is no possible reason why New Hampshire may not get up as good a show as any other State. We have as GOOD MATERIAL, INTELLECT and ENERGY as the best. As this is to be a STATE instead of a County Fair, we would like to have EVERY PART OF THE STATE represented by some specimens of the industry and ingenuity of her sons and daughters.

The liberal arrangements will be made with the railroads, for the transportation of articles for exhibition and visitors on the occasion.

N. B.—The best of care will be taken of all Articles sent in.

To the Ladies.

We ask for specimens of Needle Work, such as Embroidery, Worsted Work, Quilts, &c. Also specimens of Weaving, Spinning, Knitting, Crochet Work, Hair Work, Drawings, Paintings, Shell work, Gold and Leather Frames, and all kinds of Fancy Work.

N. B.—All articles should be sent in three or four days previous to the exhibition. All articles must be addressed to HENRY M. CARTER, Corresponding Secretary, Portsmouth, N. H.

For further information apply to the same.

July 19.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Buford, of Gen. Banks' cavalry, reports that he pursued Jackson's army to Robinson's river, taking many prisoners, wounded in Saturday's fight, who were found almost abandoned. He states that the enemy's flight was precipitate and in great confusion. A hard rain on Wednesday aided the rebels, as it put high waters between them and our troops.

The Navy Department has recently received dispatches from Admiral Dupont, at Port Royal. As no mention was made of the rebel iron-clad vessel, the Fingall, the conclusion is drawn that the Admiral is not so much alarmed about the matter as the correspondents seem to be.

Brigadier General Lane took the field in person, on Monday, with 5000 cavalry, against the guerillas in Missouri.

Rebel reports represent Gen. Buell as having Kirby Smith in front and Polk and Bragg in his rear. They also assert that Van Dorn and Breckinridge are concentrating their forces for an attack on New Orleans, and it is intimated that it will not be long delayed. It is also reported that the rebels have completed the Star of the West which was up the Yazoo river, to a ram gunboat, and that she is now at Vicksburg. She is called the Richmond, and is clad with railroad iron, and mounts 22 guns. One of the ocean tugs up the same river is also completed and came out at the same time.
